NOTIFICATION.

The 1st July 1882.—Under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, it is hereby notified that the number of registered candidates for the office of Sub-Deputy Collector still unprovided for considerably exceeds one hundred. It is improbable that new candidates for this department of the public service can expect to obtain appointments within any reasonable time. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks it desirable to give publicity to this fact, as it may save disappointment to many, and may induce some intending candidates to choose for themselves some other career.

2 This monthly provision of 4,450 chests of opium will neither be increased nor diminished until at least twelve calendar months after notice published in the Gazette of India under the signature of a Secretary to the Government of India, or in the Calcutta Gazette under the signature of a Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

3. The division of the monthly provision of 4,150 chests of opium into 2,225 chests of opium manufactured at Patna and 2,225 chests of opium manufactured at Ghazipore, will not be modified until at least six calendar months after notice published in like manner.

4. Provided always that nothing in this notification shall be understood to prevent the Government, or the chief authority to whom the Government may delegate the duty of superintending the sale of Bengal provision opium, from selling two monthly provisions within one calendar month, instead of in the two successive calendar months in which they would otherwise be sold, whenever the occurrence of public holidays or any other circumstance shall appear to the Government to make such modification of the regular course of the monthly sales convenient.

5. Provided also that any chests of opium of which delivery is not taken by the purchasers may be sold in any subsequent month in addition to the 4,450 chests provided for that month.

HIGH COURT NOTICE.

Circular Order Issued by authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL.

Rule No 11, dated the 10*th June* 1882.

Clause (b), Rule 12, Chapter IV, General Rules and Circular Orders (Civil).

[Circular Memorandum No. 4, dated the 14*th February* 1874.]

Blank papers for copies should, as usual, be presented with the application, but it is not necessary in such cases that stamps should be affixed to the blank papers; it will be enough if the adhesive stamp be made over to the officer whose duty it is to cancel stamps, and that officer will, if the request for a copy be allowed, at once affix the stamp to the paper and cancel it by punching; but if it be not allowed, he will return the adhesive stamp to the petitioner, a note to this effect being made in the register, and signed by such officer.

The following is to be substituted for clause (b), Rule 12, Chapter IV, General Rules and Circular Orders (Civil), page 237:—

(b) [Rule No. 11 of 10*th June* 1882].

Every applicant for a copy shall, with his application, present the folio or folios necessary for such copy, and also the court fee stamp required for such copy by the law * for the time being in force. If the application be allowed and the copy made, the proper officer shall, before issuing the copy, punch such court fee stamp in the manner directed by paragraph 4 of the circular order of the Board of Revenue reproduced at page 239 of the General Rules and Circular Orders (Civil). If the application be disallowed, or if, before the copy is made, the applicant intimate that he does not require it, such court-fee stamp may be returned to him, a note of this having been done being made in the register and signed by the proper officer and the applicant.

* See articles 6, 7, 8 and 9 of schedule I of the Court Fees Act, 1870.

2. Circular memorandum No. 4 of 14th February 1874, is cancelled.

Rule No. 12, dated the 13*th June* 1882.

AFTER Rule 9 (f), and before Rule 10, chapter IV, page 235, General Rules and Circular Orders (Civil), insert the following:—

(g) [Rule No. 12 of 13*th June* 1882].—The percentage leviable under Article 6, clause (f), parts II, III, and IV of the above Rules, should be calculated on multiples of Rs. 25. That is, a poundage fee of 8 annas is leviable for every Rs. 25, or part of Rs. 25, realized by the sale, up to Rs. 1,000. For realizations exceeding Rs. 1,000, an additional fee of 4 annas for every Rs. 25, or part thereof, should be levied.

ERRATUM.

IN Rule 2, clause (2) of the Rules "for the qualification, admission, &c., of proper persons to be mukhtars practising in the High Court on its Appellate Side," published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 21st June 1882, Part I, page 539, for Rule 17, read Rule 8.

CUSTOM HOUSE NOTICE.

UNTIL further notice the transhipment of free goods will be allowed without the attendance of a Preventive Officer, and without any charge. It will still, however, be necessary to obtain the permission of the Collector of Customs for transhipment under section 128 of Act VIII of 1878.

2. Unless it is clearly shown by the manifest or other document produced, that the goods to be transhipped are free goods, they will, for the purpose of transhipment, be treated as dutiable goods, and fees charged accordingly.

3. In the case of free goods, as soon as the transhipment is completed, the transhipper should return the pass to the Collector of Customs with an endorsement showing the number of packages transhipped, and the marks and numbers of the packages, if any, short-transhipped.

4. In the case of dutiable goods, the fees for transhipment will be the same as heretofore, with the exception that the extra fee of Rs. 4 per diem for work after the first day will not be charged so long as the regulation working hours from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. are not exceeded.

5. There will be a special form of transhipment pass for free goods, the present form being used for dutiable goods.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read—

Despatch from the Secretary of State for India, No. 288, dated 15th September 1881, in which, with reference to the case of Mr. C. E. S. Steele, a Revenue Deputy Collector in the Sind Commission, who was for some time employed under the Government of the Transvaal, the Secretary of State has decided that Mr. Steele cannot be relieved from the usual deduction of one-fifth of his salary under the Transvaal State as contribution to the Government of India towards pension. In this Despatch the Secretary of State desires the Government of India to consider whether the rate of contribution required to be made by officers lent for service under Foreign Governments is not unnecessarily high, and whether it might not be diminished.

RESOLUTION.—Under the Rules in Chapter III of the Civil Pension Code, an Officer of the British Government transferred to Foreign Service is required to pay to the Government of India a contribution out of the salary which he receives while in Foreign Service to meet the cost of his pension and leave allowances exclusive of allowances while on privilege leave. "Foreign Service" includes service under a Native State, Municipality, Port Trust, Court of Wards, or other body financially independent of the Government of India. It also includes service which is paid for from a Local Fund under such circumstances that it does not qualify for pension and leave under the Rules in the Civil Pension and Leave Codes. The rate of contribution is fixed at 20 per cent of the gross salary which the Officer receives in Foreign Service, the calculation of his pension and leave allowances being made upon 4-5ths of such salary. The contribution is thus equal to 25 per cent. of the net pay upon which the officer's pension and leave allowances are calculated. This rate applies to all Officers, whether Military Officers, Covenanted Civil Servants, or Uncovenanted Officers; but it is specially provided in the case of a Native of India, who is not a Covenanted Civil Servant, that, by resigning all claims to leave allowances from the Government of India in respect of his Foreign Service, he may contribute for pension only.

2. The present rules also provide for the payment of contribution by an Officer whose services are lent for other than Imperial purposes, either in England, or in a British Colony or to a Foreign State; but, except as regards service under the Egyptian Government, the precise amount of contribution in this case is not fixed. The contribution in each case is determined by the Government of India, as occasion arises, the maximum contribution, however, being 20 per cent. of the salary received in such Foreign Service.

3. The contribution of 25 per cent. on net pay referred to above includes about 12½ per cent. on account of pension. The Governor-General in Council has no reason to suppose that the rate of contribution for pension has been fixed at an unduly high figure in the case of Covenanted Civil Servants. The contribution on account of allowances while on leave is, however, unduly high, and consequently the general rate of 25 per cent. on net pay is capable of reduction to some extent in the case of all officers. Statistics recently compiled shew that the average percentage of Officers of the Covenanted Civil Service on leave other than privilege leave is 14·38. In the case of Uncovenanted Officers, the percentage is still less. On this consideration, and also in view of the present arrangements for the extension of local self-government, in connection with which the Government of India is desirous of facilitating in every reasonable way the lending of Officers to Local Bodies without forfeiture of pensionary rights by the Officers, the Governor-General in Council is of opinion that the contribution for pension and leave required to be paid to the Government of India by an Officer of the British Government, who is transferred either to "Foreign Service" as defined in page vii of the "Definitions" preceding the Codes of the Financial Department, or whose services are lent for other than Imperial purposes, either in England, or in a British colony or to a Foreign State, shall in future be made—

(a) if the Officer be a Covenanted Civil Servant,—at the rate of 16⅔ per cent. (one-sixth) on the gross salary which he receives from his foreign employers;

(b) in the case of all other Officers,—at the rate of 14⅔ per cent (one-seventh) on the gross salary which the officer receives from his foreign employers; provided always that the contribution from an Uncovenanted Officer shall in no case exceed Rs. 166⅔ a month.

Where a higher rate of contribution is now paid, the rate shall, for the future, be reduced as above; but it must be understood that in all such cases the gross salary will not be readjusted in such manner as to leave the officer the same net salary which he at present receives.

4. The payment of contributions at the rates now fixed will entitle the Officer to receive from the Government of India, at the proper time, pension and leave allowances (except allowances during privilege leave) in respect of the period of his employment in Foreign Service, &c ; the calculation of pension and leave allowances will be made upon the balance of the salary which remains to the Officer after payment of the prescribed contribution.

5. A native of India, not being a Covenanted Civil Servant, may, by resigning all claims to allowances from the British Government during leave in respect to the period of his employment in Foreign Service, &c , contribute for pension only. In such case the contribution shall be one-eleventh of the salary which he receives from his foreign employers, and shall not exceed Rs 100 a month.

6. These rules are not intended to interfere with the cases of Officers which are specially provided for in section 10 of the Civil Pension Code (a) to (f). Nor does His Excellency in Council think, by reason of the foregoing change in the rate of contribution in the case of Superior Officers, that any change is necessary in respect of inferior servants, whose case is provided for by rule 4 under section 8 of the Civil Pension Code.

ORDERED that this Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India; the several Local Governments; the Comptroller-General, and all Accountants-General.

Letter from Resident, Hyderabad, No. 409, dated 26th October 1881.

Letter from Government, Bombay, No. 3600, dated 29th October 1881.

RESOLUTION.—The question which requires to be dealt with in connection with the papers read above refers to service rendered by an Officer partly under a Municipality and partly under Government at the same time The case of a Government Officer lent to a Municipality who desires to retain his lien on Government service and his right to pension, is already provided for in the Rules in Chapter III of the Civil Pension Code.

2. The Governor-General in Council observes that there are at present no rules under which the service of an Officer who is paid at the same time partly from Municipal funds and partly from Government funds, qualifies for pension and leave. And there is a difficulty in making such rules without change in the law, so as to empower Municipal Boards to pay pensions and leave allowances out of the funds at their disposal.

3. The measures about to be taken in furtherance of the recent policy of Government regarding local self-government, will lead to the necessity of Municipalities availing themselves of the services of Government Officers to a greater extent than is now the case ; but while the existing rules, modified as in Resolution No. 1622 of 10th June 1882, will cover the cases of all Officers whose services are wholly lent to Municipalities, Officers of Government who devote only a part of their time to the performance of municipal duties will be at a disadvantage by reason of their pay in the service of Municipalities not being, under the present rules, taken into account in determining their pension and leave allowances.

4. The Governor-General in Council requests accordingly that where the existing law makes no provision for payment by Municipalities of pensions, gratuities, and leave allowances of officers paid partly from Municipal funds and partly from Government funds at the same time, Local Governments will take early measures with a view to legislation being resorted to for removing any difficulties which may be found to exist. If an officer is paid partly from Municipal funds and partly from the General Revenues, it would seem reasonable that the officer should pay to Government a contribution on the portion of his salary which is drawn from Municipal funds calculated according to the rules in Chapter III of the Civil Pension Code, and in that case Government would be responsible for the whole of his pension and for his allowances while on leave other than privilege leave.

ORDERED that this Resolution be communicated to the Home Department for the issue of necessary instructions to all Local Governments.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 48, dated the 9th February 1882, and the following extract from Resolution in the Home Department, No. $\frac{17}{747-759}$ (Public), dated the 18th May 1882:—

> Paragraph 22.—Another point deserving of notice is the control that should be exercised over the execution of local works. It will not always be possible for a Local Board to entertain a competent Engineer of its own; and in any case where Government buildings and important works of other kinds are made over for maintenance, there must be some effective guarantee for thoroughness of execution. It will probably be most convenient that, while all subordinate establishments are entirely under the control of the Boards, Government should supply the District Engineer and furnish professional supervision, the Boards defraying in such manner as may be determined by the Local Governments with reference to the amount of work done for each Board the payments to be made to Government on this account. Care must, however, be taken that the Boards are left unfettered in the initiation and direction of operations, and that the Engineer is placed in the position of their servant and not of their master. The power of check vested in the District Officer will suffice to remedy any carelessness or improper working on the part of the Boards. If this arrangement is carried out, it will probably be found possible to make over to the charge of the Boards most of the public buildings in the district, and other works of various kinds which would otherwise have to be kept in the hands of the Government Officers. Double establishments will thus be avoided, and public money saved.

RESOLUTION—On a reference from the Chief Commissioner, British Burma, the Governor-General in Council has recently had under consideration the question whether the creation and abolition of appointments under Municipal and Local Fund Boards, and similar Local Bodies, or the modification in any way of the pay of such appointments, are, or should be, subject to the same restrictions of various kinds, including reference to Her Majesty's Government when the pay of the appointment exceeds a certain amount, as appointments the cost of which is charged against the General Revenues.

2. The rules which govern the procedure to be observed in reporting for the sanction of the Home Government, the creation of new offices carrying pay exceeding Rs. 250 a month, and additions to salaries which raise them above Rs. 5,000 a year, are contained in the Despatch of the Secretary of State for India, No. 63 dated the 17th March 1864. But these rules, as they are understood, apply only to charges which fall on what are called "General Revenues" in contradistinction to Local Funds.

3. Provincial Funds form a portion of the General Revenues and are administered by Local Governments just as Imperial Funds are administered by the Government of India: the distinction between them is merely one of account and internal administration; but between Local Funds and General Revenues the distinction is clear, and involves a principle of importance.

4. It is true that the principal Local Funds, both incorporated and excluded (e.g. District Road Cess, Municipal, Port, and Port Trust), are composed in the main of taxes, dues, and fees which do not differ materially in their nature from those taxes, dues, and fees which form a part of the General Revenues; but the essential distinction consists in the special agency and special principles, by, and in accordance with, which Local Funds are administered and in some cases raised.

5. The practice of the Government has been to leave these funds to be administered by Local Bodies, in pursuance of the policy of developing local self-government; only such powers of general control are generally retained as may suffice to authorise interference in cases in which the public interest would otherwise suffer. This policy has been consistently kept in view since Local Bodies were first created. The course of legislation all over the country has accordingly been in the direction of enforcing the responsibility and maintaining the authority of such Bodies. For instance, in some of the Acts relating to the constitution and mode of working of Municipalities, and District Committees, no restriction whatever has been placed by the Legislature on the powers of those Bodies for the creation of new appointments; and in others the powers of general control which have been reserved are not such as would allow of the enforcement of those restrictions which apply to such appointments when the cost of these is payable from the General Revenues.

6 The Local Bodies to whom these powers have been entrusted exercise them, as a rule, with discretion; and there is nothing in the method of their administration in the past which would justify the imposition of any special restrictions. Seeing, therefore, that it is desirable to develop local self-government and that Local Bodies may reasonably be expected to give due weight to the need for economy in the administration of Local Funds, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to rule—

(1st) that Local Bodies to whom the administration of Local or Municipal Funds has been committed shall be competent, subject to the general restrictions imposed by the Legislature or to such special reservations as the Government of India may lay down in any case (e.g. that referred to in paragraph 22 of the Resolution in the Home Department, dated the 18th May 1882), or with reference to any particular class of appointments, to create as well as to abolish, without reference to higher authority, all appointments the pay of which is chargeable to such Local or Municipal funds.

(2nd) that as regards Local Funds administered by Local Governments, and not by Local Bodies, the existing restrictions regarding appointments payable from Imperial or Provincial Revenues shall continue in force in respect of appointments payable from such funds.

ORDERED that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India, the several Local Governments and Administrations, and the several Officers of the Account Department.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India, together with the Resolution in this Department, Nos. 1622 and 1623, dated the 10th instant.

NOTIFICATION No. 263.

The 3rd July 1882.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of the districts of Chittagong, Noakholly, Tipperah, and Chittagong Hill Tracts for the cess year 1880-81, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, are published for general information.

Abstract of a report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Chittagong, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1880-81.

THERE were seven meetings held of the Road Cess Committee. No Branch Committee was at work during the year under report, but from the beginning of the current cess year a Branch Committee in Cox Bazar sub-division has been formed with control over local roads.

The general condition of the roads of the district has undergone a thorough change from the substantial repairs executed during the year, and most of them are now passable.

A sum of Rs. 5,000 was allotted for expenditure on village works, of which Rs. 2,034 were made over to the Cox Bazar Sub-divisional Officer for improving the village communications in that part of the district, but hardly any money was spent in that sub-division, and the remainder, Rs. 3,000, was spent on various local lines of communication in the several thanas.

Two miles of Ramghur road have been planted as an experiment, and the trees are well looked after.

The various establishments under the Committee have worked well.

A. Manson,

Chairman.

Abstract of a report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Noakhally, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1880-81.

The view taken by the people of the road cess is by no means hostile, and the difficulty in the realization of the cess is decreasing yearly.

The non-official native members of the District Road Committee do not appear to have taken any lively interest in their work. The Branch Committee at Fenny sub-division held six meetings, besides several others at which there was no quorum. Out of 15 members four never attended, two only one, and two attended two meetings only.

Scarcely any expenditure was incurred on village roads during the year, and the system of giving grants to villagers to do the work for themselves, instead of employing contractors for village paths, has not worked well.

Tree-planting has been a complete failure during the year under report. A number of jack trees was sown on the road sides, but none came up. Another experiment must be made this season.

The general condition of the roads is tolerable, but the working of the Committee, so far as in improving the district communications, has been an utter failure.

The different establishments under the Committee are reported to have worked well, with the exception of the District Engineer, an overseer, and the store-keeper.

E. F. SANDYS,
Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Tipperah, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1880-81.

THE change of law regarding the realization of cesses has enormously increased the clerical labour in the collection office.

In all, nine meetings of the District Road Cess Committee were held during the year, of which eight were special and one was an ordinary meeting. The attendance of the members of the Road Committee and of the Brahmunberiah Branch Committee was fair, but that of the members of the Chandpur, Muradnagur, and Chowdagram Branch Committees was worse than it was last year.

About 225 miles of village roads and 49 miles of khals or small water-courses have been constructed and improved or maintained by the District Road Cess Committee and the several Branch Committees since their constitution. One thousand and five hundred young trees, chiefly jack and mangoe, have been newly planted out, and 3,358 trees maintained. There are 1,918 trees in the nursery garden established at Commillah, and orders have been given to plant clumps of trees on all roads for which the Committee cannot yet afford avenues.

With the exception of the District Engineer and an overseer, the several establishments under the Committee have worked well and given satisfaction.

GEO. R. CLARKE,
Vice-Chairman,
District Road Cess Committee, Tipperah.

Abstract of a report by the Deputy Commissioner of the Chittagong Hill Tracts on the operations for the cess year 1880 81.

THE Road Cess Act, IX of 1880, has not been introduced into this district. The works are executed with the sanction of the Commissioner under the direction of the Deputy Commissioner and his assistant

If the construction of the several roads included in the general scheme for roads in the hill tracts be sanctioned, the allotment from provincial reserve for road works in this district should be largely increased in place of the small grant of Rs. 10,000 per annum. It has been recommended in the scheme above alluded to that, as the hill-people pay a nominal tax, they should bear the cost of constructing village roads, and that the cost of survey and alignment only be paid from road fund.

At the commencement of the year there were in existence 100 jack and mangoe plants, and another 100 seedlings were planted during the year, of which 142 are thriving luxuriantly, and a great many of them have grown two to six feet high, the rest have withered and died

No special working establishment for road works is entertained in the Hill Tracts, and remarks on their working are therefore unnecessary.

L R FORBES,
Deputy Commissioner.

No. 127GM, dated Chittagong, the 14th March 1882.

From—E E. LOWIS, Esq., Commissioner of the Chittagong Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following annual report on the administration of the district road funds in the districts of the Chittagong Division, for the cess year ending 30th September 1881, and to enclose herein the districts reports and accounts in original, together with a general abstract of the accounts for the whole division.

2 An abstract of particulars regarding the meetings of the district road and branch committees in the Regulation districts of the Chittagong Division during the year under report is also submitted.

3. The provisions of the Road Cess Act have not been in force in the Hill Tracts of Chittagong. There is no committee for the management of the road fund, the administration of which solely rests with the Deputy Commissioner.

4. The committee in Chittagong consisted of five official and ten non-official members, and the average attendance was seven. I was personally present at some meetings, and was glad to find the members taking an active interest in the proceedings

5. There was no branch committee at work in this district during the year, but from the beginning of the current year a branch committee in the Cox's Bazar sub-division has been formed with control over local roads, and a sub-overseer has been placed under them to carry out the work.

6. The committee in Noakholly consisted of five official and 12 non-official members, and the average attendance was 6·5.

7 There is a branch committee in Noakholly consisting of three official and 12 non-official members, the average attendance being six.

8. The committee in Tipperah consisted of eight official and 13 non-official members, and the average attendance was nine.

9. There are four branch committees in the district of Tipperah, viz. Brahmunberriah, Chandpore, Moradnagar and Chowdagram.

10. All the district and branch committees are said to have taken interest in their work, and their attendance on the whole was good.

11. The total receipts of the division during the year under report on account of the district road fund amounted to Rs. 2,57,011-9 4. This, together with the unexpended balance (Rs. 2,45,998 2-3¼) of the preceding year, including the entries under the heads advances and deposits, gave an income of Rs. 5,46,618-6 9¼ available for expenditure during the cess-year under report.

12 Out of the above income Rs 3,38,120-2-11 were actually expended, and the unexpended balance remaining at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 2,08,498-3-10¼.

13. Like the preceding year a comparatively larger amount was spent in Tipperah on account of original works. The sum expended on account of repairs of road in Chittagong was the heaviest.

14. In Chittagong about two miles of Ramghur road have been planted as an experimental measure with trees. The old roads of the district are mostly narrow and crooked, and to plant trees along them, the Magistrate says, is not desirable until they have been realigned and straightened.

15. The planting of trees in the district of Tipperah has met with success. One thousand and five hundred young trees have been newly planted out, and 3,358 trees maintained There are 1,918 trees in the Nursery garden established at Comillah.

16. In Noakholly the planting of trees has been a complete failure. The roads in Noakholly are generally so narrow that trees cannot be conveniently planted on both sides of them. Besides the country being flooded, it is necessary to plant the trees on the embanked road if they are to be planted at all.

Divisional annual account of Income and Expenditure of the District Road Fund of the Chittagong Division for the cess year ending 30th September 1881.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series.—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

PART III.

Act of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

THE following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 15th April 1882, and having received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 9th June 1882, is hereby published for general information :—

ACT No. II OF 1882.

An Act to amend the law relating to Embankments and Water-courses.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for the construction, maintenance, and management of embankments and water-courses in the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal : It is enacted as follows :—

PART I.

Preliminary.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Bengal Embankment Act, 1882."

Local extent.

It extends to the whole of the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, except the Sunderbuns, as defined under the provisions of clause 2, section 13, Regulation III of 1828, and the province of Orissa, save as otherwise expressly provided in Part IX.

Commencement.

And it shall come into force from the day on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

Repeal of former Acts.

2. From such day Bengal Act VI of 1873 (to amend the law relating to embankments and water-courses), with the exception of the sections set out and schedules specified in schedule I to this Act annexed, shall be repealed.

The references in the said sections, which are mentioned in schedule II to this Act annexed, shall be read as if the references were made to the portions of this Act mentioned against such references respectively in the third column of such schedule.

Sections 80 and 81 of this Act shall be applicable respectively to the proclamation and notice mentioned in sections 26 and 28, Bengal Act VI of 1873.

Interpretation.

3. The following words shall, for the purposes of this Act, have the meanings hereby declared, save where, from the context, a contrary intention appears :—

"Collector."

"Collector" means any Revenue Officer in independent charge of a district or portion of a district, or specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act.

"District."

"District" means the local area throughout which a Collector is authorized to exercise his ordinary functions.

"Embankment"

"Embankment" includes every bank, dam, wall and dyke, made or used for excluding water from, or for retaining water upon, any land ;

every sluice, spur, groyne, training wall, or other work annexed to, or portion of, any such embankment ;

every bank, dam, dyke, wall, groyne, or spur, made or erected for the protection of any such embankment or of any land from erosion or overflow by or of rivers, tides, waves, or waters ; and also all buildings intended for purposes of inspection and supervision.

"Estate" means any land or share in land included under one entry on the general register of revenue-paying lands and of revenue-free lands prepared and maintained by the Collector of a district under the Land Registration Act, 1876, or any similar law for the time being in force.

"Estate"

"Land" includes interests in land and benefits arising out of land, and things attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth.

"Land."

"Public embankment" means an embankment maintained by the officers of Government.

"Public embankment."

"Public water-course" means a water-course under the charge of the officers of Government.

"Public water-course"

"Section" means a section of this Act.

"Section."

"Tenure" includes all interests in land which are held permanently at a fixed rental, or which are held rent-free, other than estates as above defined.

"Tenure."

"The Engineer" means the Engineer in charge of the public embankments of the district, or any part thereof, or any Engineer specially appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to perform the functions of an Engineer under this Act in respect of any tract of country or of any works

"The Engineer."

"Water-course" includes a line of drainage, weir, culvert, pipe, or other channel, whether natural or artificial, for the passage of water.

"Water-course"

"Zemindar" means all or any of the holders of an estate; and where two or more zemindars are jointly holders thereof, they shall be jointly and severally liable under this Act.

"Zemindar."

Explanation.—For the purposes of Part VI the Government shall be deemed to be the zemindar—

(a) of every estate of which the zemindari title is not vested elsewhere than in the Government.

(b) of every estate which is let in farm or held khas under the provisions of section 43 of Regulation VIII of 1793, in consequence of the proprietor refusing or omitting to engage for the settlement thereof.

Public embankments, &c., to vest in Government

4. Every public embankment and every public water-course and all land, earth, pathways, gates, bermes, and hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, or standing on, any such embankment or water-course, and every embanked tow-path maintained by Government, shall vest in the Government. The embankments mentioned in schedule D annexed to Bengal Act VI of 1873, and every embankment and water-course which may be included in such schedule under section 43 of this Act, and every embanked tow-path as aforesaid, shall be held on behalf of the Government, and all other public embankments and water-courses shall be held by Government on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankments or water-courses, subject to the provisions of section 87; and all moneys received on account of such lands shall be credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such embankments and water-courses respectively.

Survey of lands hitherto used for obtaining earth for repairs.

5. All plots or parcels of land which, before the commencement of this Act, have been used for the purpose of obtaining earth or other materials for the repair of any public embankment, water-course, or embanked tow-path as aforesaid, or which by agreement have been substituted for such lands, shall be deemed to be at the disposal of the Government for such purpose, without payment of compensation for the use or removal of such earth or other materials.

The Collector may cause all such plots or parcels to be ascertained, surveyed, and demarcated.

Notification

6. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, declare the limits of any tract within which the provisions of clause (b), section 76, shall take effect; and the said provisions shall take effect one month after the publication of such notification.

As soon as possible after the said publication, the Collector shall cause a translation of the notification in the vernacular to be published in the manner prescribed in section 80.

PART II.

Powers of Collector and procedure thereon; Embankment Committees.

Powers of Collector

7. Subject to the provisions of Part III, whenever it shall appear to the Collector that any of the following acts should be done, or works executed, that is to say:

Taking charge of embankment by Government.

(1) That any embankment which connects public embankments, or forms by junction with them part of a line of embankments or that any embankment or water-course which is necessary for the protection or drainage of the neighbouring country, should be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government;

Removal of embankment or obstruction

(2) That any embankment, or any obstruction of any kind, which endangers the stability of a public embankment or the safety of any town or village, or which is likely to cause loss of property by interfering with the general drainage or the flood drainage of any tract of land, should be removed or altered;

Changing line of embankment.

(3) That the line of any public embankment should be changed or lengthened, or that any public embankment should be renewed, or that a new embankment should be constructed instead of any public embankment, or that any embankment should be constructed for the protection of any lands or for the improvement of any water-course, or that a sluice in any public embankment should be made;

Improvement of drainage

(4) That any sluice or water-course should be made, or that any public water course should be altered for the improvement of the public health, or for the protection of any village or cultivable land;

(5) That any road which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land should be altered, or that any water-course under or through such road should be constructed

Alteration of roads and construction of water-courses.

he shall cause to be prepared estimates of the cost of such works, including such proportion of the establishment charges as may be chargeable to the works in accordance with the rules for the time being in force under this Act, or as may be specially ordered by the Lieutenant-Governor, together with such plans and specifications of the same as may be required. He shall also cause to be prepared from the survey map of the district a map showing the boundaries of the lands likely to be affected by the said acts and works, and he shall cause a general notice to be given of his intention to cause such works to be executed.

8. Such general notice shall as far as possible be in the form, and state the particulars mentioned in schedule III to this Act annexed; and to it shall be annexed a list of all estates and villages as far as is known, which are likely to be affected by the proposed work, and to be chargeable in respect of the expenses of executing the same; and a copy of the said estimates, specifications, and plans, together with a copy of the map as aforesaid, shall be deposited in the office of the Collector, and shall be open to the inspection of any persons interested, who shall be allowed to take copies thereof.

Form of notice.

9. Every such general notice shall be published in the manner provided by section 80 not less than thirty days before the day appointed for hearing the persons interested.

Proclamation to be published for thirty days.

10. The Collector shall, on the day appointed for the hearing, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing may be adjourned, hold an enquiry and hear the objections of any persons who may appear, recording such evidence as he may deem necessary.

Hearing of objections to works.

11. After holding such enquiry the Collector shall proceed as follows, that is to say—

Order after enquiry.

(a) If he considers that the proposed act or work, or any modification of the same, should not be done or executed, he shall record his opinion to that effect.

(b) If he considers that the proposed act or work, or any modification of it, should be done or executed, he shall submit a report to the Commissioner of the Division.

12. On receipt of a report submitted under section 11, the Commissioner, after making any further enquiry which he may deem necessary, may record an order refusing to support the proposal made in the report of such Collector for the execution of such work; or may forward the report submitted by such Collector, together with any remarks he may think proper, for the consideration of the Board of Revenue.

Order of Commissioner.

13. On receipt of the report forwarded by the Commissioner, the Board of Revenue, after making any further enquiry which they may deem necessary, may record an order refusing to support the proposal made in the report of such Collector or Commissioner, or may submit such report, together with any remarks which may be thought proper, for the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Order of Board.

14. On receipt of such report from the Board the Lieutenant-Governor shall proceed to consider the same, and may order that the proposed act or the proposed work, or any modification thereof, be done or executed. Every such order shall be notified in the Calcutta Gazette.

Order of Lieutenant-Governor.

15. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Part, the Lieutenant-Governor may, by a special order passed in respect of any act or work specified in section 7, or by a general order in respect of any class of such acts or works, authorize the Collector, after holding such enquiry as is prescribed in section 10, without previous reference to any superior authority, to pass an order that such act or work or any modification thereof may be done or executed; or the Lieutenant-Governor may authorize the Commissioner or the Board of Revenue to pass such order without previous reference to any superior authority:

Special powers which may be conferred by Lieutenant-Governor.

Provided that every order passed under the authorization of the Lieutenant-Governor, given under this section, shall be subject to the provisions of section 85.

16. The Collector may make an order requiring that any railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land be altered, or that any water-course under or through such railroad be constructed.

Alteration of railroads and construction of water-courses.

17. Whenever an order shall have been passed in cases falling under section 7, clause (5,) or under the section last preceding, directing that any road or railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land be altered, or that any water-course be constructed under or through such road or railroad, the Collector may require the person in charge of such road or railroad to make such alteration or construct such water-course, and in the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Collector shall prescribe, the Collector may cause the road or railroad to be altered or the water-course to be constructed by the officers of Government; provided that in the case of a railroad no such work shall be undertaken by the officers of Government without the permission of the Lieutenant-Governor previously obtained.

Procedure of Collector.

The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the person in charge of the said road or railroad, so far as the same shall have been incurred on account of insufficient provision having been made at the time of the construction of the said road or railroad for the natural drainage then existing, and the remainder of the expense, if any, shall be charged upon, and recovered from, the proprietors of the lands benefited in accordance with the provisions of this Act. If any dispute arises as to the apportionment of expenses under this clause between the person in charge of a road or railroad and the proprietors of the lands benefited, the dispute shall be decided by the Lieutenant-Governor, whose decision shall be final.

Expenses of alteration or construction.

Application for new sluices, embankments, or drainage.

18. (a) If any person desires that a sluice be made in any public embankment for the purpose of drainage or irrigation,

(b) or if, within any tract of country which has been included within a notification under section 6, any person desires that any new embankment be erected, that any existing embankment be lengthened, enlarged, repaired, or removed, or that the line of any embankment be altered, or that any new water-course be made, or that any water-course be obstructed or diverted, he may make an application in writing to the Collector. The application shall contain such particulars of the land likely to be affected by the work as may enable the Collector to judge of the advantage which may be derived from the project. If it should appear to the Collector that the work applied for is one which may probably be executed with advantage, the procedure mentioned in the seventh and following sections of this Act shall be followed in respect of the proposed work.

Power to remove houses, &c.

19. Whenever the Collector, after considering any report of the Engineer or otherwise, shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, or that land is required for widening an existing embanked tow-path, or for constructing a new embanked tow-path, he shall make a report to that effect to the Commissioner, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, or of the land required. Such report shall be submitted in the usual manner through the Board of Revenue to the Lieutenant-Governor, in order that proceedings may be taken for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings, or land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Authority to take proceedings where lands likely to be affected by the works are in different districts.

20. If any works proposed to be undertaken in accordance with this Act, or the lands which are likely to be affected by such works, are situated within the limits of different districts, the Collector of any district within which any portion of such works or lands is situated may apply to the Commissioner of the Division for authority to proceed in such matter; and the Commissioner of the Division, with the concurrence of any other Commissioner within whose Division any such lands are situated, may give authority to such Collector, or to any other Collector within whose district any portion of such lands is situated, to carry out all or any proceedings under this Act in respect of all the lands affected by such works

Lieutenant-Governor may appoint Embankment Committee.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor may, if he think fit, appoint an Embankment Committee for any district, and may from time to time appoint and accept the resignation of the members of such Committee, and direct that any person shall cease to be a member thereof.

Consultation of Committee by Collector

22 The Lieutenant Governor may from time to time direct that any such Committee shall be consulted by the Collector in the discharge of any function or the performance of any duty imposed on him by this Act; and by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette may from time to time direct that any such function or duty shall be performed or discharged by such Committee

Business of Committee.

23. The business of every such Committee shall be conducted under such rules as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time make in that behalf.

Reference to Commissioner

24. Whenever, in any matter on which the Lieutenant-Governor has directed that the Collector shall consult the Committee, the Collector may differ from the Committee, he shall, if so required by the Committee, submit the question to the Commissioner of the Division for decision, with copies of any remarks which may have been recorded by the Committee or any members thereof.

PART III.

Procedure in cases of imminent danger to life or property.

Proceedings in emergencies.

25. Whenever the Collector shall be of opinion that the delay in the execution of any work, occasioned by proceedings commenced by a general notice under the seventh and following sections of this Act, would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, he may forthwith cause the execution of such work to be begun in anticipation of the completion of such proceedings: Provided that he shall without delay cause to be prepared the estimates, specifications, and plans of the proposed works, together with a copy of the map as provided in section 7, and shall cause general notice to be given that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and enquiries shall be had as in and by Part II of this Act are directed.

Retoration of embankments, &c.

26. Whenever it may have been determined in the final order to be passed on any such enquiry that anything done by the Collector or by the Engineer under the last preceding section was unnecessary, any person who shall have sustained damage by the execution of such works shall receive compensation from the Government to be assessed according to the provisions contained in Part V of this Act, and on receipt of any application to that effect by the Collector from any such person affected, the land or the embankments or drainage shall, so far as any alteration thereof shall appear to have been unnecessary, be, at the expense of the Government, restored as nearly as possible to the state in which they were when the Collector commenced to act under the provisions of this Part.

Authority to take proceedings where lands in different districts.

27. If any portion of the land likely to be affected by any work to be undertaken under this Part lies within another district, the Collector who causes the work to be executed, shall, when commencing upon it, give notice of the same to the Collector of such other district; and the provisions of section 20 shall be applicable to all proceedings connected with the work and the cost thereof.

PART IV.

Powers of the Engineer.

Engineer subject to control of Collector.

28. The powers conferred on the Engineer under this Act shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Collector.

Power to Engineer to act in urgent cases.

29. In cases in which the Engineer may be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Collector would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, the Engineer may exercise the powers conferred on the Collector by section 25. The Engineer shall forthwith report to the Collector any action taken by him under this section, and shall be guided by any instructions which he may receive from the Collector in respect thereof.

Power to make repairs.

30 The Engineer may make any repairs in, and may do all acts necessary and proper for the maintenance of, any public embankment, public water-course, or any other work executed or taken charge of under the provisions of this Act or of any previous similar Act.

Power to make temporary roadway, water-course, or dam.

31. Whenever any person desires that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary water-course should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public water-course, he shall apply to the Engineer, or to any person who has been appointed in that behalf by the Engineer. Such Engineer or person shall communicate the application with his opinion to the Collector, and shall await the Collector's order in respect thereof, unless he thinks that there is special reason for the immediate execution of the work, in which case he may execute the same without waiting for the orders of the Collector. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making, closing, or removing such water-course or dam. If the amount deposited is found afterwards to exceed the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

Sluices to be opened or shut under authority of the Engineer.

32. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the Engineer or of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

Power to enter and survey land, &c.

33. It shall be lawful for the Engineer, or any person whom he may authorize in that behalf, in order to carry out any of the purposes of this Act, to enter upon, and survey, and take levels of any land;

to dig or bore into the subsoil;

to do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted to the purpose projected by such Engineer, or by the Collector;

Power to mark out line.

to set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon;

to mark such levels, boundaries, and line, by placing marks and cutting trenches;

Power to clear land.

and, where otherwise the survey cannot be completed or the levels taken, to cut down and clear away any part of any standing crop, fence, or jungle:

Previous notice of entry.

Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

Payment for damage.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

Power to take earth from lands.

34. Whenever it is deemed requisite to repair any embankment or water-course, or embanked tow-path maintained by Government, it shall be lawful for the Engineer, or any person authorized in that behalf, to enter in and upon the lands mentioned in section 5, and take possession of, appropriate, and remove any earth or other material therefrom, and use the same for the purposes of such repairs.

Procedure where crops on such lands.

35. The Collector shall proceed in respect of any crops standing on such land as provided in section 13, Bengal Act VI of 1873; and the provisions of that section shall be applicable to claims for the payment of compensation for damage done to such crops.

Acquisition of land made permanently unfit for cultivation.

36. When any such land is rendered permanently unfit for cultivation by any such act as aforesaid, the local Government shall, upon application for that purpose made by the owner thereof, acquire such lands under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, or other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands and compensation.

Acquisition of land.

37. Whenever, in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of sections 12 and 13, Bengal Act VI of 1873, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

Compensation for consequential damage.

38. Subject to the provisions of section 5, whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by any act done or any work executed under the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation:

Provided that the refusal to execute any work for which application is made, and the refusal of permission to execute any work for the execution of which the permission of the Collector or any other authority is required under this Act, shall not be deemed acts on account of which a claim for compensation can be preferred under this section.

Limitation to claim for compensation.

39. No claim under the last preceding section shall be entertained which shall be made later than two years next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

Procedure for determining compensation.

40. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made and the person to whom the same should be payable, as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

41. In any such case which is referred to the Judge and Assessors for the purpose of determining whether any, and, if so, what amount of compensation should be awarded, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time when the act was done or the work executed;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such act or work injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected when the act was done or the work executed;

Fourthly, whether any person has derived, or will derive, benefit from the act or work in respect of which the compensation is claimed, or from any work connected therewith, in which case they shall set off the estimated value of such benefit, if any, against the compensation which would otherwise be decreed to such person.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the act or work being done or executed;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

Embankments in Schedule (D).

42. The provisions of section 47 and the following sections in this Part contained shall not apply to any of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) to Bengal Act VI of 1873 annexed, or which may be hereafter included therein, save so far as any works or repairs are executed therein or in relation thereto under the provisions of section 18 or of section 31; or to any of such embankments as may hereafter be erected for the protection of lands which at the commencement of this Act are protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid schedule, save so far as the erection of such embankments may protect lands not protected by the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid schedule. All sums payable in respect of any works or repairs executed in or in relation to the embankments mentioned in the aforesaid schedule, except under the provisions of section 18 or of section 31, shall be paid by the Government.

Exclusion from Schedule (D).

43. If at any time after the commencement of this Act, on enquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II of this Act, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment mentioned in the said Schedule (D), or any embankment or water-course which may have been included in the said Schedule (D) under the clause next following of this section, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that the same shall be no longer included in the said schedule: Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may restore the same to the said schedule if on any subsequent enquiry similarly conducted it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor that it is necessary so to do.

Addition to Schedule (D)

The Lieutenant-Governor may, at any time after the passing of this Act, by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that any embankment not mentioned in the said Schedule (D), or any water-course, be included therein, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such embankment or water-course.

Contribution of public money towards the maintenance of the embankments in the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) to be continued.

44. In accordance with the custom heretofore in force in respect of the pergunnahs entered in Schedule (E) annexed to Bengal Act VI of 1873, the Government shall continue to contribute annually the sum noted therein for each pergunnah respectively towards the maintenance of the embankments thereof.

If such embankments are declared to be public, Collector to keep a separate account.

45. If the embankments maintained in either the said pergunnahs shall at any time be declared to be public embankments under the provisions of section 7, the Collector shall, from the date of such declaration, keep a separate account for such pergunnahs, in which the aforesaid sum shall be credited at the commencement of each financial year. The unexpended balance at the close of each year shall be carried on to the credit of the account in the next succeeding year, and shall be available for the cost of repairing or erecting all the embankments which it may be deemed necessary to maintain in such pergunnah.

Contribution may be discontinued if it be found unnecessary for the public interest to maintain the embankments.

46. If at any time after the commencement of this Act, on an enquiry made by the Collector as far as possible in accordance with the provisions of Part II, it shall be found that it is unnecessary for the public interests to retain any embankment in either of the said pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that such contribution shall cease in respect of such pergunnah: Provided that such contribution shall again be made in accordance with the provisions hereinbefore contained, if it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the report of an enquiry similarly conducted, that the maintenance of any embankment in such pergunnah has again become necessary for the public interest.

Estimates and specifications to be prepared.

47. Subject to the provisions of Part III of this Act, before the Collector or the Engineer undertakes under the provisions of this Act, the execution of any repairs or of any work other than any new work of which the estimates, specifications, and plans have been prepared and deposited in the Collector's office for public inspection as provided in section 7, specifications and estimates of the expenses to be incurred in respect of the repairs or works, including such proportion of establishment charges as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, shall be prepared by the Engineer.

Preparation of further estimates and specifications.

48. Whenever it appears that the actual expenses to be incurred in respect of any work will exceed by one-tenth any estimate of such work which may have been transmitted to the office of the Collector under the next succeeding section, the Engineer shall forthwith prepare further estimates, and, if necessary, further specifications.

Estimates and specifications to be open to inspection.

49. Copies of all specifications and estimates prepared under the two last preceding sections shall be transmitted to the office of the Collector, together with vernacular translations thereof, or such abstracts thereof as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct, and may be examined by any person interested in such works or repairs.

Notice of receipt of estimates and specifications.

50. A general notice of the receipt of any such specifications and estimates shall be published in the manner prescribed in section 80, and in such general notice shall be specified all estates chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs. Special notices shall also be served in respect of every estate in which the area liable to the assessment of the apportioned charge is likely to exceed one hundred acres; or instead of causing a general notice to be published, the Collector may cause special notices to the same effect to be served in respect of every estate chargeable for, or likely to be affected by, the said works or repairs. Should any objection in regard to such specifications and estimates be preferred by any such person within a period of one month from the date of service of such notice, the Collector shall pass such orders as may appear to him reasonable and proper.

Preparation of accounts and Engineer's certificate of expenses.

51. The accounts of the actual expense incurred in executing any works or repairs, or of any portion of the actual expenses with which the Collector may determine to deal separately under this and the following sections, shall be prepared as soon as possible after the completion thereof. The Engineer shall sign a certificate stating the amount of all such expenses, and specifying the boundaries of the lands which are benefited or affected by the said works or repairs, and stating generally how and to what extent the lands so specified, or any parts of them, are affected Any such certificate may be amended at any time before the Collector has made an order charging or apportioning the amount under section 58. On receipt of such certificate or amended certificate, the Collector shall cause a statement to be prepared of the villages of which any lands are benefited or protected by such works and repairs, and of the estates to which they belong, and, except as otherwise in this Act provided, the zemindars of such estates and villages shall be liable to pay the said amount. Copies of the said accounts, certificates, and statements shall be deposited in the office of the Collector, and may there be examined by any person interested.

Notices and enquiry into objections.

52 General notice of the receipt and deposit of such accounts, certificates, and statements in the office of the Collector shall be given. Special notices thereof shall also be served in respect of every estate in which the area liable to assessment of the apportioned charges exceeds one hundred acres; or instead of causing a general notice to be published, the Collector may cause special notices to the same effect to be served in respect of every estate and tenure on or among the zemindars or tenure-holders of which any sum is charged or apportioned; and if, within one month of such general notice being given, or of such special notice (if any) being served on him, any interested person shall object to the accounts on the ground either that the work charged for has not been performed, or that the whole sum charged has not been expended, or that the rates of charge are higher than those mentioned in the estimates, the Collector shall enquire into such objection, and pass orders thereon.

Total sum payable.

53. The Collector shall add to the amount appearing in the said certificate all sums which have been paid or have become payable in respect of the said works and repairs, whether as compensation, costs, and expenses under, and incidental to, any proceedings taken or directed to be taken under Part II or Part V of this Act, or under sections 26 to 29 of Bengal Act VI of 1873, as cost of making of surveys and plans, as cost of preparing the estimates, accounts, certificates, and statements, as cost of the issuing and service of notices up to date, or on any other account, and shall then make an order specifying the total sum found payable, and in respect of works done under section 17 and section 31 the persons by whom, or in respect of other works, the estates in respect of which, the same is payable to him. If the order is made in respect of work done under section 17 or section 31, the same shall forthwith be served upon the party or parties liable to pay; otherwise the Collector shall proceed under the provisions in the next Chapter contained.

Interest.

Interest may be charged upon any sum paid as compensation from the date of payment thereof at five per centum, or at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time determine.

2. Liability for the costs and apportionment thereof.

Parties liable to pay.

54. The total sum aforesaid, save so far as is otherwise provided in this Act, shall be paid to the Collector by the zemindars of the estates in which are situated the lands benefited or protected by the repairs or works executed:

Proviso in respect of the pergunnahs in Schedule (E).

Provided that the sum standing to the credit of a pergunnah in Schedule (E) to Bengal Act VI of 1873 annexed in the account kept by the Collector, at the time when the total amount payable is fixed under the provisions of section 53, shall be deducted from the total amount payable in respect of such portion of any embankment as is situated in such pergunnah, and that the zemindars of the estates situated in such pergunnah shall be charged only with the balance of the amount (if any) which may remain payable.

Recovery from under-tenants.

55. Every zemindar, who is liable under the last preceding section for the payment of the whole or a portion of such total sum, shall be entitled to recover from the holder of every tenure held immediately under him, and from the holder of any land which is declared under the provisions of section 60 to form part of his estate, the sum apportioned to such tenure or land by the Collector under the provisions of section 59. And similarly, every tenure-holder shall be entitled to recover from the holder of any tenure subordinate to his own, and from the holder of any land declared under section 60 to form part of his tenure, the sum apportioned to such subordinate tenure or land by the Collector, under the said provisions.

Notice to be given before apportionment.

56. So soon as the total sum payable as aforesaid has been ascertained, the Collector shall cause general notice to be given specifying the estates in respect of which any portion of such total sum will be chargeable and special notices to be served in respect of every estate in which the area chargeable exceeds one hundred acres; or instead of causing a general notice to be published, the Collector may cause special notices to the same effect to be served in respect of every estate and tenure on or among the zemindars or tenure-holders of which any sum is charged or apportioned. Such notices shall make it known that an enquiry will be held at a day and place therein named for the purpose of apportioning amongst the zemindars and tenure-holders the said total sum, with interest and the costs of apportionment.

Names of tenure-holders.

57. In any such enquiry the Collector shall take down in writing the names of all persons who may claim, or who may be alleged by any party interested, to be holders of tenures within any of the estates mentioned in such notice. In default of appearance of any such person, the Collector shall issue and serve a notice calling on him to appear at a date and place therein mentioned, and to show cause against being included in the order of apportionment to be made therein, and shall adjourn the enquiry till such date

Apportionment amongst zemindars.

58. At such or any subsequently adjourned enquiry, the Collector, if there be only one estate liable, shall charge the zemindar thereof with the total amount payable; and if there be two or more estates, he shall apportion the same amongst the zemindars thereof, either—

(a) rateably in proportion to the respective benefits derived by such estates from such works or repairs; or

(b) in proportion to the areas of the lands benefited or protected thereby, and comprised within such estates respectively; or

(c) with the sanction of the local Government, in proportion to the amount of revenue payable for such estates respectively:

Provided that the said total amount payable in respect of the embankments on the right bank of the river Gunduk shall be chargeable, in accordance with the custom in force for such estates, to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the district of Sarun, in proportion to the amount of revenue respectively payable for such estates:

Provided also that the total amounts which may have been expended by the Government before the commencement of this Act, and the total amounts which may become payable in accordance with the provisions of this Act, on account of any year in respect of the embankments on the left bank of the river Gunduk in the district of Mozufferpore, shall be chargeable, and shall be deemed always to have been chargeable, in accordance with the custom hitherto in force in respect of such embankments; that is to say, chargeable to the zemindars of all the estates situated in the following pergunnahs, viz. Rati, Gadasand,

Hajipur, Bhatsala, Garjaul, Nae, Saresa, and Balagach, in proportion to the amounts of land revenue payable for such estates respectively, but so that the amount out of any total sum apportioned in respect of each estate in Rati, Gadasand, and Hajipur, shall bear such a proportion to the land revenue payable for such estate as shall be twice as great as the proportion which the amount apportioned in respect of each estate in the remaining pergunnahs shall bear to the land revenue payable for such estate.

Apportionment amongst tenure-holders.

59. The Collector shall, in like manner, except in respect of the said embankments on the right bank and left bank of the river Gunduk, charge or apportion the amount payable in respect of each estate upon or amongst the holders of the tenures therein rateably in the proportion of benefit so received or of area so benefited or protected, first deducting therefrom such sum as, on the like principle of proportion, is payable in respect of such portion of the estate as is not included within any tenure.

Provision as to lands held without payment of rent, not being estates.

60. All lands held without payment of rent not being estates may, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form part of any estate or of any tenure within the local boundaries of which they are included; and if they are not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector in whose district such conterminous estate is situated shall, by an order under his seal and signature, declare.

Amount apportioned payable by instalments.

61. The amount charged to or apportioned on any estate or tenure shall be payable in equal instalments on such days as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct, provided that no instalment shall exceed four annas for every acre of land in respect of which the same is payable, and that not more than four instalments shall be payable in any one year.

Interest.

Interest shall be charged on the unpaid portion of the said amount from the date of apportionment until payment thereof at five per centum or at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time determine.

Apportionment of further expenses.

62. If after the apportionment of the expenses of any works and repairs as above prescribed any expenses not included in such apportionment shall be found to have been paid or to have become payable on account of the said works or repairs, whether as compensation or otherwise, the Collector may proceed to apportion such further expenses in the manner in this Part provided.

Alternative power of apportioning estimated expenditure for a series of years

63. Instead of the procedure prescribed above for charging upon and recovering from zemindars the expenses actually incurred in the repairs and maintenance of public embankments and water-courses and the works connected therewith, the Lieutenant-Governor may, by an order to be published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct that an estimate be made of the expenses to be incurred in respect of such repairs, maintenance, and works during any number of years, not exceeding thirty, which he may think fit; and may by a subsequent order fix the total sum payable during such number of years by the zemindars of the estates benefited by such repairs, maintenance, and works;

Provided that no order fixing such total sum shall be passed by the Lieutenant-Governor until three months after the amount of such estimate shall have been published in the Calcutta Gazette and by a general notice calling on all persons interested to prefer to the Collector any objections they may think proper against such amount being fixed as the total sum. Every such objection shall be submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor for his consideration.

Period included in the last section what to include.

64. The period fixed in any order under the section last preceding may include also years previous to the commencement of this Act, provided that in such case the total sum mentioned in the said section shall be calculated by adding the amounts actually expended before the making of such order, to the estimate of expenses to be incurred during the rest of the period included in such order.

Works in respect of which such estimate may be made.

65. The total sum mentioned in section 63 or in section 64 may be made recoverable in respect of the expenses of repairs and maintenance, and the expenses of works connected with the repairs and maintenance—

(a) of any protective works which may be specified in such orders;

(b) of all the public embankments and water-courses in any district; or

(c) of all the public embankments and water-courses within any tract of country specified in the order of the Lieutenant-Governor; and any such tract may contain the whole or portions of any one or more districts; and no further sum shall be recoverable during such period in respect of the expenses of such repairs, maintenance, and works connected therewith, save so far as any such works or repairs are executed under the provisions of section 18 or of section 31.

But such total sum shall not include the expenses of executing any new works which may be undertaken under the provisions of this Act within any district or tract as aforesaid.

Recovery of cost of new works.

Whenever the Lieutenant-Governor shall declare that any work executed or to be executed within such district or tract is a new work within the meaning of this section, the cost of executing such work and of maintaining the same shall be payable by the zemindars to the Collector under the provisions of this Act, in addition to any total sum fixed under section 63 or section 64 as payable by them.

Mode of apportionment.

66. On publication of any order of the Lieutenant-Governor under section 63, the Collector shall proceed to charge or apportion the said total sum upon or among the zemindars and (except in respect of the embankments on the right and left banks of the river Gunduk as provided in section 58) among the tenure-holders who are liable to pay the same, as above provided.

Payment of sum apportioned.

67. The sum so apportioned in respect of any estate or tenure on account of any such period as is mentioned in section 63 shall be payable in equal portions in each of the years included in such period, and each such portion if unpaid shall carry interest at five per centum, or at such rate, not exceeding five per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time determine, from the end of the year in which it is payable.

Final order of apportionment.

68. On the completion of any charge or apportionment under this Act, the Collector shall make an order specifying the estates and tenures in respect of which any sum charged or apportioned is payable, and the sums payable in respect of each of the instalments of such sums, and the dates on which such sums are payable.

3.—Recovery thereof.

Publication of final order of apportionment.

69. As soon as may be after any final order of apportionment is made as provided in the section last preceding, the Collector shall cause copy of such order to be published with a general notice, stating that the amounts apportioned on the zemindars in respect of estates are payable to the Collector, and the amounts apportioned on the tenure-holders in respect of tenures are payable to the zemindars or superior tenure-holders. Instead of causing a general notice to be published, the Collector may cause special notices to the same effect to be served in respect of every estate and tenure on or among the zemindars or tenure-holders of which any sum is charged or apportioned.

Recovery of sums apportioned.

70. If any such sum payable to the Collector, or any instalment thereof, be not, pursuant to the said order, paid, the same with interest may be recovered as arrears of a demand under the provisions of the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, or any similar Act for the time being in force.

Effect of opening separate account under Act XI of 1859 or Act VII of 1876.

71. When a recorded sharer of a joint revenue paying estate has opened a separate account under Act XI of 1859, or under section 70 of Bengal Act VII of 1876, or any similar law for the time being in force for the regulation of the opening and maintaining of such separate accounts, he shall be entitled, in regard to the payment and realization of all sums due under this Act, to all the advantages of separate liability enjoyed by him under the said Act XI of 1859, and Bengal Act VII of 1876 respectively, in regard to the payment and realization of revenue, and shall be entitled to separate assessment and to the issue of a separate notice in every case in which special notice is by this Act required to be served, from the date on which such advantages shall take effect in respect of the demand of Government revenue.

Similar privileges shall attach to every recorded holder of a revenue-free estate who has opened a separate account under section 46 of Bengal Act IX of 1880 in respect of the amount of cesses payable by him.

Liability of estate for sum apportioned.

72. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 70, any such sum shall be a first charge on the estate in respect of which it is apportioned, and shall be deemed to be a demand debited to the estate in the public accounts of the district within the meaning of section 31 of Act XI of 1859, and such charge shall not be avoided by any sale, nor shall the joint liability of the entire estate for such sum be affected by any partition of the said estate which may subsequently take place.

Amount apportioned may be raised by leasing or mortgaging estate.

73. If the Collector thinks it inexpedient to proceed for the recovery of such sum or any part thereof under the provisions of section 70, or having so proceeded shall have failed to realize the sum due, he may, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, raise the amount necessary to discharge the sum or instalment remaining unpaid—

(a) by mortgaging the whole or any part of such estate;

(b) by letting in farm or managing by himself or another the whole or any part of such estate;

(c) partly by one of such modes and partly by another or others of them.

For the purposes of this section the Collector may exercise all the powers of the owner of such estate, and his signature shall be a good and sufficient signature to any document necessary to carry into effect the said purposes.

Recovery by zemindars and tenure-holders.

74. Every zemindar or tenure-holder to whom any sum or instalment thereof is payable under an order made in pursuance of section 68 may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of putnee tenures by the provisions of clauses 2 and 3 of section 8, sections 9, 10, 14, 15, and clauses 1, 2, and 3 of section 17 of Regulation VIII of 1819, as amended by Bengal Act VIII of 1865, or by the provisions of any similar Act for the time being in force; provided that the right or interest of any person holding from the defaulter shall not be affected by any sale held under these provisions.

PART VII.

Penalties.

Penalty for obstructing persons in exercise of powers conferred by Act.

75. Whoever wilfully obstructs any person duly authorized under this Act in removing or levelling any embankment, house, hut, or other building, or in the lawful exercise of any of the powers in this Act conferred, shall, in case such obstruction shall not amount to an offence within the provisions of the Indian Penal Code, be liable to imprisonment of either description for any period not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the Magistrate, or to fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for unauthorized interference with embankments or drainage.

76. (a) Every person who, in any of the territories to which this Act extends, without the previous permission of the Collector, shall erect, or cause or wilfully permit to be erected, any new embankment, or shall add to any existing embankment, or shall obstruct or divert, or cause or wilfully permit to be obstructed or diverted, any water-course, if such act is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede any public embankment or any public water-course;

Penalty for unauthorized interference with embankments or drainage in prohibited tract.

(b) every person who, within the limits of the tract included in any prohibitory notification under section 6, without the previous permission of the Collector, shall erect, or cause or wilfully permit to be erected, any new embankment, or shall add to any existing embankment, or shall obstruct or divert, or cause or wilfully permit to be obstructed or diverted, any water-course; and Penalty for abetment of such acts.

(c) every person who shall abet any such act as is mentioned in clauses (a) and (b), shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or in default of payment to imprisonment of either description for a period not exceeding six months.

Penalties for injuring embankments, &c.

77. No person shall, without due authority, cut through, or attempt to cut through, any public embankment, or destroy, or attempt to destroy, any such embankment, or open or shut, or obstruct any sluice in any such embankment, or any public water-course; and every person who shall commit any breach of the provisions of this section shall, in case the act shall not amount to mischief within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding one month, or to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalties for diverting rivers or permitting cattle to graze on embankments, &c.

78. Every person who shall make any dam or other obstruction for the purpose of diverting or opposing the current of a river or water-course wherein or whereon there are public embankments, without the permission of the officer in immediate charge of the embankments, or shall refuse or neglect to remove any such dam or obstruction so made by him when required to remove it by the Engineer, or without the permission of the Engineer previously obtained shall cut or otherwise alter the banks of any embanked river or water-course, or remove the earth from any public embankment, or drive stakes into it, or by any other wilful act destroy or diminish the efficiency of such embankment; and every person who without such permission shall cause or knowingly and wilfully permit any cattle to graze upon any such embankment, or tether, or cause or wilfully permit any cattle to be tethered upon any such embankment, or root up any grass or other vegetation growing on any such embankment, shall be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Obstructions to be removed and damage repaired.

79. Whenever any person is convicted of an offence under either of the three last preceding sections, the convicting Magistrate may order that he shall remove the embankment or obstruction, or repair the damage, in respect of which the conviction is held, within a period to be fixed in such order. If such person neglects or refuses to obey such order within the fixed period, the Engineer may remove such embankment or obstruction or repair such damage, and the cost of such removal or repair shall be levied from such person in addition to any other penalty in the manner provided in section 307 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

PART VIII.

Miscellaneous.

Mode of publishing proclamations and issuing notices.

80. Every proclamation and general notice by this Act required to be issued or given shall be published by affixing a copy of the same in the office of every Collector, Sub-Divisional Officer, and Munsif within whose jurisdiction, and at every police-station within the limits of which, any lands affected by such proclamation or notice are known by the Collector to be situated; and by affixing copies of the same in conspicuous positions in such hâts, bazars, towns, villages, or other public places as the Collector may direct; and also by giving notice by beat of drum at such public places that such copies have been affixed and that one copy of the papers containing the information which is the subject of such proclamation or general notice is open to inspection by all concerned at the office of the Collector.

Service of special notices.

81. Every special notice or order by this Act required to be served shall be served,

(1) by delivering a copy of the same to the person to whom it is directed, or, on failure of such service, by posting a copy on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person resides, or by delivering a copy to any agent authorized to appear generally for the person to whom such notice or order is directed; or

(2) by sending a registered letter containing a copy of such notice or order directed to the said person at his usual place of abode, or at the place where he may be known to reside; or

(3) by posting a copy of the notice or order at the mal-cutcherry of the estate, village, or tenure to which the same relates; or if no such mal-cutcherry be found, on some conspicuous place on the said estate, village or tenure; or

(4) if the person on whom the notice or order is to be served is a zemindar, by delivering a copy thereof to the agent who shall have paid an instalment of revenue next before or who may pay the instalment next after the preparation of such notice or order, on behalf of such zemindar.

In all cases where two or more persons are holders of an estate or tenure, service under the last two clauses shall be deemed to be good and sufficient service on each and all of such persons.

Powers of Collector and Commissioner on enquiry and appeal.

82. In any enquiry or appeal held under this Act, the Collector and the Commissioner shall respectively have the same powers as those conferred on Courts by the Code of Civil Procedure of summoning and examining witnesses and compelling the production of documents.

No proceedings to be impeached for mistake or want of form.

83. No proceedings under this Act shall be impeached or affected by reason of any mistake in the name of any person thereby rendered liable to pay any sum of money, or in the description of any estate or tenure or land in respect of which he is rendered liable to pay; provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall for want of form be quashed or set aside in any Court of Justice.

Appeal from orders.

84. Every order passed by the Collector in respect of applications under section 18, and every order passed under sections 11, 50, 52, or 68, shall be appealable to the Commissioner of the Division, and every such order of the Commissioner, except when otherwise directed by this Act, shall be appealable to the Board of Revenue, but no appeal shall lie under this section against any order unless the same be presented within one month from the date of the order.

General control of Commissioner and Government.

85. All the powers of a Collector under this Act shall be exercised under the general control and orders of the Commissioner of the Division, and all the powers of Collectors and Commissioners shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Board of Revenue and of the Government.

Every order passed by any of the said authorities shall be subject at any time to be varied or set aside by the controlling authority.

Orders to be final.

86. Subject to the provisions of the two sections last preceding, every order passed by the Collector in respect of applications under section 18 and every order passed under sections 11, 50, 52, or 68, and every order passed by a controlling authority in respect of such order of a Collector, shall be final, and not liable to be modified or altered otherwise than as expressly provided in this Act.

Disposal of lands no longer required for embankments.

87. Whenever the maintenance of any public embankment, or the retention of any land appropriated to the purposes thereof, may no longer be required, and the permanent relinquishment of the same may be deemed expedient, such land shall be restored by the Collector to the estate or tenure from which such land was originally taken on repayment of the compensation, if any, which was paid for such land when the same was taken for the purpose of the embankment. If persons who are entitled to the restoration of any land under this section, or any of them, refuse or neglect to pay such price within a reasonable time after demand, the same shall be sold by the Collector as a revenue-free holding for such price as he can obtain for the same. All sums obtained for lands conveyed under the provisions of this section shall, after the payment of all expenses incurred on account of the same, be applied to the payment of the cost of any new embankment or drainage works, or of the expenses of maintaining any embankment or drainage works affecting the said lands and other adjacent lands, in reduction of the amount chargeable upon the zemindars and tenure-holders of the lands benefited, as hereinbefore provided, if any amount be so chargeable.

Collector may delegate any of his powers to a Deputy Collector.

88. A Collector may delegate any of his powers under this Act to a Deputy Collector, but from any order passed by a Deputy Collector to whom powers have been so delegated, an appeal shall lie to the Collector if presented within thirty days of the date of the order.

Every such delegation of powers shall be reported to the Commissioner of the Division.

Jurisdiction.

89. All offences created by this Act shall be enquired into and tried by a Magistrate of the first or second class.

Power to make, alter, and cancel rules.

90. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time make rules consistent with the provisions of this Act to regulate the following matters:—

(a) the proceedings of any officer who, under any provision of this Act, is required or empowered to take action in any matter;

(b) the business of Embankment Committees;

(c) the cases in which, the officers to whom, and the conditions subject to which, orders and decisions given under any provision of this Act, and not expressly provided for as regards appeal, shall be appealable;

(d) the person by whom, the time, place, or manner at or in which, anything for the doing of which provision is made in this Act, shall be done;

(e) the amount of any charge made under this Act; and (f) generally to carry out the provisions of this Act.

The Lieutenant Governor may from time to time alter or cancel any rules so made.

Publication of rules.

Such rules, alterations, and cancelment shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law:

Provided that no rules shall be made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the powers conferred on him by this section until a draft of the same shall have been published in the Calcutta Gazette for one month, after which time the Lieutenant-Governor may pass such rules as originally published, or with such alterations, additions, and omissions as he may think fit.

Saving of operation of certain Acts.

91. Nothing in this Act shall apply to any embankment, land, or water-course which is under the operation of any of the following Acts:—

The Bengal Drainage Act, 1880.

The Bengal Irrigation Act, 1876.

Bengal Act V of 1864. (An act to amend and consolidate the law relating to the collection of Tolls on Canals and other lines of navigation, and for the construction and improvement of lines of navigation, within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.)

PART IX.

Special provisions for the Province of Orissa.

Powers conferred on Superintendent of Embankments in Orissa

92. The powers conferred on the Collector by section 25 may, in the Province of Orissa, be exercised by the Superintendent of Embankments with the consent of the Collector previously obtained, and the references in the said section to other parts of this Act shall be deemed to be references to the corresponding portions respectively of Act XXXII of 1855 (An Act relating to Embankments). The consequences mentioned in section 26 shall attach to everything done by the Superintendent of Embankments under the provisions of this section.

Power to Engineer to act in urgent cases.

93. In cases in which the Engineer in charge of any Embankment may be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Superintendent of Embankments and the Collector would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, the Engineer may exercise the powers conferred on the said Superintendent with the consent of the Collector in pursuance of the last preceding section. The Engineer shall forthwith report to the said Superintendent any action taken by him under this section, and shall be guided by any instructions which he may receive from him in respect thereof.

Sections made applicable to Orissa.

94. Sections 4, 5, 6, 34 and 76 shall extend to the Province of Orissa, the words "Superintendent of Embankments" being substituted for the word "Collector" in clauses (a) and (b) of section 76.

SCHEDULE.

SCHEDULE I.—(Referred to in section 2.)

(Portions of Bengal Act VI of 1873 which are not repealed.)

Power to take possession of land.

12. Whenever any land or earth from any land the property of any person, is required for the purposes of any works commenced in pursuance of the provisions of the last preceding section, or for the purposes of section 18 in cases where the Collector shall be of opinion that proceedings for the acquisition of such land according to the provisions hereinafter contained in section 25, would cause delay as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act, giving notice thereof at convenient places in the locality in which such land is situated, and he may at the same time take possession of the same for the said purposes.

Compensation for standing crops and trees.

13. The Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of the crops and trees (if any) standing on such land, and shall offer adequate compensation to the persons interested. If such offer is not accepted the value of such crops and trees shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions of section 29:

21 (Proviso).—Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

When land taken, proclamation to be published.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all encumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

Contents of proclamation.

27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of issuing the proclamation), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

Further notice to be served on certain parties.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

Proceedings after notice

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

A Bill to Amend the Indian Railway Act, 1879

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Railway Act, 1879, in manner hereinafter appearing;

Preamble.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title Commencement.

1. This Act may be called "The Indian Railway Act, 1882;" and it shall come into force at once.

New sections substituted for section 5 of Act IV of 1879

2. For section five of the said Act the following sections shall be substituted, namely:—

Railway when to be opened

"5. No Railway, or portion or extension of, or addition to, a Railway, shall be opened for the public conveyance of passengers until the Railway Administration has given to the Governor-General in Council notice in writing of the intention of opening the same, and until the Governor-General in Council has by an order in writing sanctioned the opening of the same.

"No such sanction shall be given until an officer, appointed by the Governor-General in Council to inspect such Railway, portion, extension or addition, has, after inspection thereof, reported in writing to the Governor-General in Council that in his opinion the opening of the same would not be attended with danger to the public using the same.

"Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Governor-General in Council may, in any particular case, by a special order in writing, confer on any officer so appointed power to sanction the opening of such Railway, portion, extension or addition, if in such officer's opinion the opening of the same will not be attended with danger to the public using the same.

"In such case it shall not be necessary to make the report required by the second paragraph of this section.

Governor General in Council may cause a Railway to be inspected at any time.

"5A. The Governor-General in Council may at any time cause any Railway which has been opened for the public conveyance of passengers, or any portion thereof, to be inspected by an officer appointed by him to make such inspection.

Powers of inspecting officer.

"5B. Every officer so appointed shall, for the purpose of such inspection, and subject to the control of the Governor-General in Council, have the following powers, namely:—

"(a) he may enter on and inspect the Railway or portion thereof which he has been appointed to inspect;

"(b) he may by summons under his hand require the attendance of any Railway servant whom he thinks fit to call before him and examine for the said purpose, and may require such servant to answer, or furnish returns regarding such inquiries for the said purpose as he thinks fit to make;

"(c) he may require and enforce the production of all books, papers, and documents belonging to or in the possession of any Railway Administration which in his opinion are necessary for the said purpose.

Governor-General in Council empowered to close Railway

"5C. Whenever any officer so appointed to inspect any Railway or portion thereof reports in writing to the Governor-General in Council that in his opinion the use of such Railway or portion will be attended with danger to the public using the same, the Governor-General in Council may, by an order in writing, direct such Railway or portion thereof to be closed for the public conveyance of passengers

Re opening of Railway.

"5D. No Railway or portion thereof which has been closed under section 5C shall be re-opened for the public conveyance of passengers unless and until such Railway or portion has been inspected, and the opening thereof sanctioned, in accordance with the provisions of section five."

Amendment of, and addition to, section 8.

2. In section eight of the said Act, in clause (d), the word "and" shall be omitted, and after clause (d) the following clause shall be, and be deemed to have always been, inserted :—

"(dd) for regulating the conduct of the Railway servants, and."

New section to be substituted for section 21 of Act IV of 1879.

3. For section twenty-one of the said Act the following section shall be substituted :—

"21. Any Railway Administration opening, in contravention of section five, any Railway, or any portion or extension of, or addition to, a Railway, or re-opening in contravention of section 5D any Railway or portion thereof, or keeping any Railway or portion thereof open in contravention of an order of the Governor-General in Council under section 5C, shall forfeit to Government the sum of one thousand rupees for every day during which the same remains open in contravention of such section or of such order of the Governor-General in Council, as the case may be."

Penalty for opening or re-opening Railway in contravention of sections 5 and 5D, and keeping open after order under section 5C.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to make one or two amendments of the Indian Railway Act, 1879, which the experience of the last three years has shewn to be desirable.

Section 5 of the Act, as it stands at present, does not shew as clearly as it should that the sanction of the Governor-General in Council is necessary before any railway or portion or extension of, or addition to, a railway is opened for the public conveyance of passengers. To remedy this defect, the section has been recast by the Bill, which makes it clear that the Government Inspector has of himself authority only to inspect and report on the line for the orders of the Governor-General in Council. In order, however, to prevent inconvenience in special cases, an addition has been made to the section enabling the Governor-General in Council to delegate to the inspecting officer in special cases the powers of sanctioning the opening of a railway conferred on the Governor-General in Council by the section.

The Act does not now empower the Governor-General in Council to inspect a line after it has once been opened for the public conveyance of passengers. At present, the absence of such a power is not of much importance, as the Government has full right under its contracts with the various Railway Companies to make what inspections it likes; but, if private enterprise hereafter starts railways independent of Government, it may be seriously inconvenient to be unable to inspect such lines and ascertain whether they are being maintained in a safe and efficient state. Certain provisions have, therefore, been inserted after section 5 of the Act which empower Government to cause a line to be inspected by an officer to be appointed for the purpose, define his powers for the purpose of such inspection, authorize the Government to close any line reported not to be in a safe state for the public conveyance of passengers, and provide for the re-opening of such line only after its opening has been declared to be possible without danger to the public. An addition has also been made to section 21 imposing a penalty on any Railway Administration which does not close a railway in compliance with an order by Government to that effect, or re-opens a railway which has been closed without the sanction of Government.

Lastly, the Act, as it stands at present, does not empower Railway Administrations to impose fines by their bye-laws on their servants who may be guilty of breach of duty. This power is essential for the enforcement and maintenance of discipline on railways, and the Bill (here following the English Companies Clauses Act, 1845, sections 124, 125) confers the requisite authority.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR 1881.

POLICE.

Dated Darjeeling, the 23rd June 1882.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1881.

Read also—

The Annual Reports of the Chief Presidency Magistrate and the Presidency Magistrate of the Northern Division on the criminal administration of their Courts for the year 1881.

Read again—

The Reports for 1880 and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

There was an increase during the past year of 5,111 in the number of cases reported as compared with the previous year. Of this number, 4,085 represented the increase in the Town, and 1,026 that in the Suburbs. The number of cognizable and non-cognizable cases reported in the Town and Suburbs during the past five years is shown in the following statement:—

		1877.	1878.	1879.	1880.	1881.
Cognizable ...	Penal Code ..	6,260	6,192	5,537	4,644	4,476
	Miscellaneous ...	13,266	18,074	13,112	14,330	15,602
Non-cognizable ...	Penal Code ...	6,759	8,233	7,843	7,688	8,886
	Total ...	44,586	45,807	41,633	42,161	47,272

The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that the decrease under the head of cognizable offences under the Penal Code, which comprises cases of murder, burglary, house-trespass and theft, though not so marked as in the previous year, has still been maintained. Under the other heads there was an increase in the number of cases reported of offences under the Stamp Act, the Shipping Act, the Port Act, and the Workmen's Contract Act, and in the number of cases of street offences, criminal force, and of nuisance and conservancy cases. The number of persons arrested or summoned during the year was 47,119 as compared with 41,522, and of these 38,713 or 82·16 per cent. were convicted, as compared with 32,746 or 78·86 in the preceding year. The number of persons convicted of cognizable and non-cognizable offences under the Penal Code rose from 9,739 in 1880 to 10,518 in 1881; while the number convicted of miscellaneous cognizable and non-cognizable offences increased from 23,007 in 1880 to 28,195 during the past year. There was a slight increase in the number of cases of serious offences against the person in the Town during 1881 as compared with 1880, the number being 201 against 198: the number of persons convicted was, however, proportionately greater, 160 or 58·6 per cent. being convicted in 1881 as against 132 or 57·39 in the preceding year. The proportion of cases detected was 62·68 per cent. as compared with 57·7 in 1880. In the Suburbs the number of serious cases against the person rose from 52 in 1880 to 69 in 1881, 50 persons being convicted against 45 in the preceding year. There were 119 cases of serious offences against person and property reported in the Town against 116 in 1880. Of these, 66 or 55·46 were detected as compared with 56 or 48·27 in the preceding year. In the Suburbs the number of cases of this nature reported, decreased from 77 in 1880 to 47 in 1881, and of the latter only 32 were detected as compared with 51 in the previous year. In the Town, under the heading of minor offences against the person, there were 278 cases with 220 convictions, as compared with 213 cases and 201 convictions in 1880; of minor offences against property there were 2,080 cases with 1,159 convictions against 2,113 cases with 1,352 convictions in 1880. In the Suburbs the number of cases of minor offences against the person increased from 120 to 130, while the number of cases of minor offences against property was only 630 as compared with 838 in 1880. The following statement shows the number of cases reported during the past two years and the number of cases found to be false:—

		Town.	Suburbs.	Percentage of false crime to true crime.
1880	Cases reported	34,817	7,344	1·8
	False cases	695	68
1881	Cases reported	38,902	8,370	1·12
	False cases	519	13

In the number of false cases shown for the Town for the year 1880, are included the cases of persons who were detained by the Police on suspicion of carrying stolen property, but who were subsequently ascertained to have acquired it honestly. Cases of this nature have properly been excluded from the returns for 1881. Had they been again included the number of false cases in the Town would have been 756 instead of 519. Prosecutions were instituted in 90 cases in the Town. The fact that out of the 87 cases in which convictions were obtained, in only 4 were the convicted persons sentenced to imprisonment, shows that the false charges were generally of a petty description. In one instance a native constable was convicted of fabricating a false case of theft against a coolie, and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment. The very marked decrease in the number of false cases in the Suburbs, the number being only 13 during the past year as compared with 156 in 1877, 87 in 1878, 57 in 1879, and 68 in 1880, requires some explanation. It seems most probable that the decrease was in a great measure due to some variation in the manner in which the cases were treated during the past year. The improvement in the percentage of stolen property recovered during the year in the Suburbs apparently results from the fact that property worth Rs. 4,500 was stolen in one case, and that the whole amount was recovered; the recovery being effected, as noticed by the Commissioner, without any special efforts on the part of the Police. There was a slight falling off in the percentage of the recoveries in the Town: the total result was, however, better than during the previous year. The following statement shows the amount stolen and recovered during the past two years :—

			Value of property stolen.	Value of property recovered.	Percentage of property recovered.
			Rs.	Rs.
1880	Town		1 12,212	70,867	63·15
	Suburbs	...	22,284	12,982	58 25
	Total	...	1,34,496	83,849	62·33
1881	Town	...	1,26,045	78 800	62 51
	Suburbs	..	11,582	8,654	74·71
	Total	..	1,37,627	87,454	63 54

The percentage of the property recovered in any single year cannot, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, be taken as a fair test of the efficiency of the Police in dealing with offences against property; and Mr. Rivers Thompson does not attach much weight to the comparison instituted by Mr. Harrison between the percentage of property recovered by the London Metropolitan Police in the year 1880 and the percentage recovered in Calcutta and the Suburbs in 1881.

2. Cognizable Crime in the Town.—The number of true cognizable cases reported in the Town was greater than in the two preceding years, the number having risen from 14,511 in 1879 and 15,399 in 1880 to 16,910 during the past year. There was an increase of 4 cases of robbery, of 9 of house-trespass for the purpose of causing hurt, of 10 of rioting, of 40 cases under the excise laws, of 206 cases under the Stamp Act, of 436 cases under the Port Act, and of 1,752 street offences. The large increase of arrests under the last head was due, it is stated, to the employment of 30 additional native officers for the purpose of patrolling the streets in the Town during the day. There was a decrease of 9 in the number of offences relating to coin and stamps, and of 4 in the number of murders and attempts to commit murder; the number of cases of grievous hurt decreased by 6, administering stupefying drugs by 3, house-breaking by 9, thefts by 42, and cases under the Contagious Diseases Act by 1,151. The number of cases under the latter Act amounted in 1880 to 3,053, while during 1881 the number was only 1,902. The falling off was the result of a judicial decision during the year of the illegality of police arrests of unregistered prostitutes without a warrant. Towards the close of the year the area in which the Act was in force was much reduced, and the effect will certainly be to diminish still further the number of cases under the Act. In the only two cases of murder that occurred during the year, the murderers were apprehended, convicted, and executed. There were two attempts at murder as compared with three in 1880. In one case a convict, who was undergoing a sentence of seven years' imprisonment in the Presidency Jail, attempted to murder the Superintendent of the Printing Department, Mr. Ross, by attacking him with an iron bar. The convict was tried for the offence, and was convicted and sentenced to transportation for life. There was only one case of administering stupefying drugs, and one case of robbery with hurt by poisonous drugs In the latter case the victim, a Hindu widow, was drugged and robbed of Rs. 7,925. It was subsequently ascertained that her adopted son had with others entered into a conspiracy to commit the offence, and he, his father-in-law, and two accomplices were tried and convicted. There were three cases of highway robbery. In one of these the offence was committed on the maidan by three European vagabonds; they were arrested, one was made Queen's evidence, and the other two were convicted. The cases of burglary and lurking house-trespass were slightly in excess of those which occurred in 1880, but considerably less than in 1879, the number of true cases in 1879 being 136 as compared with 114 in 1880 and 113 in 1881. There was a decrease in the number of true cases of house-breaking, only 90 cases having occurred as against 99 in the preceding year. It is satisfactory that while the number of cases decreased there was an improvement in detection, 50 cases being detected in 1881 as against 43 in 1880, and 66·96 per cent. of the property stolen being recovered as compared with 44·7 in 1880 : the average percentage recovered during the four years preceding 1880 was 54 86. Of the houses broken into, 44 were constructed of masonry, the others being mud or mat huts. Of the 90 offences, 67 were committed during the night and 23 during the day. The number of true cases of theft was less than in any of the four preceding years; the number decreased from 2,231 in 1878, 1,979 in 1879, and 1,635 in 1880, to 1,593 in 1881: 842 or 52·85 per cent. of the cases were detected as compared with an average of 51·97 in the four preceding years. It is stated that in 251 cases the property stolen exceeded Rs. 50 in value, while in 1,339 cases the value was less than Rs. 50. The total is less by three than the total number of thefts committed, owing apparently to the exclusion of three cases of cattle-theft. The number of persons convicted of gambling was 334 as against 477 in the preceding year, the number of cases being 129 and 124 in 1881 and 1880 respectively. It is stated that sentences of imprisonment, without the option of a fine, have diminished the offence of house-gambling. Out of 675 persons stopped in the streets on suspicion of carrying stolen property, the property was restored to the persons with whom it was found in 237 cases only. Of the remaining 438 cases the owners were discovered in 225, and prosecutions for theft were instituted, and in the other 213 cases the possession was not satisfactorily accounted for, but the owners either refused to prosecute or nothing could be proved. Of 5,792 persons placed on their trial for street offences, 5,721 were convicted as compared with 3,550 tried and 3,483 convicted during 1880. Mr. Harrison reports that "it was found necessary to stimulate the Police to greater activity in conservancy mattters and in preventing obstruction of traffic." The results appear to have been satisfactory, as a number of offenders were brought to trial for street offences, of whom a large percentage were convicted. The number of persons prosecuted for cruelty to animals was 4,248 as against 3,899 in 1880, the number convicted being 4,186 and 3,842 in the two years respectively. Prosecutions, a number of which resulted in convictions, were instituted by the agents to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and by the Police against milkmen for subjecting cows to an operation known as "phuka," which, by the injection of salt into the animals, is supposed to procure a larger supply of milk. The operation, though it may have the desired effect, causes great pain to the animals, and affects injuriously the quality of the milk,

3. Cognizable Crime in the Suburbs.—There has been a gradual decrease of cognizable crime in the Suburbs during the last three years, the number of true cases having fallen from 3,227 in 1879 and 2,812 in 1880 to 2,636 in 1881. There was an increase of 17 in the number of serious offences against the person, and of 10 in the number of minor offences against the person; while of serious offences against person and property there was a decrease of 30, and of minor offences against property a decrease of 208 cases. There was also a decrease of 28 in the number of offences under special and local laws. There were three cases of murder; in one the accused was executed; in the second the murderer having killed his wife, set fire to his house and then committed suicide by drowning himself in a tank; in the third case—that of the murder of a prostitute in poor circumstances—suspicion fell on some boatmen, but no clue was ever obtained. There was one case of dacoity; one of the party, a well-known dacoit, was subsequently arrested, and was sentenced to seven years' rigorous imprisonment. A satisfactory feature in connection with cognizable crime in the Suburbs was the decrease in the number of cases of burglary and house-trespass. The number of true cases under these heads fell from 146 in 1877, 110 in 1878, 109 in 1879, and 88 in 1880, to 47 during the past year. Only 16 cases were, however, detected against 41 in 1880; but this is explained by the fact that in 21 cases only was property actually stolen. Out of the 45 houses broken into, only 14 were constructed of masonry. The value of the property stolen was Rs. 5,400, and of this Rs. 4,712 was recovered.

4. The number of non-cognizable crimes reported in the Town was 21,473 as compared with 18,720 in 1880. The largest increase was under the heads of minor offences against the person (415), public nuisance (1,158), and Local Acts (1,062). In the Suburbs the number of non-cognizable offences reported was 5,721 as against 4,464 in 1880. There was an increase of 1,663 under the head of Local Acts, while there was a decrease of 249 in the number of minor offences against the person.

5. There were 49 cases of suicide as compared with 67 in 1880: of these, 36 took place in the Town, 11 in the Suburbs, and 2 on the river. In 24 cases the persons hanged, and in 4 drowned themselves, 2 cut their throats, 11 killed themselves by taking opium, and 8 by taking arsenic or other poison. Of the 49 persons who committed suicide, 24 were men and 25 women: 3 of the men were Europeans, and 18 men and 21 women Hindus. There were 232 accidental deaths during the year as compared with 214 in 1880: of these, 103 occurred in the Town, 77 in the Suburbs, and 52 in the Port of Calcutta. The number of accidental deaths caused by snake-bite was 12, while 92 deaths were caused by drowning, 46 by falls from trees or buildings, 17 by carriages and horses, and the other 65 resulted from various causes not stated. During 1881, 13 Europeans were drowned in the river, as compared with 14 in 1880 and 19 in 1879; 12 of the men drowned were seamen, only one of them was intoxicated. A steam-launch, 18 cargo-boats and 4 passenger boats are reported to have sunk during the year in consequence of having come into collision with the Hooghly bridge. Five lives were lost. Of 17 fatal accidents in the streets and 325 cases in which persons were injured, 4 fatal accidents and 32 injuries were caused by tram-cars. The number of inquests held during the year was 167 as compared with 183 in 1880 and 198 in 1879.

6. The value of the property destroyed by fire during the year was considerable, the approximate value being estimated at Rs. 8,77,216. The loss was almost entirely due to two most destructive fires, one of which took place on the river and the other in the Suburbs. In the former case a ship, laden with jute, saltpetre, tea, indigo, and other goods, caught fire, and though the fire was extinguished in 40 minutes, the loss caused amounted to Rs. 4,05,507. In the other case the fire, which occurred in the Chitpore Hydraulic Press, broke out on the 13th and was not entirely extinguished till the 25th of December. A large brick-house used as a press-house and a smaller one which contained machinery were burned down. The machinery was injured and 10,000 bales of jute were consumed. The value of the property destroyed was estimated approximately at 4½ lakhs of rupees.

7. Arms Act (XI of 1878).—The following statement shews the amount of arms and ammunition imported through the Port of Calcutta during the past seven years:—

Years.	Sporting rifles.	Double and single barrel sporting guns.	Pistols and revolvers.	Gun-powder.	Shot.	Percussion caps.
	No.	No.	No.	lb.	Bags.	No.
1875	441	1,778	482	107,435	15,771	19,097,000
1876	280	1,536	283	93,300	15,290	21,203,000
1877	186	716	438	84,560	18,894	28,586,700
1878	174	365	306	80,000	11,024	11,234,000
1879	23	69	341	88,050	10,946	10,660,500
1880	116	135	356	43,200	20,040	14,881,000
1881	60	180	252	81,694	12,876	19,320,600

The number of fire-arms imported shews a great decrease since 1875 The Commissioner of Police reports that the trade consider that a very serious hardship is entailed on them by the rule under which persons importing weapons for sale are required to make a deposit at the Custom House of Rs. 50 on each weapon. His own opinion is that, from a Police point of view, the condition might, without risk, be withdrawn. The deposit, less the duty of 10 per cent. ad valorem, is refunded on the production of a certificate shewing that the weapon, on account of which the deposit was made, was sold to a person entitled or licensed to possess arms, and the fact that this certificate must be produced before a refund can be obtained acts to some extent as a check on the sale of weapons to persons not entitled or licensed to possess them. A proposal made by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, that importers should deposit with the Collector a fixed amount in Government securities, has lately been submitted for the consideration of the Government of India. Under the system proposed the importing firm would pay only the 10 per cent. ad valorem duty, the difference between this amount and the amount leviable as duty under Schedule II of the Arms Act would be debited to them, and on the production of the required certificate the amount demandable as a refund would be entered to their credit. The account would be balanced every month, or more frequently if necessary, and if the amount due by the firm exceeded the value of the Government securities deposited, the firm would pay the difference in cash. This proposal, if approved, would not cause any considerable loss to importers, as they would draw interest on the amount of the Government securities held in deposit. The trade between Calcutta and the North-Western Provinces in ammunition shewed a considerable improvement in 1880 as compared with the trade in 1879. During the past year the trade in ammunition with those Provinces continued in almost the same condition as during the previous year, while the trade in arms improved: there was, however, very little trade with the Bengal frontier districts, or with the other districts in Lower Bengal. The Commissioner remarks that in Calcutta the trade in arms has sunk to very insignificant proportions. During the past year only two persons were prosecuted in the town and fined for petty offences under the Arms Act, while in the suburbs the number prosecuted and fined was nine.

8. During the year 16 persons were declared vagrants. Including one vagrant remaining in the work-house from the preceding year, the number in that institution was 30. Of these, employment was provided for 12, and 15 were released, as no employment could, it is stated, be found for them within a reasonable time; one absconded, one was transferred to a lunatic asylum, and there were 12 remaining in the work-house at the close of the year. In addition to these vagrants, eight persons were deported under the Act during the year, six being deported to London, and two to Australia. The total cost of working the European Vagrancy Act in Calcutta was Rs 3,647-8. Of this amount, Rs. 1,711-8 was expended on the work-house for the maintenance of vagrants and the cost of establishment; Rs 85 on the purchase of clothing supplied to men with a view to helping them to obtain employment, and Rs. 1,851 in meeting the charges for deporting vagrants.

9. The total cost of the Police in the Town of Calcutta, including the salary of the Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner of Police, was Rs. 4,34,441. Of this amount, Rs. 2,89,533 was paid by the Municipality and Rs. 1,44,908 by Government. From this latter amount is to be deducted Rs 49,093, the amount by which Government was recouped by fees and fines, the actual net sum paid by Government being Rs. 95,815. The cost of the Police in the Suburbs was Rs. 1,51,560. Of this amount the Municipality contributed Rs. 71,360 and Government Rs. 80,200, the net cost to Government, deducting Rs 8,840 received on account of fees and fines, being Rs. 71,360. The cost of the River Police was Rs. 29,934, of which Rs 22,450-8 was paid by the Port Commissioners and Rs. 7,483-8 by Government.

10. In the Resolution on the Report for the year 1880, the Lieutenant-Governor remarked on the small number of Bengalis who enlist in the Police Force in the Town and Suburbs, notwithstanding the increase made in 1879 in the pay of the constables. The Report for the past year shows that as regards constables there was, during 1881, a falling off in the number of Bengalis enlisted. In 1880 the number of these men was 118 in the Town Force and 85 in that of the Suburbs; while in 1881 the number fell to 96 and 73 respectively. The decrease is only partially accounted for by the fact stated in the Report that 15 of the men serving during 1880 as constables were promoted to a higher grade. The district of Furreedpore still appears to be the most favourable recruiting ground, and up to a certain point there does not appear to be any valid objection to enlisting men solely from that district. There has been an increase in the number of Bengali officers employed in the force, the number having increased from 54 in the Town and 25 in the Suburbs in 1880 to 64 in the Town and 30 in the Suburbs during the past year. Mr. Harrison considers that, "looking to the large number of up-country criminals in Calcutta, it would appear that the due proportion of Bengali officers has now been nearly reached." The number of men belonging to the force who were judicially punished during the year was 23. Of these, 17 were imprisoned, 5 were fined, and 1 was whipped. Only one of these men was above the rank of a native constable. The number of native constables punished for various offences was as follows: 6 for theft, 5 for preferring false complaints,

4 for causing hurt; 3 for rioting, 2 for desertion, 1 for receiving stolen property, and 1 for wrongful restraint. The total number of men of all ranks dismissed was 86 as against 71 in 1880. In this number were included 3 native officers and 12 European constables. The number reduced to a lower grade was 4 inspectors, 5 European sergeants, 21 European constables, 38 native officers, and 30 native constables. Fines were inflicted as a departmental punishment on 8 European constables, 21 native officers, and 93 native constables; while 764 native constables were departmentally punished by extra drill.

11. Courts of the Presidency Magistrates.—There was an increase in the number of cognizable cases tried in the Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, the number being 8,195, as compared with 6,655 in 1880. Of these, 7,296, as compared with 6,024 in 1880, were instituted by the Police, and 899 as against 631 were taken up by the Magistrates direct. The number of persons convicted was 9,877 as compared with 7,611 convicted in 1880 The number of cognizable cases which came before the Magistrate of the Northern Division was 5,999. Of these, 5,299 were instituted by the Police and 700 were taken up direct, the corresponding numbers in 1880 being 4,833 and 552 respectively. The number of persons convicted was 8,315 as compared with 7,862 convicted in 1880. The number of non-cognizable cases instituted during the year in the Court of the Chief Magistrate was 3,283 as compared with 2,656 in 1880; while those instituted in the Court of the Magistrate of the Northern Division amounted to 3,270 as against 2,769 in the preceding year. The number of persons convicted in non-cognizable cases in the Southern Division was 3,621 and in the Northern Division 3,092. Against the sentences passed by the two Presidency Magistrates, there were 13 appeals presented to the High Court. In 12 cases the appeals were rejected or dismissed, and in one only was the order set aside. The Chief Magistrate reports that the work done by the Honorary Magistrates was most satisfactory, that they took a great interest in their work, and rendered most material assistance to the stipendiary Magistrates in disposing of the cases which came before the Courts for trial The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in acknowledging the assistance received from the Honorary Magistrates of the Town and Suburbs, who, at some personal sacrifice of time and leisure, have performed the duties entrusted to them in a satisfactory manner. That the assistance rendered by these gentlemen was most substantial is evident from the fact that during the year the Honorary Magistrates in the Town of Calcutta alone disposed of 14,150 cases under the Municipal Act, 287 cases of criminal force, and 238 cases of theft, besides 281 cases of other sorts. Independent benches sat regularly three times a week during the year, and on the other three days of each week one Justice sat for the trial of municipal cases.

12. During the year under review the Government has had to deplore the loss of Mr. W. M Souttar. By his early death the Government has been deprived of an officer whose ability, zeal, and devotion to duty in every department in which he had served gave promise of a future career of usefulness and distinction. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to Mr. Harrison for the efficient discharge of the duties of Commissioner of Police during the past year. Mr. Lambert, as Deputy Commissioner, was in immediate charge of the Police Force during almost the whole of the year. He was, towards its close, promoted to another appointment. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to take the present opportunity of recording the high opinion which he and his predecessor have held of the valuable services rendered by Mr. Lambert in the Department. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction the testimony borne by Mr Lambert to the good services rendered by Superintendents Percy, Lamb, Linehan, Blong, Hill, Kalinath Bose, and Hogg. Most of these officers were favourably mentioned in the Report for the preceding year, and Mr. Rivers Thompson is glad to observe that they have maintained their reputation. The favourable notice taken of certain of the Inspectors is also noted.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REVIEW OF THE TRANSACTIONS OF THE FINE FUND ON BENGAL PROVINCIAL RAILWAYS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31st MARCH 1882.

Resolution No. 2363R—A, dated 8th August 1881.

OBSERVATIONS.—Reports from the Managers of all State Railways in this Province on the transactions of the fine fund for the year 1881-82 have been received. The results show a total of Rs. 2,811 at the credit of the fund on the 31st March 1882, or Rs. 4,240 less than on the corresponding date of the previous year.

2. On the Northern Bengal State Railway the fund opened with a credit balance of Rs. 4,148, which was increased by Rs. 1,601, of which Rs. 1,407 were for fines realized, and Rs. 194 on account of interest on the assets of the fund deposited in the Provident Institution during the previous year, making a total of Rs. 5,749. From this amount Rs. 7-8 were subsequently remitted, and Rs. 4,445 were expended for the benefit of the employés and their families.

3. On the Tirhoot State Railway the amount at credit of the fund at the commencement of the year was Rs. 1,238, to which were added Rs. 348 fines realized, and Rs. 25 on account of interest of assets, bringing up the total assets to Rs. 1,611. Of the fines inflicted Rs. 7-6 were subsequently remitted, and Rs. 1,031 spent for the benefit of the servants of the Railway.

4. On the Patna and Gya State Railway the fines realized during the year were Rs 200, and the interest allowed amounted to Rs. 15, which brought the assets of the fine fund to Rs. 766. The disbursements were Rs. 254, of which Rs. 4 were on account of fines realized, leaving a balance of Rs. 512 at the credit of the fund on the 31st March 1882.

5. The fund on the Calcutta and South-Eastern State Railway opened with a credit of Rs 555, which was supplemented during the year by Rs. 65. The disbursements were Rs. 319, leaving a balance of Rs. 301 on the 31st March 1882.

6. On the Nalhati State Railway the fund opened with a credit of Rs. 558, which was supplemented during the year by Rs. 49, of which Rs. 33 were by fines realized, and Rs. 16 by interest from the Provident Institution. The disbursements amounted to Rs. 292, leaving a balance of Rs. 316 at the credit of the fund at the end of the year under review.

RESOLUTION.—It is satisfactory to observe that the amounts realized from fines are gradually decreasing, the receipts during the year 1881-82 being less on all lines than during the previous year. Of the total disbursements, grants have been made to different schools of the Railway Department and for the supply of books, and Rs. 3,000 were, under the orders of this Government, given as a donation to the European Hospital now under construction at Darjeeling. It is intended further to utilize the assets of the fund in sending up sick members to the hospital.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, and to the Managers of Bengal Provincial Railways, for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

No. 1087E of 22nd April 1882, from Manager, Calcutta and South-Eastern State and Nalhati State Railways.

No. 23—O of 26th April 1882, from Locomotive Superintendent, Bengal State Railways.

No. 315E of 8th May 1882, from Manager, Northern Bengal State Railway.

OBSERVATIONS.—In 1880 and 1881 the Government of India, Public Works Department, invited the attention of the several Railway authorities to the importance of employing natives as engine-drivers and shunters to a greater extent than had previously been done. From the reports which have been received, it appears that the following progress has been made on the Railways under the orders of the Government of Bengal.

Northern Bengal State Railway.—Comparing the years 1880 to 1882, the following are the numbers of native drivers, shunters, and assistant shunters employed—

	1880.	1881.	1882.
Drivers		3	5
Shunters	3	1	7
Assistant shunters	4	7	1

Thus the number of men so employed has increased from 7 in 1880 to 13 in 1882, the rates paid being, for shunters Rs. 17 to Rs. 22, for drivers Rs. 22 to Rs. 38. Natives are engaged as firemen, and inducements are held out to them to attend the night-school, and when they have had sufficient experience in firing, they are promoted to assistant shunters, shunters, and drivers, provided they pass an examination in reading and writing, in the rules of the service, and in the technical management of an engine. A night-school has been opened at Saidpur, the head-quarters of the Locomotive Superintendent of the Railway, but the attendance is not so satisfactory as it should be, and efforts are being made to improve it.

Tirhoot and Patna-Gya State Railways.—There are four native shunters on these Railways—the same number as in 1881. Their pay averages from Rs. 20 to Rs. 22; no proper system has been adopted for training them, but they are selected from the oldest and best firemen, and after they have proved themselves fit, they are employed as shunters. There are no native drivers on these lines.

Calcutta and South-Eastern and Nalhati State Railways—All the drivers on these lines are natives, and there are now eight so employed. They are at first tried as firemen, and when they have had sufficient experience in firing are promoted to shunters and afterwards to drivers, provided they can pass an examination in reading and writing and in the technical management of an engine.

RESOLUTION.—Although the scheme for the employment of natives as drivers and shunters has not yet fully attained the usefulness and economy to which it is capable of being extended, it is satisfactory to note that good progress has been made on the Northern Bengal, Calcutta and South-Eastern and Nalhati State Railways—a result due to the personal exertions of the Locomotive Superintendent, Mr. Rendell.

On the Tirhoot and Patna-Gya State Railways, notwithstanding the importance of the question and the recommendations which have more than once been made to the Assistant Locomotive Superintendent, there has been no progress whatever, nor has any system for the training of natives yet been introduced.

Experience has shown that, while native drivers and shunters can be employed at far less pay than Europeans, they have been proved to be regular in their attendance, to give little trouble, and, provided they are efficiently supervised, to be as careful in the performance of their duties as most Europeans with similar length of service on the foot-plate. It is therefore desirable, except on mail or fast passenger trains, where special intelligence, judgment, physical power, stamina, and presence of mind are required, that for the sake of economy they should be employed to the fullest extent.

Every effort should therefore be made to induce natives of a fairly good social standing to join the Locomotive Department of the State Railways in this province, with a view to their eventually becoming drivers; and as none should be chosen who cannot read and write, an incentive should be given by granting higher pay to those who are proficient in that respect. Night-schools should also be started wherever practicable, and they will receive the cordial support of Government.

ORDER—Ordered that copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, for information; also to the Managers of the Northern Bengal, Tirhoot and Patna and Gya, and the Calcutta and South-Eastern and Nalhati State Railways for information and guidance.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

FOUNDATION OF A SCHOLARSHIP AT THE DACCA COLLEGE BY KUMAR RAJENDRA NARAYAN RAI CHAUDHURI.

No. 328, dated Calcutta, the 3rd July 1882.

From—C. S. BAYLEY, Esq., Offg. Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department,

To—The Director of Public Instruction.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your memorandum No. 3755, dated the 9th instant, with enclosure, regarding the offer made by Kumar Rajendra Narayan Rai Chaudhuri of Bhowal, of the Dacca district, to invest the sum of Rs. 6,000 in Government securities in order to found a permanent scholarship tenable for one year at the Dacca College by the student of that institution who at the B. A. Examination stands highest among those pupils who desire to read for the M. A. degree.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in accepting this offer, and desires that an expression of his cordial thanks may be conveyed to Kumar Rajendra Narayan Rai Chaudhuri for his liberality. The scholarship, as desired by the Kumar, will be designated the "Rajah Kali Narayan Scholarship," in memory of the father of the founder. The money assigned for the scholarship should be invested in the joint names of the Accountant-General and the Financial Secretary to this Government.

3. The correspondence on the subject will be published in the next issue of the Calcutta Gazette.

No. 2881, dated Calcutta, the 2nd May 1882.

Memo. by A. CROFT, Esq., M.A., Director of Public Instruction.

COPY of the following forwarded to the Secretary, Government of Bengal, General Department, with the recommendation that the offer made by Kumar Rajendra Narayan Rai Chaudhuri of Bhowal may be accepted, and the thanks of Government conveyed to him for this act of public spirit, the correspondence being published in the Calcutta Gazette.

No. 196, dated Dacca, the 25th April 1882.

From—J. V. S. POPE, Esq., M.A., Principal, Dacca College,

To—The Director of Public Instruction.

I HAVE the honour to forward to you, with a request that you will recommend it to the Government for acceptance, an offer from Kumar Rajendra Narayan Rai Chaudhuri of Bhowal, of Rs. 6,000, to be invested as a permanent endowment for a scholarship, to be given in the Dacca College to a graduate who wishes to read for the M. A. degree. The fund will be placed, like the Donelly and Lewis Prize Funds, under the control of the Principal, Dacca College.

The Kumar wishes the scholarship to be called "The Rajah Kali Narayan Rai Scholarship," after his late father.

In forwarding this offer to you, I would point out that the Kumar is a son of the late Rajah Kali Narayan Rai, a zemindar of East Bengal, well known and respected, and one who was specially rewarded by the Government for his services to the public.

The offer on the part of the Kumar is in keeping with the public spirit of his late father, and is a good example that deserves to be made known.

No. 3755, dated Calcutta, the 9th June 1882.

Memo. by A. CROFT, Esq. M.A., Director of Public Instruction.

COPY of the following forwarded to the Secretary, Government of Bengal, General Department, for information, in reference to his No. 277, dated the 16th May 1882.

No. 254, dated Dacca, the 2nd June 1882.

From—J. V. S. POPE, Esq., M.A., Principal, Dacca, College,

To—The Director of Public Instructin.

IN reference to your No. 3402 of the 23rd May 1882, I have the honour to reply that the scholarship is to be awarded every year, and is to be tenable for a year only. It will be given to that student who stands first among the College students in the B. A. Examination.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION.

The 1st July 1882.—Under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, it is hereby notified that the number of registered candidates for the office of Sub-Deputy Collector still unprovided for considerably exceeds one hundred. It is improbable that new candidates for this department of the public service can expect to obtain appointments within any reasonable time. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks it desirable to give publicity to this fact, as it may save disappointment to many, and may induce some intending candidates to choose for themselves some other career.

NOTIFICATION.

The 21st June 1882.—It is hereby notified that in the month of August 1883, and thereafter month by month till further notice, 4,450 chests of Bengal opium will be sold under the usual conditions, by auction, in Calcutta, as follows:—

			Chests.
Opium manufactured at the Patna factory	...	...	2,225
Ditto ditto Ghazipore factory	...	...	2,225
Total	...		4,450

2. This monthly provision of 4,450 chests of opium will neither be increased nor diminished until at least twelve calendar months after notice published in the Gazette of India under the signature of a Secretary to the Government of India, or in the Calcutta Gazette under the signature of a Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

3. The division of the monthly provision of 4,450 chests of opium into 2,225 chests of opium manufactured at Patna and 2,225 chests of opium manufactured at Ghazipore, will not be modified until at least six calendar months after notice published in like manner.

4. Provided always that nothing in this notification shall be understood to prevent the Government, or the chief authority to whom the Government may delegate the duty of superintending the sale of Bengal provision opium, from selling two monthly provisions within one calendar month, instead of in the two successive calendar months in which they would otherwise be sold, whenever the occurrence of public holidays or any other circumstance shall appear to the Government to make such modification of the regular course of the monthly sales convenient.

5. Provided also that any chests of opium of which delivery is not taken by the purchasers may be sold in any subsequent month in addition to the 4,450 chests provided for that month.

Pleaders.

9. Pleaders shall be entitled to appear, plead, and act together with the parties in person or their recognized agents, as defined in section 37 of the Code, but not otherwise, unless appointed in writing.

10 A process served on a pleader duly appointed in writing by any party to a suit or proceeding shall be presumed to be duly communicated and made known to the party by whom such pleader has been appointed.

The Plaint and Verification.

11. The plaint shall be written on a form to be provided by the Court.

12. The verification of a plaint, application, or written statement shall be as follows:—

I, (plaintiff, applicant, or defendant, as the case may be), do declare that what is stated herein is true to my knowledge, except as to matters and facts stated on information, and as to these I believe the same to be true.

Summons, Process, and Warrant.

13. Summonses shall be issued and dated as of the day on which the plaint was filed.

14 A summons in a suit for an amount not exceeding five hundred rupees shall ordinarily be made returnable on the seventh day, and in a suit for an amount exceeding five hundred rupees on the fourteenth day, but in either case a summons may be made returnable in a shorter or longer period at the discretion of the Court.

15. A summons in a suit for an amount not exceeding five hundred rupees shall be served at least three clear days before the returnable date, and in a suit for an amount exceeding five hundred rupees at least six clear days before the returnable date.

16. A summons to a defendant resident or carrying on business out of the jurisdiction shall be made returnable on a date to be fixed by the Court, and shall be served so many clear days before such date as the Court shall order.

17. When the serving officer is unable to serve a summons as provided in sections 74, 75, 76, or 77 of the Code, it may be served by delivering or tendering it to some adult relative or member of the defendant's family or business establishment, or where the defendant occupies a room or lodging, by delivering or tendering it to the landlord of the house, provided the landlord also resides in the same house. But no place of business shall be deemed to be the place of business of the defendant unless he be the owner or one of the owners thereof.

18. When a summons, process, or warrant is to be served or executed, the person requiring such service or execution, or some one on his behalf, shall accompany the serving officer or bailiff to point out the person on whom, or the place where, such summons, process, or warrant is to be served or executed.

19. When a summons or process is to be served on any person who shall be living or serving on board any ship, vessel, or boat, and the same cannot be served personally, it may be served by delivering it to the senior officer on board, or to the person who for the time being may have charge of such ship, vessel, or boat.

20. When a summons or process is to be served under section 422 of the Code on a pilot or preventive officer engaged in actual service, it may be sent to the head of the office in which such pilot or preventive officer is employed, for the purpose of being served on him.

21. Every application for executing a decree or for the ordinary process of the Court shall be on a form to be provided for that purpose, and shall be presented to the Clerk of the Court.

22. A summons to be served under section 89 of the Code shall be by registered letter.

23. A notice required to be served through the Court shall be paid for as a process under section 72 of the Act.

24. A warrant issued under sections 250 and 251 of the Code shall be returnable within one month from the date thereof.

25. No summons, process, or warrant shall be served on or executed against—

(a) any person on a Sunday, Christmas-day, or Good Friday,

(b) any Hindu during the four days of Doorga Poojah, viz., Saptami, Ashtami, Navami, and Dashami.

Set-off.

26. When a defendant is desirous of setting off any sum under section 111 of the Code, he shall file in Court the particulars of such set-off at least two clear days before the returnable date of the summons, unless the Court shall fix some other day for filing the same.

Witnesses.

27. The scale in the Schedule annexed to these Rules shall be the scale of expenses ordinarily allowed to witnesses under section 160 of the Code, provided that where a witness is an agent or servant of the party requiring his attendance, no expenses shall be allowed.

28. A witness shall, before he is sworn or solemnly affirmed, be entitled to be paid his expenses, if they have not been paid. If a witness attend in one matter only, he will be entitled to the full allowance. If he attend in more than one matter on the same day, he will be entitled to such proportionate part in each matter as the Court may direct.

29. When a tender of expenses is made at the time of service, a sum not less than the minimum rate allowed by the scale for the particular class of witness shall be tendered to him. In the event of any question arising as to the amount of the tender, the Court shall decide the same at the hearing of the matter in respect of which the witness is required to attend.

30. A witness residing out of the jurisdiction will be entitled to all travelling expenses reasonably and actually expended by him, or likely to be expended by him, and will also, if detained in Calcutta, be allowed such a sum for subsistence money and carriage hire as the Court, having regard to the scale of expenses, may consider reasonable.

Compromise and Decree.

31. Every suit or proceeding settled by agreement of the parties shall be reported in open Court to the Clerk of the Bench before which the suit or proceeding is pending, or to the Bench.

32. When the Court directs that any decree shall be paid by instalments, such instalments shall, in the absence of any direction to the contrary, be paid into Court monthly, and in default of payment of any one instalment, the whole decree or the balance thereof shall become due.

33. The ordinary decree against an executor, administrator, or legal representative, shall be that the decree be levied out of the moveable property of the deceased in the hand of such executor, administrator, or legal representative.

34. When an ordinary decree has been made as mentioned in the last rule, the plaintiff may apply to the Court that the decree may be executed against the defendant in person, and not in his representative capacity; and the Court may, if it is satisfied that the defendant has misapplied the property of the deceased come to his hands, and improperly withheld payment, make an order that the decree or any portion thereof may be executed against the defendant in person, and not in his representative capacity.

35. When a defendant is sued as executor, administrator, or legal representative, the Court may, if it think any defence raised by him vexatious or groundless, and there be no property of the deceased in his hands, pass a decree against such defendant in person, and not in his representative capacity.

Applications generally.

36. Every application (not being an application for execution of a decree) directed by the Code or by the Act, or by Rule 40, to be in writing, must contain—

(a) the name of the plaintiff,
(b) the name of the defendant,
(c) the relief or order applied for,
(d) the grounds on which the relief or order is applied for.

It must be signed by the applicant's pleader (if any), and unless in these rules otherwise provided, must be verified in the same manner and by the same persons as a plaint. It shall ordinarily be presented to the particular Bench which passed the decree or order, or before which the suit or matter is pending.

37. In making an application, the applicant must be prepared with all necessary evidence for helping the Court to a proper determination of the matter.

38. On receiving an application, the Court shall (if necessary) fix a day for hearing the same.

39. When application has been received, and it is necessary to give notice to any person interested, a copy of the application, together with notice of the date fixed for its hearing, shall be served on such person in the same manner as a summons.

40. The following applications shall be in writing:—

(a) Under sections 99 and 108, Chapters XXI and XXXI, sections 477 and 483 of the Code.
(b) Under sections 18 (leave to institute a suit), 37, and 60 of the Act.
(c) Under Rule 34.

41. An application under section 18 of the Act for leave of the Court to institute a suit shall, in addition to the particulars specified in Rule 36, contain—

(a) the residence of the plaintiff, or where he carries on business;
(b) the residence of the defendant, or where he carries on business or works for gain;
(c) the cause of action, or whether it arose wholly or in part within the jurisdiction.

Application for new trials or to set aside a dismissal or a decree.

42. Every application under sections 99 or 108 of the Code, or under section 37 of the Act, shall, when presented to the Court, be accompanied with a copy of such application, and such copy shall be served through the Court, or through some other Court, on the party as against whom the application is made, and ordinarily at least four clear days before the date fixed for the hearing of the application. Such service shall be made in the same manner as a service of summons.

43. In every such application the grounds shall be fully and distinctly set out, and the applicant shall, at the hearing, be restricted to the grounds contained in his application.

44. Every application under section 37 of the Act shall, when the applicant has appeared at the original hearing by advocate or pleader, ordinarily be supported by a certificate of such advocate or pleader that in his opinion there are good grounds for the application.

45. Before any such application as is mentioned in Rule 42 is presented to the Court, the amount of the decree (if any) shall be paid into Court, and the applicant shall obtain a certificate of having done so from the proper officer of the Court. The Bench to which such application is presented may, if it thinks fit, dispense with such payment into Court, but in the case of an application where both parties have appeared at any hearing of the original matter, only on security being given to the satisfaction of the Bench.

46. Every application under section 37 of the Act shall be heard before two Judges at least, one of whom shall be the Judge who tried the matter in respect of which the application is made, and the other the Chief Judge. If the matter in respect of which the application is made was heard by the Chief Judge, one or more Judges shall sit with him to hear the application. The Chief Judge, or, in his absence, the Senior Judge, may, under special circumstances, direct that any Judges other than those specified may hear any application under section 37 of the Act.

Claims and complaints.

47. When a claim is preferred or objection made under sections 278 or 487 of the Code, or section 61 of the Act, in respect of any property attached or seized, or in respect of the proceeds or value thereof, the claimant or objector shall file a plaint in which the claimant or objector shall be the plaintiff and the execution creditor, or the person who obtained the warrant, the defendant, and the matter shall then be treated as a suit.

48. Such plaint shall contain a statement of the particulars of the property claimed, or of the objection made, and of the grounds of the claim or objection.

49. When such a plaint has been filed, the sale of the property attached or seized shall be postponed pending the result of the suit. If the property has been sold and the money is in court, the same shall be detained pending such result.

50. A complaint under section 328 of the Code shall be in writing, and shall contain particulars of the obstruction complained of. It shall be in the form of an application, and be treated as such, but shall be verified by the decree-holder, or some person who on his behalf has accompanied the officer entrusted with the execution of the warrant, and is acquainted with the facts of the complaint.

Recovery of possession of immoveable property.

51. Applications under section 41 of the Act shall be in the form of a plaint in which the applicant shall be the plaintiff and the occupant the defendant, and the matter shall then be treated as a suit. For the purpose of ascertaining the value of the suit, the annual value of the property in respect of which the claim is made shall be deemed to be the value of such property, and such annual value shall be stated in the plaint.

Miscellaneous.

52. When a bond is given under section 29 of the Act as security for the payment of a decree, the obligor of such bond shall at the same time sign a warrant to confess judgment thereon.

53. No correspondence relating to suits or proceedings before the Court can be attended to, but any person having business in the Court or its offices shall transact the same in person, or by a duly authorized agent or pleader.

54 The Court shall frame forms for every proceeding in the Court for which it shall think it necessary that a form be provided, and may from time to time alter any such form or forms.

Add the following as Section 177 A.—

177A. Section 177 applies to Officers of the Public Works Department who retired under the terms of the Resolution in the Department of Finance, No. 2079, dated 31st July 1879, except as regards re-employment in an establishment paid from a Local Fund. Any such Officer, whether re-employed permanently or temporarily, is required on re-employment to refund the special gratuity received by him under paragraph 5, section II, clause (5) of the Resolution of the 31st July 1879; but if he does not make the refund, his pension will, for the purposes of this section, be held to be increased by an amount equal to 5 per cent. per annum on his special gratuity. If an Officer has capitalised his pension, the same deduction will, if necessary, be made from his allowances as if he had not done so. (For the purposes of this section service paid by a Guaranteed Railway Company shall be treated as if it were service rendered in a temporary capacity.)

An officer re-employed in service paid from a Local Fund may, in addition to his salary, draw his pension and retain the special gratuity received by him under paragraph 5, section II, clause (5) of the Resolution of the 31st July 1879.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 278.

The 10th July 1882.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of Monghyr, Bhagulpore, Purneah, Maldah and Sonthal Pergunnahs districts, for the cess year 1880-81, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division, are published for general information.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M.S.C.,

Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Committee, Monghyr, on the Committee's operations for the Cess year 1880-81.

The Road Cess Act has worked well, and the collections were satisfactory, being 95 per cent of the demand for the year. The greater part of the outstanding balances of the previous years was realized during the year.

All the meetings held during the year were attended by sufficient number of members, and a quorum was always formed. The members residing in the interior rarely attended any meeting, and some of them have attended no meeting since their appointment. The attendance of the members of the Branch Committees is also not favourably reported on, and some of them evinced little or no interest in the business of the Committee.

The district and village roads have been repaired, maintained and put into proper condition.

The different establishments under the Committee have generally worked well.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Committee, Bhaugulpore, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1880-81.

ACT IX (B.C.) of 1880 has been in operation in this district for so short a period that it would be premature to offer any remarks on its working. The only fact worth noticing is that much larger arrears of cesses occurred during the year under report than in any other previous year. The Chairmen of most of the Branch Committees report, however, that the people are well satisfied with the working of the Act, and have come to view the payments of the cess as a not unendurable burden, and one which certainly gives them considerable advantages.

The Branch Committees have worked remarkably well during the year. They have opened many new village roads, and expended almost the whole of the allotments made to them for such roads.

The planting of trees on roadsides is making satisfactory progress, and all trees are thriving well. Several nurseries have been kept up and are well cared for.

The progress made towards carrying out the original works has been very satisfactory. A large number of the works in hand have been completed during the year, while on the rest very nearly the whole of the amount allotted has been expended. Very good progress has also been made under the head of "Repairs," and almost the whole of the allotments under that head have been expended, leaving a small balance at the end of the year under report.

The several establishments under the Committee appear to have worked well.

E. TAYLER,

Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Bhagulpore.

Abstract of a report by the Chairman of the District Road Committee, Purneah, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1880-81.

The Act has worked well, and the people appreciate the improved communications in the district.

Most of the members have shown an interest in the transactions of the Committee. The average attendance of the members was fair, but the absence of some from all the meetings is not a satisfactory feature. There was no quorum at one of the meetings held at Kissengunge and at one held at Arrarea. The working of the Committees was on the whole satisfactory.

The condition of the district roads is not what it ought to be, but the Branch Committees paid due attention to the repairs of the village roads.

Some 600 trees were planted out during the year and the fences of existing trees repaired. Nine nursery gardens are kept up.

The several establishments under the Committee have generally given satisfaction.

PURNEAH,

The 6th February 1882.

J. PRATT,

Vice-Chairman, District Road Committee.

Abstract of a report by the Chairman of the District Road Committee, Malda, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1880-81.

The Cess Act has on the whole worked smoothly during the year. The net amount of cess demand stood at Rs. 26,108, and the collections amounted to Rs. 22,990, the percentage of total collections on the current demand being Rs. 93 1.

Six meetings were held during the year, and all were presided over by the Chairman. Those members who reside in the interior have been very irregular in attendance, and there are some who have never attended any meeting.

The district and village roads have been repaired and kept in good order.

The trees planted last year on the roads from English Bazar to Amerti and to Nawabgunge have been nursed, and those which died during the year were replaced by new trees.

The various establishments under the Committee have done their work satisfactorily.

No. 6.—Part I.

MALDAH,
The 30th December 1881.

R. PORCH,
Chairman.

Abstract of a report by the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs on the operations for the cess year 1880-81.

THE Road Cess Act is not in force in this district, and there is no Committee. The Deputy Commissioner exercises the powers of Committee, Chairman, and Vice-Chairman.

The roads in the district have been repaired, and are in proper condition.

There are only six miles of village roads, all of which are in good order.

During the year nurseries were formed at all the inspection bungalows in the district, and the trees planted out on the several roads in the preceding year were maintained. There were about 1,200 trees planted out on roads in the head quarters sub-division, 557 trees in the Godda sub-division, and a small number in the Rajmehal sub-division. The trees are nearly all mangoes.

The different establishments under the Committee have done their work satisfactorily.

W. OLDHAM,

Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Pergunnahs.

No. 462PW, dated Bhaugulpore, the 31st March 1882.

From—G. N. BARLOW, Esq., Commissioner of the Bhaugulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual account and reports of the District Road Funds for all the Districts in this Division for the cess year of 1880-81.

Those for the districts of Monghyr, Purneah and Maldah were not submitted within the prescribed time. Those of the Purneah district were delayed owing to the inefficiency and consequent dismissal of the Accountant. No satisfactory reason has been given for the delay from the other two districts.

2. The collections are satisfactory except for the Bhaugulpore district in which heavy arrears are reported. The Collector gives as a reason that while heavy additional work has been thrown on his office in connection with the administration of the Public Demand Act, he has had no increase of establishment.

3. In the Bhaugulpore and Purneah districts it is stated that the people appreciate the benefit of improved communication, and that the act has worked well; no remarks are made under this head in reports for the other districts.

Attendance.

4. The attendance of members at Committee meetings has been fair; the average number of members attending each meeting being 6 38. In Bhaugulpore members living on the north of the Ganges are almost precluded from attending in the rains. In North Monghyr, North Bhaugulpore, Purneah and Maldah many members of the Committee render valuable service by undertaking and supervising repairs to roads in their neighbourhood. In Monghyr and Purneah, too, few meetings have been held, and to ensure more prompt despatch of business I have directed meetings to be held more frequently. With the exception of indigo planters and European zemindars, it has been difficult to get members representing the cess payers to take much interest in the work of the Committee. The number of members who have not attended one meeting is unsatisfactory: it is useless having members who take no interest in the work; and I have directed the names of those who have not attended six consecutive meetings to be struck off the list, under the Act, unless in particular cases there is good cause shewn for absence or special reason for retention.

General State of Roads.

5. The district roads shew an improvement over previous years; more system has been introduced into the working and supervision. No changes having been made among the district engineers, they have acquired a better knowledge of the district. Permanent bridges are gradually taking the place of temporary structures in all districts except Maldah, and metalled roads which had been allowed to fall into bad repair have everywhere been renewed as far as funds would permit; but a good deal remains to be done to make up for previous years of neglect and bad work under careless and incompetent district engineers. The funds available have been utilized during the year except in Purneah and Monghyr. In Purneah this is due to work done not having been paid for, and in Monghyr to many heavy estimates having been sanctioned too late for work to be commenced in 1880-81.

Original Works.

6. Monghyr.—A road from Sungrampore towards Sultangunge railway station has been completed. The bridging of Sheikopore to Sheikpura road commenced, and the road through Beguserai bazar metalled. Towards the close of the year estimates were sanctioned for many important roads, which, when completed, will provide South Monghyr with a complete system of communication. Preliminary estimates have been sanctioned for surveys for roads in North Monghyr, which up to this had received little attention from the Committee. The main road to Tirhoot, which was much breached and damaged in 1879, has been partially repaired, and it has been decided to send up an estimate for making this a bunded road throughout.

Bhaugulpore.—The most important works carried out in this district have been the bridging of three important roads in the north, providing communications to the Civil Sub-Division of Soopole and Muddehpurah, the construction of a raised and bridged road six miles connecting the civil sub-division of Banka in the south with the Bowsi road (this is not quite completed), and the metalling of the road from Sultangunge railway station to the Monghyr Border.

Purneah.—The principal work has been the bridging of the road from Kissengunge East and West. Some small timber bridges have been put up in various roads and some old structures renewed. Many important works have been delayed for want of sanction to estimates which have been in hands for years. There are a number of roads partially-bridged in this district; measures are being taken to concentrate work more and complete certain roads before others are taken in hand. A road cess office has been constructed.

Maldah.—A few petty works have been done which call for no remarks; the funds of this district are inadequate for the construction of new works, except to a very small extent. An old building has been raised and altered for a Road Cess Office.

Sonthal Pergunnahs.—Most of the works in this district have been under the Public Works Department, the most important work carried out by the Deputy Commissioner has been the bridging and metalling of the Doomka to Rampur Hât railway station road, which is now all metalled and nearly all bridged.

Repairs.

7. Monghyr.—A large sum was allotted for this, sufficient to put all roads in thorough good order, but surface repairs were not done so soon as they should have been; metalled roads have been kept in very good repair, except the one from Burriarpore railway station to Khurruckpore, a portion of which still requires a fresh coat of metal

Bhaugulpore.—The district roads have all been repaired and maintained in good order; the main metalled road to the Sonthal Pergunnahs, 42 miles, has been very much improved during this year, and is now in very fair order.

Purneah.—There are so many roads in this district that sufficient allotments cannot be made to keep all in good order, and it is a question whether some on the list should be maintained, and although most of the roads have been efficiently kept up, some are in bad order. I agree with the Chairman that there has been much delay in repairing roads this year, but he should have stated how such delay has been allowed to occur.

Maldah.—While the surface roads have been fairly looked after and repaired, many old raised roads have been allowed to fall into utter disrepair. The funds at the disposal of the Committee are very limited, but I am inclined to think more than the proper proportion of funds has been expended on metalling and repairs to metalling on roads in and near the station.

Establishment.

8. The establishments are reported to have worked well throughout. The District Engineer of Maldah resigned his appointment in April 1881, and Baboo Jogendra Nath Ghose was appointed District Engineer in September 1881. There have been no other changes of any importance. All other Committees seem well satisfied with their District Engineers, who all now have a good knowledge of their work and districts, and I hope no changes will be made.

Tree planting.

9. In Bhaugulpore a good deal has been done, and young plants of former years have been well looked after and maintained. In Monghyr trees planted in former years have been neglected and little has been done in new planting. The few miles planted out in Purneah have not turned out well. In Maldah very little has been done under this head. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs a fair number of trees have been planted out, and the large number formerly put in maintained. Except in Bhaugulpore and the Sonthal Pergunnahs tree planting and maintenance is anything but satisfactory.

Village roads.

10. In Monghyr liberal allotments have been made, the Branch Committees have worked well; many main roads formerly under Branch Committees have been taken over by the District Committee. In Bhaugulpore also the Branch Committees have worked well, expended the funds allotted to them, and maintained the village roads well, and have opened out many new ones. In Purneah the Arrariah and Kissengunge Branch Committees have worked well and paid attention to the state of all village roads; the Sudder Branch Committee is reported very apathetic. In Maldah the few village roads are reported to have been repaired as far as funds would admit; the chief traffic is carried on by water; there are no Branch Committees. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs, there being no cess, there are only six miles village roads on the list.

11. The services of the Divisional Superintendent have been of the greatest benefit to the work and to myself. He has just returned from a five months' continuous tour throughout all the districts. My chief desire now is that rules may be now quickly framed which will enable us to retain the same officer. It would be the worst economy to lose him on promotion as soon as he has acquired knowledge of his work.

12. Abstracts are attached giving the totals of receipts and expenditure in this division, the same shewing the details under the various heads. The expenditure on village roads, the percentage of expenditure against receipts, and the balance in hand at the close of the cess year.

No. 81.

SEALED tenders in the form used in the Commissariat Department (blank forms whereof can be had on application at the Commissariat Office, Madras) will be received by the Executive Commissariat Officer at Madras until 1 o'clock P.M. on the 17th August 1882, and opened by him at the same time and place in presence of those interested, for the supply, by contract, of 149,453lb of either Indian or China black tea (the price of each description to be separately stated) to be delivered at the Commissariat Stores at Madras to the Commissariat Storekeeper-General on or before the 30th day of April 1883 free of all charges whatsoever. No payment will be made on account of such supply prior to the 30th April 1883.

2. Each tender must be accompanied by a receipt from the Secretary, Bank of Madras, acknowledging the payment of a deposit of Rs. (4,000) four thousand, or be accompanied by Government Promissory Notes to the same amount duly endorsed over to the Executive Commissariat Officer, Madras, and in default of both of such deposits the tender will be rejected. Tenders to be sealed and superscribed "Tender for Tea."

3. The deposit of the successful competitor will be retained until he lodges with the Executive Commissariat officer at Madras the sum of Rs. (16,000) sixteen thousand, either in cash or in Government Promissory Notes. If the latter, the notes to be endorsed over to the Executive Commissariat Officer, Madras, for the time being as security for the due fulfilment of his contract. The deposit made with his tender will then be returned to him.

4. The deposits of all, with the exception of that of the successful competitor, will be returned on the decision of Government being received.

5. The successful competitor will be required to sign a contract on the basis of his tender containing the usual provisions in the form used in the Commissariat Department (form whereof can be seen on application to the Commissariat Officer at Madras) and to furnish the requisite security within eight days from the date on which the acceptance of his tender is notified to him. Should the successful competitor fail to sign the contract deed or to furnish the security within the time specified, so much of his deposit will be forfeited as will reasonably compensate Government for such breach of contract, and his tender will be considered as having been rejected. It is, however, to be clearly understood that the forfeiture of the total amount (if necessary) of such deposit for such default shall in no way preclude Government from recovering from the defaulting competitor all such damages as Government may sustain by reason of such default, and that the amount of such deposit is not to be taken as the total amount of compensation payable to Government for such default.

6. The chests containing the tea should be of strong material, and the lead lining thereof sound and strong. Each chest must be bound round with iron hooping and packed in good strong gunny. No broken or damaged chests will be received. Each chest should contain 84lb. of China tea, or 80lb of Indian tea, and should be marked 80 or 84lb net, as the case may be. A certain number of the chests will be opened and examined by a committee to ascertain that they contain not less than the weight represented, dependent on which examination they will be taken to contain the net weight marked thereon.

7. The quality of tea to be subjected to the approval of, or rejection by, a committee to be appointed at the request of the Commissary-General by the Officer Commanding the District, and payment will be made for such quantity only as may be approved of by the said committee.

8. Samples of tea can be had on application at the Commissariat Office at Madras.

9. The Government reserve to itself the right of rejecting any tender without assigning any reason for so doing.

10. If the contractor makes default in delivering the whole of the tea on or before the 30th April 1883, so much of the security deposited by him as will reasonably compensate Government for such breach of contract will be liable to become forfeited to Government, but, if such contractor deliver a portion of the tea to be supplied according to his contract and makes default in delivering the remainder thereof, he shall be liable to pay to Government such reasonable compensation as Government may be entitled to for such breach of contract, and any such compensation may, at the option of Government, be deducted either from the moneys payable to such contractor for the tea delivered by him or from the security which may be deposited by him.

11. All further information may be had and the form of tenders and contract deed inspected on application at the Commissariat Office at Madras.

12. Every tender not made in the required form will be rejected.

13. No person making a tender shall be allowed to withdraw his tender for the space of ninety days from the date thereof, and, in the event to his doing so, his deposit shall be forfeited to Government.

(By order of the Commissary-General.)

E. A. BRUCE, Major,
Dy. Assistant Commissary-General.

Proclamation of Sale.

[SECTION 287 OF THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE]

DISTRICT BAKIRGANJ.

In the court of the District Judge of Bakirganj at Barisal.

Execution case No. 154 of 1882.

Tarok Chondro Shen, decree-holder, against Horoshundari Gupta, judgment-debtor.

NOTICE is hereby given that, under section 284, Act X of 1877, an order has been passed by this court for the sale of the attached property mentioned in the annexed schedule, in satisfaction of the claim of Tarok Chondro Shen, the decree-holder, in the suit* mentioned in the margin, amounting with costs and interest up to date of sale to the sum of Rs. 14,178.

* Suit No. 158 of 1880, decided by the Sub-Judge of Dacca, in which Tarok Chondro Shen was plaintiff and Horoshundari Gupta was defendant.

The sale will be by public auction, and the property will be put up for sale in the lots specified in the sale schedule. The sale will be of the property of the judgment-debtors abovenamed, as mentioned in the schedule below; and the liabilities and claims attaching to the said property, so far as they can be ascertained, are those specified in the schedule against each lot.

In the absence of any order of postponement, the sale will be held by the nazir of the court at the monthly sale commencing at 12 o'clock on the 21st August 1882 at Barisal. In the event, however, of the debt above specified, and of the costs of the sale being tendered or paid before the knocking down of any lot, the sale will be stopped.

At the sale the public generally are invited to bid, either personally or by duly authorized agent. No bid by, or on behalf of, the judgment-creditors abovementioned, however, will be accepted; nor will any sale to them be valid without the express permission of the court previously given. The following are the further

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1. The particulars specified in the schedule below have been stated to the best of the information of the court, but the court will not be answerable for any error, mis-statement, or omission in this proclamation.

2. The amount by which the biddings are to be increased shall be determined by the officer conducting the sale. In the event of any dispute arising as to the amount bid, or as to the bidder, the lot shall at once be again put up to auction.

3. The highest bidder shall be declared to be the purchaser of any lot, provided always that he is legally qualified to bid, and provided that it shall be in the discretion of the court or officer holding the sale to decline acceptance of the highest bid when the price offered appears so clearly inadequate as to make it advisable to do so.

4. For reasons recorded, it shall be in the discretion of the officer conducting the sale to adjourn it, subject always to the provisions of section 291, Act X of 1877.

5. In the case of moveable property, the price of each lot shall be paid for at the time of sale or as soon after as the officer holding the sale directs; and in default of payment the property shall forthwith be again put up and sold.

6. In the case of immoveable property, the person declared to be the purchaser shall pay immediately after such declaration a deposit of 25 per cent on the amount of his purchase-money to the officer conducting the sale; and in default of such deposit the property shall forthwith be put up again and sold.

7. The full amount of the purchase-money shall be paid by the purchaser before the court closes on the fifteenth day after the sale of the property, exclusive of such day; or if the fifteenth day be a Sunday or other holiday, then on the first office day after the fifteenth day.

8. In default of payment of the balance of purchase-money within the period allowed, the property shall be re-sold after the issue of a fresh notification of sale. The deposit, after defraying the expenses of the sale, shall be forfeited to Government, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claim to the property, or to any part of the sum for which it may be subsequently sold.

GIVEN under my hand and the seal of the court this 3rd day of July 1882.

J. F. BRADBURY, Offg. District Judge.

Howrah Municipality.

LOAN OF Rs. 50,000.

THE Commissioners have obtained the sanction of the Government of India under Section 7 of Act XI of 1879, "The Public Works Loan Act," to raise a loan of the above sum in the open market on the security of the rates and taxes levied by them under Act V of 1876 (B C.) in order to enable them to contribute their quota towards the cost of the new bridge over the railway premises.

Tenders are hereby invited, and will be received up to Tuesday, the 25th instant, for the whole or any part of the above named sum.

Debentures (which will not be negotiable) will be issued of Rs 100 each, and the loan will be repayable in 20 years by equal half-yearly instalments. The balance from time to time remaining owing upon each debenture will bear interest at 4½ per cent. per annum payable half-yearly with the instalments of principal.

Parties tendering are required to pay into the Bank of Bengal to the credit of the Commissioners 2 per cent of the amount tendered by way of security.

Tenders to be made in prescribed form given below at the Commissioners' office, and to be enclosed in sealed covers marked, "Howrah Municipality Overbridge Loan."

The amount of the accepted tender or tenders to be paid in one instalment by the 31st instant.

The time for opening tenders will be duly intimated in writing to the tenderers.

(FORM OF TENDER.)

I—————————do hereby tender for Rupees ——————————————————
of the Loan advertised for in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 12th July 1882, and agree to pay for the same subject to the conditions specified at the rate of Rupees for every hundred allowed to me.

2. I enclose a deposit receipt of the Bank of Bengal for Rupees———— ——by way of security, and do hereby bind myself, if my tender be accepted, to pay to the credit of the Commissioners at that Bank the whole sum tendered for by me within the 31st July 1882.

By order,

R. A. DONNITHORNE, Secretary.

Dated the 10th July 1882.

(FORM OF DEBENTURE.)

(Not negotiable.)

No. Dated ————1882.

By virtue of the authority given by the Government of India under Section 7 of Act XI of 1879, "The Public Works Loan Act," we, the Commissioners of the Municipality of Howrah, in consideration of the sum of Rs. 100 paid to us by—————————— of ——————promise to repay to the said ——— the said sum of Rs. 100 by 40 equal half-yearly instalments together with interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum on the amount from time to time remaining due under this debenture. Such interest and instalments of principal to be payable half-yearly on 1st April and 1st October in every year.

EXTENSION OF LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.
FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Circular No. 51—M, dated Darjeeling, the 5th July 1882.

From—COLMAN MACAULAY, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Bengal,
To—All Commissioners of Divisions.

I AM directed to forward, for your early consideration, copies of the papers noted on the margin, with reference to the extension of Local Self-Government. Your opinion on the general question has already been submitted in reply to my Circular (Finance, No. 98-106T, dated 4th November). The letter of this Government to the Government of India, No. 921½, dated 8th April, and the Resolution of the Government of India, dated 18th May, have, however, raised points of much wider application than have been hitherto under discussion, and these should now receive the special and attentive consideration of all local officers, assisted by such native advisers as they may be able to consult. Mr. Rivers Thompson is anxious to give the fullest possible effect to the policy of the Government of India. It is quite clear, however, that, whether as affecting Municipalities or as affecting Local Boards, the extent of the applicability of the new proposals to either towns or tracts must depend very much upon the local information to be obtained regarding each one of them; and it is necessary therefore that the circumstances of each district should be carefully examined, in order that Government may be in a position to determine how far the full scope of the scheme

Letter No. 921½, dated 8th April 1882, to Government of India.
Resolution of Government of India, dated 18th May 1882.

can be extended, what modifications will be required in particular places, and how many grades must be constructed in the legislative measure in which the general scheme is to find its ultimate expression.

2. You will observe that the two main points on which the Government of India have modified the scheme submitted by this Government are the extent to which the constitution of the Local Boards is to be determined by election, and the extent to which they are to be controlled by official Chairmen. The Government of India lay down no rigid rule. They desire that the elective system may be introduced, and that non-officials may be Chairmen of the Local Boards, wherever these measures may be practicable. It will be incumbent upon this Government and its officers, with whom will rest the determination of this condition as regards individual localities, not to abuse the discretion allowed them, but, without reference to preconceived ideas on general questions of policy, to give the fullest effect to the wishes of the Supreme Government that may be compatible with their duty to their own charges.

3. The suggestions of the Government of India on these two principal points have even more direct reference to Town or Municipal Boards than to District and Local Boards. Before therefore proceeding to discuss the scheme for the constitution and working of the last-named bodies, the Lieutenant-Governor desires me to invite your attention to the following considerations regarding municipalities

4 Apart from Calcutta, which is under a separate law, the elective system is now in force in three only out of the 26 first class municipalities in Bengal. It is true that no very great success has attended the experiment in two at least out of these three. Nevertheless, it is reported that, though the electors do not as a body display much interest in the exercise of the franchise, and though the elected Commissioners do not apply themselves with any special diligence to the conduct of municipal affairs, the personnel of the Corporation is much the same as it would have been had the system of nomination been maintained. Instances, however, are not unknown in more advanced communities where elected members of Local Boards are indifferent to the call of public duty. This much at least is clear that, while under the elective system there may be some hope of progress in regard to general interest in municipal affairs, there can hardly be any such prospect under a system of simple nomination, and all the experience of past efforts would seem to show that, if little good has so far been effected by election, certainly no harm has been done by it. It was in view of these circumstances, and in the hope that, with extended responsibilities and extended powers, greater interest in public affairs might be taken both by electors and by elected, that Sir Ashley Eden, in announcing the determination of Government to relieve municipalities of the charges for police, expressed his willingness to consider proposals for extending the elective system to first class municipalities. A circular was issued inviting an expression of the wishes of the different bodies; but there has been no response to this invitation. The law requires that one-third of the rate-payers shall sign a petition, praying for the introduction of the elective system into a municipality, before Government can take any action in this direction, and it may be that ignorance of this provision on the part of the people is the cause of their silence. In view, however, of the declared policy of Government, it is not desirable that its officers should maintain a passive attitude in this matter. It is entirely the wish of the Lieutenant-Governor that the partial failures of past limited experiments should not be accepted by district officers as a sufficient reason for declining to extend the trial to other municipalities. They should cause the requirements of the law to be generally understood, and they should make it known that the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared, as a rule, to extend the elective system to all first class municipalities, and large second class municipalities, in which the requirements of section 16 of the General Municipal Act are fulfilled. In submitting proposals to this end, it will be convenient that you should communicate your views and those of the local officers regarding the method of election most suitable to the municipality in question, and the rules by which it should be controlled. You should also make recommendations in regard to the qualifications to be prescribed for electors and candidates, and state the number of persons who, according to such tests, would be entitled to the franchise or to a seat at the Municipal Board. Copies of the rules now in force in the Calcutta, Burdwan, Kishnaghur, and Serampore Municipalities are herewith forwarded for your inspection

5. It has also been declared to be the policy of the Government of India that non-official persons should be appointed to be Chairmen of Local Boards wherever this may be practicable, and that, where it is necessary to appoint an executive officer to be Chairman, he should not, as a general rule, have a vote in the proceedings of the Board. It is obvious that, if this policy can be carried out anywhere, it can be carried out in municipalities. The law constituting and regulating mofussil municipalities has now been in operation for many years; the area over which such municipalities exercise jurisdiction is limited and well defined; and the places at which such municipalities have been established are generally centres of trade and population, where we may expect to find not only men of education and culture, but men who have gained practical experience of municipal administration under the system which has been in force during the last twenty years. In all this period the intelligence of the people of Bengal has not stood still; and more than in other provinces it may be claimed here that, with the proofs of rapid advance in popular education and of the growth of a healthier public opinion, the time has come when the demand of the more intelligent classes for a large freedom in the management of their own concerns must be recognized and allowed. The desire of the Lieutenant-Governor is that Municipal Commissioners shall have as much scope as possible in the independent management of the affairs of their own towns, and there can be no doubt that this scope may be seriously limited, in the interior at any rate, by the active intervention of the chief executive officer of the district or sub-division. In Calcutta, the Chairman is Commissioner of Police, but he has no other executive authority. Two-thirds of the Commissioners are elected, and the practical interest which as a body they now display in the administration of the affairs of the town is beginning to have excellent results. In the Suburban and Howrah Municipalities the Magistrate of the district is Chairman. Here, however, the conditions are essentially different from those of mofussil towns. Official influence is of comparatively little moment; and the Commissioners evince much independence and public spirit in the discussion and direction of municipal affairs. The circumstances of these three municipalities are, however, in other respects also quite special, and imperial and provincial interests are to a large extent involved The question of their administration is receiving the separate consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor. In the mofussil, however, the presence of the chief executive officer at the head of the Board has very frequently the effect of discouraging the free expression of independent opinion; and, though this may be materially altered by the working of the elective system, still there can be little doubt that the object of encouraging Local Self-Government would be promoted by the removal of this overshadowing influence, sufficient power being retained to compel the Commissioners to discharge their duty to the public should they persist in neglecting it. Obviously, however, no fixed rule can be laid down for all municipalities. In some the non-official members have hitherto so far held back from active interest in public affairs that no one may be found among them fitted for the post of Chairman. In a few, even if the ward system were fully developed, the labours would be so heavy and the responsibilities so great that no one may be willing to accept the position without a special salary; and in some cases it may be found that the rate-payers and the Commissioners themselves would prefer to retain the gratuitous official agency now available to them, while the former enjoy the privileges of election. The case of each municipality must be carefully considered with due regard to all its circumstances. On the whole, Mr Rivers Thompson would be willing to adopt the same test of the popular wishes in this matter as in that of election, and, in the absence of very special objection, to appoint a non official Chairman or to appoint a nominee of the Commissioners themselves, in the event of one-third of the rate-payers signing a petition asking him to take this action. The existing law gives the Lieutenant-Governor authority to appoint any person to be Chairman of a Municipality. Indeed, the prominent success of a municipality in the Hooghly district has recently led His Honor to confer this office upon one of the non-official Commissioners, who has hitherto conducted the duties of Vice-Chairman; and he will be ready to take similar measures elsewhere." It will be desirable to make the intention of Government in this respect generally known. Meanwhile you should report, regarding each municipality, whether, in your opinion and in that of the local officers and their native advisers, the chief executive officer should remain Chairman or should be replaced by some other official, and whether either of these should be allowed to vote at the meetings of the Board; or whether Government should nominate a non-official Chairman, or, finally, should leave the Commissioners to nominate their own Chairman, subject to the Lieutenant-Governor's approval. It will of course be understood that the conduct of the enquiries which bear upon these questions should not be limited to official agency. The persons mainly concerned are the people themselves; and there should be no difficulty, by public meetings, or by personal communication with the residents in each municipality, of ascertaining the wishes of those chiefly interested. Other questions connected with municipalities, such as the amount to be contributed to district schools situated within their limits, and their relations with adjoining Local Boards in regard to education, highways, ferries, and the like, will be discussed further on.

6. When we approach the discussion of the constitution of Local Boards, the difficulties of the problem are manifestly greater; and these difficulties arise primarily from the fact that, in this direction at least, the experiment of Local Self-Government based upon election is entirely an innovation, foreign alike to the genius and instincts of the people and to the system of rule which has obtained since the British power was established in India. The Government on this side of India has no past experience to fall back upon for its guidance, nor probably could it find in any of the independent Native States in the country precedents of a kind to help it in such a novel undertaking. The Lieutenant-Governor is anxious, nevertheless, to give to the views expressed by His Excellency the Viceroy in Council the fullest and the fairest trial; and, though he has no fears as to the results of the measure, and no doubts as to its ultimate success, he is bound from his position to give the warning that, if any solid and permanent results are to be achieved, it can only be by a tentative and patient procedure in the introduction of the new policy. We are dealing with untried men in an untried system. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore is glad to find that, in the work to be done and the manner of its accomplishment, a large discretion has been accorded to him; and he avails himself of this liberty in recording now the views which he desires to bring under your notice.

7. As regards the general question of the machinery by which Local Self-Government is to be conducted, you will observe that the Government of India have accepted Sir Ashley Eden's recommendation that the unit of administration should be the Local or Sub-Divisional, and not the District, Board. Even smaller jurisdictions would be admitted if it were found practicable to appoint Local Boards to control them. The Government of India are also disposed to restrict the functions of the District Boards or Councils to the decision of very general questions affecting the district, such as the rate of road cess, and the like, and the allotment of general district funds. Mr. Rivers Thompson thinks that there will be little difficulty in providing for the exercise of independent powers by Local Boards, and thus dispensing with District Councils altogether where such Boards exist. Wherever it may be necessary for two or more Boards to execute some work in common, or to contribute to the salary of a common officer, provision can be made for the union of Boards for any specific purpose, and the delegation of their powers for such purpose to a joint Board, as in the English Act. Sir Ashley Eden was of opinion that it would be best to legislate only for districts in which Local Boards could be formed, other districts being dealt with by executive order. The Government of India prefer that all should be included. There will be no difficulty in incorporating in the law the powers which are now held by Road, Education and Dispensary Committees, with such enlargement as may be found possible, and conferring them on single committees.

8. There will therefore be, under the new law (from which the districts of Singbhoom, Sonthal Pergunnahs, and Chittagong Hill Tracts will be excluded) three classes of districts: (1) Those which contain no sub-division in which a Local Board can be formed: these will remain under the charge of District Committees, and will correspond with the "rural districts," under the English Act, which are not fit for incorporation in a "Local Government district." (2) Those which contain some sub-divisions in which a Local Board can be formed, and some in which this is not possible: the latter class of sub-division will be placed in charge of such a committee, corresponding to a Branch Committee under the existing Cess Act, as can be formed, the Chairman being the Sub-Divisional Officer. (3) Those which contain sub-divisions, in all of which Local Boards can be formed: these will correspond with "Local Government districts" in England. It will now be for you to report, after detailed enquiry, under which of the three categories each district in your jurisdiction should be placed. It will of course be the desire of Government that as many sub-divisions as possible may gradually advance sufficiently to be created Local Government districts In order that no obstacle may be thrown in the way, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to insert a section in the law to enable a certain proportion of the persons of substance in a sub-division to petition Government to have a Local Board created, and to provide for full enquiry into such petitions.

9. You will next consider, as in the case of municipalities, the questions of election of members and appointment of Chairmen. In which of the sub-divisions to be created Local Government districts can a part of the members of the Local Board be elected? In what cases should the Local Boards be allowed to nominate their own Chairman, in what should Government appoint a non-official Chairman, and in what would it be necessary to have an official Chairman?

10. Mr. Rivers Thompson is entirely in favour of introducing the elective system, wherever the condition of the people is such as to warrant him in doing so. In considering the applicability of this system to any tract, it will be necessary to recollect that in the promotion of Local Self-Government, the object chiefly aimed at is the political education of the people, and obviously political education should succeed, and not precede, education in the ordinary sense of the term. It must also be borne in mind that a high average of intelligence among representatives cannot be secured without a moderate average of intelligence and knowledge among those who elect them. But if in any Local Government district a reasonable proportion of the persons, who would be qualified to vote according to such standard as might be generally adopted, desire to have the power to elect their representatives, and show that the desire is real by subsequently exercising the franchise, the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason why that power should be withheld from them. It will first be necessary to fix the qualification for voters. Mr. Rivers Thompson is distinctly of opinion that the ownership or occupancy of some kind of property, or the direction of some trade or business in the area to be represented, should be an essential condition of the franchise. In England the right of voting at the election of a Local Board is enjoyed only by owners of, and payers of poor-rate in respect of, property situated in the district for which the election is held. Such a definition would rarely be suitable to India. Many men of wealth and intelligence not alone own or hold no land, but reside in houses of which the value bears no relation to their means and their stake in the country. The payment therefore of a certain rate of license-tax, and the ownership of a certain amount of personal property, should be held to qualify. But if the experiment is really to promote Local Self-Government, it is essential that both the voters and the candidates here, as in England, should have some stake in the locality. Mr. Rivers Thompson would propose, as the qualification for members, the payment of Rs. 25 road cess, or Rs. 20 license-tax, or proof of income from other sources than land, amounting to not less than Rs. 1,000 per annum. Residence within the Local Government district represented, or within five miles of its boundary, would be an essential condition of membership. For voters the qualification might be placed at Rs. 10 road cess, Rs. 10 license-tax, or Rs. 500 other income. It would also appear desirable, as in the English law, to increase the number of votes, to be given by one individual, up to 5 or 6, according to the extent of his property. It is only right that those who own a large amount of property within the jurisdiction of a Local Board should individually have a more substantial voice in its constitution than those who are only just qualified to vote. All this could be arranged by rules under the Act. I am to point out that the elective system need not necessarily be extended to the whole of a Local Government district. Each Local Government district would be divided, for the purposes of election, into wards corresponding with thanas, or, in very thickly populated tracts, smaller areas. The number of members for each would be separately settled, and they would be taken in the proportion of two elected to one nominated. A Local Government district might be entirely divided into elective wards, or one part might be so divided, the members for the other part being nominated by Government in the proportion of not more than one official to two non-official members. I am to ask that no time may be lost in preparing rough lists of the persons who would be entitled to vote according to the scale above mentioned in each sub-division in which it is believed that a Local Board might be properly established. No inquisitorial proceedings should of course be held as regards ordinary income. The road cess and license-tax lists, however, can be easily prepared, and the list of owners of private property must be made approximately to the best of the local officer's judgment. In reporting upon this part of the subject, you should discuss any modes of voting that you may consider specially suitable to any of the local districts under your charge, bearing in mind the instruction already inculcated that the sentiments and wishes of all intelligent native residents should be freely consulted. If any system of election more consonant with native feeling should be suggested, it should receive your attention. Uniformity of procedure is neither necessary nor desirable; and as regards the natives of the country, the main object to be attained is not so much at present the representation of the masses, as the gradual training of the most capable and influential men in the community to a participation in the business of the part of the district in which their interest lies. Local knowledge of local affairs should be a primary qualification for office; and from this point of view it is the Lieutenant-Governor's hope that not a few European gentlemen, resident in the interior and concerned in the development and progress of the country, will be willing to come forward as candidates for seats on the Local Boards.

11. As regards the question of the appointment of the Chairmen of Local Boards, it is possible that in places difficulties may arise, such as have been alluded to in connection with municipalities. It must be noted, however, that, whereas the chief charge of a municipality cannot be divided, the area of a Local Board need not be identical with that of the sub-division. If the work is exceptionally heavy, the sub-division will probably be very populous, and separate Local Boards may be appointed for one or more thanas. At the same time, with the restricted area under each Local Board, it would seem unnecessary to grant travelling allowances for attending meetings. If the members are unwilling to travel a few miles at their own expense, it is not probable that any of them will agree to undertake the labours and responsibilities of the Chairmanship without remuneration. The Lieutenant-Governor is prepared to admit that if Local Boards were to be left to their own devices, and if provision were not made for effective interference in the event of their neglecting their duty to the public, there would be some danger in leaving them without official direction; scandals and abuses and class-jealousies might arise which would discredit the system of Local Self-Government and entirely defeat the object now in view. Some control therefore must be exercised either from within or from without; and having regard not alone to the desirability of fostering intelligent and independent interest in local affairs and of promoting the political education of the people, but also to the daily increasing burden of work on public officers, Mr Rivers Thompson has no doubt that, where it is possible to provide effectively for the second kind of control, we should have recourse to it. There may be sub-divisions where it would be preferable to maintain the local executive officer as Chairman of the Local Board in order to avoid a certainty of failure; but as a rule this should not be necessary with the provision for control which will be referred to below. In the majority of cases, where a Local Board has been created at all, it should be possible to find a non-official member able and willing to direct its deliberations. The local executive officer will have ample means of supervising and controlling the proceedings of the Board by his own personal influence, or, in the last resort, by invoking the interference of superior authority. I am to ask you therefore, bearing in mind these considerations and those referred to in the second paragraph of this letter, to report regarding each Local Board whether it is necessary that the Sub-divisional Officer should be Chairman; and if so, whether he should have a vote in the proceedings of the Board, or whether Government should appoint some other official or some non-official to be Chairman, or should accept the nomination of the Board itself.

12. Some of the powers to be entrusted to Local Boards have been enumerated in paragraphs 12 to 20 of my letter to the Government of India, No. 921½, dated 8th April. For the purpose of providing the means of improving drainage, water-supply, and sanitation, and to supplement for general purposes the funds to be definitely surrendered to them by Government, it will be necessary to empower them to levy a local rate of which the proceeds will be credited, with their income from other sources, to the "Local District Fund." The Government of India suggest that, instead of making over to them fixed grants from the Provincial Revenues to supplement the receipts from pounds and ferries, and enable them to meet the charges transferred to them, the license-tax assessments and collections should be made over to them and to municipalities. These collections, however, would in many places, particularly in municipalities, largely exceed any charges that Government could transfer to them; and a share, to be fixed separately for each Board, is all that could be surrendered. Your opinion is invited upon this point, with any suggestions that you may have to offer in regard to the Public Works Cess or other source of revenue.

13. It is a part of the proposed scheme that Municipalities should be kept distinct from other Local Boards, as they are at present, and that there should be no general district council. Any new provisions that may be required in regard to municipalities will be considered in connection with the amendment of the General Municipal Act. In view of the extensive powers to be entrusted to Local Boards, it appears very desirable to abolish many of the existing unions, especially in the Patna, Gya and Hooghly districts, and some perhaps of the smaller municipalities. It will be also necessary to make some special provision for the control and support of the zillah schools. The best arrangement would appear to be to appoint, in each case, a managing board, partly from the Municipal Committee, and partly from the Local Board of the head-quarters sub-division. Where a local Government district is not created, the school will of course remain, as at present, under the District Committee. The contribution to be made in the first case by the municipality and each Local Board in the district, and in the second case by the municipality only, will be fixed every year by the Director of Public Instruction. Other questions between municipalities and adjoining Local Boards, such as those relating to ferries on the boundary, repairs of highways leading to such ferries, or to ferries just inside or just outside municipal boundaries, and the like, must be settled between the authorities concerned, a final reference lying to the controlling body to be described in the next paragraph.

14. The control which the Government of India propose to reserve to the executive authorities is of two kinds—(1) sanction to certain acts; (2) interference to set aside proceedings, and in the event of continued neglect, absolute supersession with the sanction of the Supreme Government. Your opinion is requested on the first point. One matter in regard to which a controlling power should certainly be reserved is a limit of expenditure on single works without special sanction. This is prescribed even in the Calcutta Municipality. As regards the second point, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to address a further communication to the Government of India. It appears to him that some less severe and more manageable procedure than absolute supersession, after reference to the Supreme Government, is required for cases in which a board neglects its duty in spite of official remonstrance. The English Statute empowers the local Government Board to issue an order limiting a time for the performance of a duty neglected by a local authority, and, in the event of continued default, to cause the work to be done at the expense of the authority. It is not possible to vest the powers of the local Government Board in the district officers. To do so would be to neutralize all the effects of the independence to be given under certain reservations to the Local Boards. Yet there must be some more ready and efficient means of compelling defaulting boards to do their duty than can be secured by detailed references to Government in each case. The true solution of the difficulty appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be the creation of a central directing body, appointed but not controlled, except in matters of general policy, by Government. This body would consist of specially selected representative members, adequately remunerated, with powers analogous to those of the Local Government Board in London. Similar powers are reserved to Government by section 318 of the Municipal Act, and these would be transferred to the Central Board of control. They would make enquiries on the reports of local officers, pass the necessary orders, dispose of all references from Municipalities and Local Boards or District Committees, sanction their bye-laws, and generally fulfil the functions of the chief controlling authority. With this safeguard, which is necessary in England, and certainly cannot be dispensed with in India, there is no reason why most of the Local Boards should not be elected and elect their own Chairmen.

15. It seems to Mr. Rivers Thompson that, under the scheme which has just been sketched out, it should be possible to give a very practical effect to the policy of Local Self-Government. After the first arrangements had been concluded, Local Government districts would only be created and Local Boards appointed, on the application of the people themselves, and after full enquiry to ascertain the presence of the two essential conditions of local interest and local knowledge. The elective system would only be introduced on the application of those entitled to vote, and no first election would be confirmed, unless a fair proportion of those qualified to vote actually voted. Local Boards would only be allowed to elect their own Chairmen if this was shown to be the public wish, and if it was considered otherwise desirable; while their own proceedings would be effectively supervised and controlled, though without undue interference, by the local executive officers and a representative Central Board. If wider liberties are possible in the future, they should be earned by the public spirit and loyal efforts of those whose co-operation the Government now invites in the inauguration and development of a great measure.

16. I am to ask that you will take immediate steps to consult the officers subordinate to you, and as many native gentlemen as you can, on the questions discussed in this letter, and its enclosures. Your general reply should be submitted not later than 15th September. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad, however, if you could submit a special report on the points referred to in paragraphs 4 and 5 before that date.

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE ORISSA PORTS FOR THE YEAR 1881-82.

No. 964, dated Cuttack, the 7th June 1882.

From—A. SMITH, Esq., Commissioner of the Orissa Division,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual report on the administration of the Orissa ports for 1881-82, as per instructions conveyed in Government order No. 2777 of the 14th August 1878.

2. The operations of each port are separately noticed.

FALSE POINT.

3. Finance.—A statement showing the collections of the port during the year, as compared with the preceding year, is given below—

PARTICULARS.	1880-81.	1881-82.	Increase.	Decrease.	REMARKS.

Total ...	17,636 7 9	11,048 12 10	1,364 5 10	7,907 0 9

4. The amount of port-dues collected during the year amounted to Rs. 10,904-8-10, against Rs. 9,540-3 in 1880-81, shewing an increase of Rs. 1,364-5-10, which is due to an increased number of vessels having visited the port during the year to export rice to foreign as well as to home ports. The increase is principally under "mail steamers." There were two extra steamers between False Point and Rangoon in connection with the movement of troops, and the tonnage of the vessels that put into the port was also otherwise greater.

5. Leaving out of account the Government contribution of Rs. 7,000, made in 1880-81 to meet the deficit balance of the Port Fund, the other decreases which require comment, are under "cash recoveries" and "miscellaneous." The decrease in the former is nominal, inasmuch as the whole amount of Rs. 595-2-2 in 1880-81 represented the salary of the Superintendent of Customs for January and February 1880 and other items erroneously charged to the Port Fund and subsequently re-credited, whereas in the year under report no such transactions took place. The decrease in the latter is chiefly due to the earnings of the harbour lighter having been less during the year.

6. The Collector reports that the figures "300" and "434-2-7," which he entered against "cash recoveries" and "miscellaneous," respectively, on account of 1880-81, and which were given accordingly in paragraph 3 of my last annual report, were subsequently altered to "595-2-2" and 484-2-7," respectively, after communication with the Accountant-General, Bengal.

7. The following statement shews the disbursements of the port during the past two years:—

Head.	Charges.	1880-81.	1881-82.	Increase.	Decrease
		Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.

Public works	Original works	2,979 14 8	.....	.....	2,979 14 8
	Establishment	448 4 8	.....	.....	448 4 8
	Total ...	11,935 4 1	6,652 9 5	99 4 1	5,381 14 9

8. The sum of Rs. 27, being the medical charges for March 1880, was paid in April, and was therefore shewn in the accounts for 1880-81. But these charges being now debited to the Medical Department, as noticed in paragraph 11 of my last annual report, do not now appear in this account.

9. The increase of Rs. 50-8 under "cargo-boat establishment" is nominal, inasmuch as fines imposed on the boatmen for neglect of duty were deducted from their pay in 1880-81. During the year under report no such deductions were made.

10. The decrease under the head "travelling" is chiefly due to the Port Officer having visited the Pooree port once only during the year instead of twice, as in the preceding year.

11. The increase under "contingencies" is due to the purchase of cocoanut seedlings for plantation at Hookeytolla.

12. The sum of Rs. 34-13 under "refund" represents the amount of port-dues erroneously levied after the enforcement of the Government notification of the 28th March 1881, and subsequently refunded

13. The decrease under "petty construction and repairs" was owing to no expenditure having been incurred under this head during the year.

14. The charges for dockyard supplies and public works not having been intimated to the Collector, have not been included in the accounts for the year under report.

15. Commercial development.—The number and tonnage of the vessels that visited the port during the year, as compared with the preceding year, are given below—

Description.	1880-81.				1881-82.
	Entered.		Cleared.		Entered.		Cleared.
	Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage	Number.	Tonnage.	Number	Tonnage.
Steamers	108	148,686	108	148,686	110	155,937	110	155,937

Total ...	131	156,475	129	156,248	135	155,875	136	165,957

16. The increase of two steamers in both arrivals and departures was owing to the visit of the two steamers which brought the 32nd Regiment, Madras native infantry, from Rangoon to be quartered at Cuttack

17. The increase in the number of sailing vessels was two in the arrivals and five in the departures, as compared with the preceding year, and was owing to the increased exportation of rice, as noticed in paragraph 4 above.

18. Subjoined is a comparative statement shewing the quantity of, and value of, grain exported to foreign and home ports during the past two years :—

Port.	1880-81.		1881-82.
	Quantity in cwt.	Value.	Quantity in cwt.	Value.
		Rs.		Rs.
Foreign ports	215,180	8,45,324	242,010	7,73,448
Home „	75,300	2,46,761	98,890	2,65,140
Total ...	290,180	10,92,085	340,900	10,38,588

19. From the above it will be seen that the quantity exported during the year exceeded that of the previous year by 50,420 cwt., while the value has decreased by Rs. 53,497, principally owing to the price of rice being lower. The increase in the quantity exported during the year, no doubt, was owing to the cheaper price at which it was procurable.

20. The following is a comparative statement shewing the quantity and value of the staple imports during the past two years :—

Description.	1880-81.		1881-82.
	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.
		Rs.		Rs.
Cotton twist	571,200lb	3,27,804	87,360lb	73,540
Piece-goods	410,864 yds.	5,70,382	51,235lb	89,733
Metal	2,980 cwt	64,921	380 cwt.	10,271
Spices	15,680lb	23,726	8,966lb	2,250
Opium	222 mds.	2,57,520	268½mds.	3,43,680
Liquor	2,733 gals.	23,726	2,307 gals.	16,143
Gunnies	83,465 no.	17,984	103,705 no.	26,588
Total ...	.....	12,86,063	.....	5,62,008

21. It will be observed from the above that cotton twist, piece-goods, metal, spices, and liquor shew a decrease, while opium and gunnies have increased, as compared with the preceding year.

22. The Collector accounts for the decrease as follows:—"It is not probable that there has been any decrease of consumption during the year, which has been in the main a prosperous one. It is owing to the diversion of the trade to Chandbally, as stated in my last annual report; and this fact is clear from the gradual increase in the number of weekly steamers running between Cuttack and Chandbally. Four steamers now ply by that route, against two in 1880-81 and one in 1879-80." This view is supported by the increased trade of the Balasore ports.

23. The increase in the value of opium, which amounted to Rs. 3,43,680, against Rs. 2,57,520 in 1880-81, was owing to a large importation of the article during the year. The item, however, includes a quantity intended for consumption in 1882-83 and imported towards the end of the year.

24. The value of the gunny-bags imported during the year has risen from Rs 17,984 in 1880-81 to Rs. 26,588, with the increased exports of rice to foreign and home ports.

25. The total trade of the port during the year, as compared with the preceding, is given below :—

	1881-82. Rs.	1881-82. Rs.
Imports	15,57,282	8,47,160
Exports	15,57,752	19,93,894
Total ...	31,15,034	28,41,054

26. It will be seen that, as compared with the previous year, there has been a decrease of Rs. 7,10,122 in the imports, while the value of exports has increased by Rs. 4,36,142. The net decrease of the trade is Rs. 2,73,980, or 8·79 per cent., due to the cause assigned in paragraph 22 above.

27. Registration of cargo-boats.—The number of cargo-boats registered during the year was 34, against 55 in the year preceding. The decrease is, as the Collector reports, due to the fact that in 1880-81 the boats used by the native merchants received licenses for a term of six months, and were registered twice during the year; but the boats used by them in 1881-82 being new and of better class, a year's license was granted to them, and they were registered once only.

28. The Collector reports that no case of throwing ballast in the harbour has come to notice during the year under review.

29. The light-house at False Point, with its excellent new dioptric light, was transferred during the year to the control of the Port Commissioners of Calcutta. Vide Government order No. 13 of the 6th January last.

30. Improvements.—The Kendraparah canal, which up to the preceding year terminated at Marsaghye on the Noona, has during the year been extended to Jumboo, the lock at that station, which had for so many years baffled the Engineers, having been completed at last. Direct canal communication between Cuttack and the harbour has thus been secured. The telegraph had been extended from Jumboo to Hookeytollah, as I reported last year. Cuttack, False Point, and Jumboo are now connected by telephone, and the arrangements for connecting the False Point Lighthouse have been sanctioned. As soon as the work is completed, passing vessels will be able to communicate with Calcutta.

31. The harbour has been surveyed during the year by a professional party from the Marine Department. The result is not yet known, but it cannot fail to be useful to the shipping visiting the port.

32. Of minor improvements, the old fairway buoy has been replaced by a new one. The other buoys have been overhauled, painted, and are reported to be in position. Some additional cocoanut seedlings were imported from Colombo for the plantation intended to regulate the sand drift at Hookeytollah.

33. The clearing of the creeks from Hansooa to Jumboo facilitated communication between False Point and the north-eastern side of the Cuttack district and the south-western portion of Balasore. The statistics of the different ports, however, shew that if this work has brought any new trade to False Point, it has diverted some old trade to the Chandbally route.

POOREE.

34. Finance.—A comparative statement showing the collections of the port during the past two years is given below—

Particulars.	1880-81.	1881-82.	Increase.	Decrease.

Total ...	1 354 0 1	544 10 11	.....	809 5 2

35. From the above it will be seen that the amount of port dues collected during the year was Rs. 544-10-11, against Rs. 1,304-0-1 in the year preceding. This falling off, the Collector says, is chiefly due to the fact that in the year under report no special steamer of the British India Steam Navigation Company visited the port. The mail steamers of the Company which call pay port dues at False Point both for that port and for Pooree.

36. The decrease of port-dues on "native vessels" was owing to a smaller number of sailing vessels having visited the port during the year for causes to be noticed further on.

37. The "other trading steamers" which called at the port and paid port-dues are noted in the margin, with the amount paid by each.

38. The subjoined statement shows the disbursements of the port during the last two years :—

Particulars.		1880-81.			1881-82.			Increase.			Decrease.
		Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.

Total ...		903	11	2	883	0	8	27	3	6	47	14	0

39. It will be observed from the above that there has been a net decrease of Rs. 20-10-6 during the year as compared with the preceding year. The fluctuations are noticed below.

40. The decrease under "lighthouse establishment" was owing to fines having been levied from a lighter for neglect of his duty, and that of "contingencies" under the same head was due to the fact that the requirements during the year were less than in the year preceding.

41. The petty increase under "establishment, vessels, and boats," was also owing to fines having been levied during the year. The amount was petty in both years, having been Rs. 2-11-4 in the one year, and one anna four pies in the other. The increase under the head "contingencies, vessels, and boats," was due to the purchase of an almirah for Rs. 26 for keeping records.

42. The Cuttack and Pooree ports have a joint port fund, but the transactions are separately shown for the purpose of this report.

43. Commercial development.—The number and the tonnage of the vessels that visited the port during the year, as compared with the preceding year, are given below :—

Description.	1880-81.				1881-82
	Entered.		Cleared.		Entered.		Cleared.
	Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage.
Steamers	31	36,930	31	36,930	19	25,017	19	25,017
Sailing vessels	12	1,904	10	1,557	2	423	4	770
Total ...	43	38,834	41	38,487	21	25,440	23	25,787

44. In the number of vessels that entered the port during the year there was a decrease of 12 steamers of 11,913 tons and of 10 sailing vessels of 1,481 tons, or a total decrease of 22 vessels of 13,394 tons as compared with the preceding year. There was a corresponding decrease of 12 steamers and six sailing vessels with 12,700 tons in the aggregate in the departures.

45. The Collector accounts for this considerable decrease as follows :—"In the early part of the year the sea was so rough that several steamers that had intended to call here were unable to communicate with the shore, and so passed on. But the chief cause was the depression in the local rice trade. The British India Steam Navigation Company (which is almost the only Company whose steamers call here) found their business so poor that they gave up running their fortnightly steamers regularly, and only called when a sufficient cargo had been secured beforehand, and if they had space to spare for it. The falling off in the sailing vessels is due to the same cause. Rice was exceptionally cheap at Balasore, and the Deccan merchants took their supplies thence to a great extent." This view would seem to be supported by the increased quantity of rice exported from the Balasore ports.

46. The following statement shows the quantity and value of grain exported to foreign and home ports during the past two years :—

Port.	1880-81.		1881-82.
	Quantity in cwt.	Value.	Quantity in cwt.	Value.
		Rs.		Rs.
Foreign ports	20,655	52,123	16,622	33,936
Home „	35,450	78,227	22,172	46,046
Total ...	56,105	1,30,350	38,794	79,982

47. The decrease, the Collector says, was partly due to the demand of rice being less in Ceylon and the Madras Presidency than in the previous year, and partly to the comparative cheapness of rice in Calcutta and Balasore, whence larger shipments were made. There was also a considerable diversion of the salt trade from Pooree to Ganjam, and the traders found it advantageous to convey rice in the carts intended to bring back salt. Thus a considerable quantity of rice was exported from the district by land.

48. Subjoined is a comparative statement showing the staple imports of the port during the past two years :—

Particulars.	1880-81.		1881-82.
	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value.
		Rs.		Rs.
Treasure	.....	16,500	.....	.....
Gunny-bags	34,940 no.	8,291	4,150 no.	1,055
Piece-goods	64,060 yds.	9,812	.....	.....
Spices	55,651 lb	6,214	.....	.....
Provisions	1,568 lb	826	498 lb	204
Total ...	.....	41,643	... ..	1,259

49. It will be observed from the above that there was no import of treasure, piece-goods, or spices during the year. The falling off in the first is due to the very small shipments of rice to the Madras Presidency, whence spice is generally imported for payment of the rice exported.

50. The falling off in "gunny-bags" is due to the falling off in the export of rice. The decrease in piece-goods is attributed by the Collector to the stoppage of steam communication with Calcutta during July and August owing to rough sea, which compelled the merchants to get their supplies through Chandbally viâ Cuttack.

51. The total trade of the port during the past two years is exhibited below :—

	1880-81.	1881-82.
	Rs.	Rs.
Imports	68,664	3,797
Exports	1,31,600	80,607
Total ...	2,00,264	84,404

52. From the above it will be seen that both the imports and exports have decreased by Rs. 64,867 and Rs. 50,993 respectively, as compared with the preceding year, the net decrease being Rs. 1,15,860, or 57·85 per cent. The cause of this considerable decrease may be summed up as follows. The comparative cheapness of rice at Balasore and elsewhere rendered export from Pooree (always difficult by reason of the surf) less paying. The steamers did not call owing to the smaller export. The imports consequently fell too. This was helped on by the opening of the canal from Marsaghye to Jumboo, which made communication between Chandbally and Cuttack more certain than when the Puttamundai shoal blocked the way. An extra steamer was put on the line by Government, and two or three private steamers were also put on. Extra steamers have also run between Calcutta and Chandbally. Competition has in this way lowered rates between Cuttack and Calcutta This has tempted Pooree traders to use that route in perference to the direct, but difficult and uncertain, sea route.

53. Registration of cargo-boats.—Nineteen cargo-boats were registered licensed during the year, against 33 in the year preceding. The decrease is, the Collector says, "due to the fact that owing to slackness both in the export and import trades many boat-owners did not think it worth while to put their boats into thorough repair, and consequently did not apply for license."

54. Improvements.—No works of material importance under this head were carried out during the year.

55. The Collector reports that the port light has continued to give satisfaction.

56. Casualty.—The Dexterous, a British vessel of 388 tons, was stranded within the limit of the Pooree roads. She had no cargo nor any passenger on board. She was totally wrecked, but happily there was no loss of life. This casualty was duly reported to Government in this office No. 314 of the 29th February 1882.

58. From the above it will be seen that the total collections of port-dues during the year amounted to Rs, 3,204-10-5, against Rs. 2,132-0-5 in 1880-81, showing an increase of Rs. 1,072-10, due entirely to an increased number of vessels having visited the port during the year. The other fluctuations are asual, and call for no remark.

* Charges under this head were settled in consultation with the Accountant-General, Bengal.

60. The total disbursements during the year were Rs. 7,090-12-8, against Rs. 10,410-0-8 in 1880-81, showing a decrease of Rs. 3,319-4, chiefly due to the charges incurred at the Government Dockyard and for naval stores supplied during the year not having been accounted for during the year of report. The adjustment of these charges rests with the Accountant-General, Bengal. It would, however, be convenient if timely intimation were given to the Collectors.

61. The increase under the head "Port Officer's pay and establishment" was partly due to the confirmation of the Officiating Port Officer, from the 15th June last, which has involved an additional expenditure of Rs. 90 a month since that date, and partly to the disbursement of the two pilots' full pay during the year—in 1880-81, the services of one of the pilots having been dispensed with for four and a half months in order to reduce the charges against the Port Fund. On the reduction being disallowed in Government order No. 283T of the 23rd July 1880, the discharged pilot was re-entertained from the middle of August 1881.

62. The items (a, b, and c) were special charges sanctioned by Government, and will be noticed under the head "improvements." The fluctuations under other heads are small.

63. Commercial development.—The number and tonnage of the vessels that visited the port during the last two years are exhibited below :—

	Entered.		Cleared.
	Number	Tonnage.	Number	Tonnage.
1880-81 ...	287	52,049	391	55,903
1881-82 ...	520	77,594	509	74,538

64. From the above it will be observed that there is an increase of 233 vessels of 25,545 tons in the arrivals, and 118 vessels of 18,635 tons in the departures, as compared with the preceding year. The increase is in keeping with the general increase of trade, and is partly due to a further development of the passenger traffic, to be noticed hereafter.

65. Subjoined is a comparative statement showing the quantity and value of grain exported to foreign and home ports during the past two years :—

Particulars	1880-81.		1881-82.
	Quantity in cwt.	Value.	Quantity in cwt	Value
		Rs.		Rs.
Foreign ports	141,896	2,71,947	178,424	3,28,881
Home „	376,608	7,20,054	404,860	8,03,164
Total ...	518,504	9,92,001	583,284	11,32,045

66. The price of rice, low as it was in the previous year in comparison with the year preceding, as will be seen from the figures given in the margin for 1879-80, fell still further in the year under report, which circumstance probably led to its being largely exported. Thus, though the quantity of grain exported during the year has increased by 64,780 cwt. in comparison with the year 1880-81, the value amounted to less than one-half what it was two years ago.

Ports	1879-80. Quantity. Cwt.	Value Rs
Foreign ports ..	144,047	4,60,581
Home „ ..	510,990	20,69,154
Total .	655,037	25,29,735

67. The following statement shows the quantity and value of the staple imports during the past two years :—

Particulars	1880-81.		1881-82.
	Quantity.	Value.	Quantity.	Value
		Rs.		Rs.
Piece-goods ...	5,783,017 yds.	8,23,349	7,393,207 yds.	9,80,836

Total ...	... ..	27,90,650	.....	35,69,257

68. It is satisfactory to notice that with the growing importation of twist the trade in piece-goods is also increasing. The twist, so largely imported, is extensively used in the manufacture by handloom of coarse cloth, which appears to be largely used by the lower classes on account of its durability in comparison with machine-made piece-goods. The recent abolition of duty on cotton piece-goods will, it is believed, lead to a further expansion of the trade in them. The increase in all of these articles is a healthy feature, indicating the prosperity of the people.

69. The total trade of the port during the last two years is exhibited below :—

	1880-81	1881-82.
	Rs.	Rs.
Imports	41,69,524	51,48,069
Exports	47,33,200	47,68,283
Total ...	89,02,724	99,16,352

70. It is satisfactory to notice that both imports and exports have increased by Rs. 9,78,545 and Rs. 35,083 respectively over the preceding year, the aggregate increase being Rs. 10,13,628, or 11·38 per cent. It has been already noticed in previous parts of this report that parts of the increase are diversions of trade from False Point and Pooree; but after making full allowance for these diversions, the trade shows very satisfactory progress.

The figures of the two years are distributed over the different ports as follows:—

Name of Ports	Import.		Export
	1880-81.	1881-82	1880-81	1881-82.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Balasore	4,57,607	7,22,201	5,56,955	11,89,006

Total ...	41,69,524	51,48,069	47,33,200	47,68,283

71. Registration of cargo-boats.—The number of boats registered during the year, as compared with the year preceding, is given below:—

Port.	1880-81.	1881-82.
Balasore	24	...
Suburnrekha	3	27

Churamun and Lychunpore	5	...
Chandbally	...	...
Dhamra	...	...

Total ...	32	27

The decrease is insignificant, and calls for no remark.

72. The passenger traffic during the last two years stood as follows:—

	Arrivals	Departures
1880-81	48,544	48,491
1881-82	61,381	63,426

73. The increase is marked in both arrivals and departures. From the figures given in the margin for 1879-80, it will appear that the passenger traffic has largely increased during the last two years. The cause I believe to be the general progress of the country and the increased facilities afforded by the several steamers competing with each other for the trade of the port.

	Arrivals.	Departures.

74. The Collector reports that the two pilots, in addition to their duty of piloting vessels, put up marks, tide-gauges, paint-baskets, and small buoys, &c., and the Port Officer entertains a high opinion of them.

75. Improvements.—The flagstaff at Chandipore, at the entrance of the Balasore river, has been repaired at a cost of Rs. 689-9-3, and a light, sanctioned in Government order No. 1770 of the 30th December 1881, is now exhibited every night on this staff, which can be seen about five miles at sea. The cost for the repairs, sanctioned in Government order No. 1212 of the 26th August last, was Rs. 683, and the Collector will be asked to report why the sanction of Government was not obtained to the expenditure of the excess Rs. 6-9-3.

76. A wooden jetty, sanctioned in Government order No. 439T, of the August 1880, was constructed at the Custom House ghât at Balasore; but having not been found so useful as was expected, it was extended during the year at a cost of Rs. 29-16-11, sanctioned in Government order No. 886T of the 1st August last. The Collector reports that it has now proved very useful for the landing and shipping of passengers and goods. This port has now weekly communication with Calcutta by the steamer Victoria belonging to Messrs. Simpson and Co. All the buoys and tidal-gauges are reported to be in good order.

77. The principal port of the district is Chandbally, which has communication twice a week with Calcutta by the steamers Sir John Lawrence, Reliance, Curlew, and Bassein. The first two leave Calcutta on Wednesdays, and the other two on Saturdays. Government runs canal steamers to meet both the Wednesday and Saturday steamers, and two private firms also run steamers to meet the Wednesday ones. The port has several landing and shipping places for the convenience of passengers and traders.

78. The buoyed channels of the Brahmini and Byturni were kept clear of all obstructions. The water over the Chandipal bar was a little deeper than 1880-81, while the north and south entrance bars remained in statu quo.

79. All the buoys with tidal gauges and marks throughout the channels were kept in good condition.

80. By the aid of the anchor-vessel Vulcan, which was hired from the Port Commissioners of Calcutta, all the buoy moorings in the Dhamra have been overhauled, supplied each with new 12 fathoms and a 1-fathom length of chain with swivel; their shackles and forelocks have been renewed. The buoys have been scraped, cleaned, and painted; but the latter work was represented by the Collector to have been done badly. The matter has been reported to Government in this office No. 787 of the 11th May last. The two fourth-class iron nunn buoys in the Chandipal bar have been similarly overhauled. The six small iron nunn buoys in the upper Brahmini and Byturni were overhauled, examined, and painted by the assistance of the pilot-boat.

81. All the beacons and baskets, as well as the red-painted posts demarcating the projections of the river-bank, have been cleaned, painted, and are in good condition. The bamboo beacon on Shortt's Island is also in good condition.

82. In addition to the two mooring buoys previously existing at Chandbally ghât, another has been placed during the year for the convenience of steamers. These buoys have been painted and are in good order.

83. Cocoanut, palm, date, and other trees were planted on Shortt's Island at the mouth of the Dhamra or Chandbally river during the year. Some of them died and others are growing well. They will afford a good landmark when they grow up, if they survive. A well to the depth of 8 feet was dug up for the purpose of watering them. The water found is brackish during the cold weather, but the Collector hopes it may become sweet during the rains

84. The proposal to utilize the iron lighter lying useless at Chandbally as a landing stage for the use of passengers travelling by both Government steamers, noticed in paragraph 79 of my last annual report, has now been abandoned. The construction of the stage was found to be unnecessarily expensive, and it has been proposed to sell the lighter by public auction.

85. The following projects in connection with the improvement of the port have been sanctioned by Government, and will probably be carried out during the current financial year. A new third-class light has been sanctioned in Government order No. 645 of the 3rd May last for Shortt's Island. This island is situated at the mouth of the Dhamra, and the vessels from Calcutta to Chandbally, which frequently arrive after dark, will find this light very useful. In its No. 1767 of the 30th December, a masonry well at a cost of Rs. 195 has also been sanctioned for this island. It will be useful for the plantation; and should any accident ever throw a wrecked crew on the island, it may afford fresh water. A row-boat with a cabin, at a cost of Rs 4,000, has also been sanctioned in Government No. 383 of the 23rd March last, to enable the Port Officer to overhaul the buoys and perform other duties requiring the use of a vessel that will stand something of a sea.

86. Of the other ports Mr. Beadon says:—"The remaining ports were all inspected by me, but not by the Port Officer at Chandbally. It came to my notice during the year, on account of the great increase of export from Lychunpore, that small buoys, about five miles out at sea, opposite the mouths of the rivers of the minor ports are necessary to enable the Captains of vessels frequenting them to show exactly where they are. But the matter is deferred till Government sanctions the stores and buoys indented for during the year, and till the Port Officer has a row-boat by the aid of which he can lay the buoys. The transactions at the minor ports have been confined, except at Lychunpore, to the visit of native sloops bringing coal and miscellaneous articles from Calcutta and taking rice. At Lychunpore two large English ships loaded rice for the Mauritius."

87. Casualty.—The Collector reports under this head as follows:—"There were several casualties of native crafts in the course of the year in the Suburnrekha and the Sartha, owing to the high winds which prevailed in February. A boat of the Canal Department also was overturned, and two lives lost, as it was coasting along to the Suburnrekha."

88. The Port Officers of False Point and Balasore, Messrs. Gray and Palmer, have performed their duties satisfactorily during the year.

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE JUTE WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT IN HOWRAH FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

No. 286, dated Chinsurah, the 22nd June 1882.

From—JOHN BEAMES, Esq., Commissioner of the Burdwan Division,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Medical and Municipal Deptartment.

I HAVE the honour to submit in original a printed report on the working of the Jute Warehouse and Fire-brigade Act in the Howrah Municipality for the year 1881-82.

2. During the year 24 out of 41 jute and cotton warehouses were licensed, and the income from license fees amounted to Rs. 4,100; Rs. 5 were also realized as fines under the Act. There has been a falling off in the aggregate income by Rs. 555, as compared with that of the previous year, when a similar decrease in the income was also reported. The decrease in both these years is ascribed to the fact that there is no provision in the Act for granting licenses for broken periods of a year: many owners have therefore ceased to carry on their trade to avoid paying license fee for a whole year.

3. The expenditure on account of the inspection of jute warehouses was the same as incurred in the previous year, viz. Rs. 601.

4. In 1880-81 four fires broke out, which occurred in bustees, but during the year under report there were 31 fires within the municipality. The loss of property on these occasions has been estimated at Rs. 1,51,303-11, of which the sum of Rs. 1,50,000 represents the value of property destroyed by the recent fire that broke out in Nasmyth's Press.

5. The reorganization of the Fire-brigade is under consideration as far as it goes, though probably not sufficient to meet the requirements of the town; it has been well worked and has done good service.

HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY.

Annual Report on the Administration of the Jute Warehouse Act V (B.C.) of 1879 during the year 1881-82.

THE following is a report on the working of the Jute Warehouse and Fire-brigade Act in this Municipality for the official year ending the 31st March 1882

Inspection and licensing of warehouses

2. During the year there were 24 jute and cotton warehouses licensed, out of 41. Many of the owners of jute warehouses have ceased to carry on the trade, because under the present Act they are liable for the license fee for the whole year, there being no provision to grant licenses for broken periods.

3. There was only one new jute warehouse established during the year, and that was by the Howrah Mills Company. Plans were duly submitted to the Commissioners at a special meeting as required by the Act.

4. The total income amounted to Rs. 4,105, under the following heads.—

	Rs.	A.	P.
License fees	4,100	0	0
Total ...	4 105	0	0

5. There has been a further falling off in the income as compared with that of the previous year by Rs. 555, owing to a large firm not having taken out a license.

6. A list specifying the jute warehouses for which licenses were granted is given in Appendix I.

7. The expenditure on the inspection of jute warehouses amounted to Rs. 601.

	Rs.	A.	P.

Fire-brigade.

8. During the year the Fire-brigade establishment was placed under the control of the Police, the Reserve Force Inspector being made the Superintendent of the Brigade. On the whole, this arrangement has proved satisfactory, as it admits of utilizing the Police to a greater extent than under the former system.

9. There were 31 fires within the Municipality during the year. The majority of these fires were confined to thatched huts, and the losses sustained were trifling. There was, however, a large fire on the premises of the Nasmyth's Patent Press Company, where a very large quantity of jute was totally destroyed The Brigade attended as promptly as practicable and did its best, but, as is invariably the case, the fire proved too strong and rapid, and no impression could be made upon it. Attention was then directed to a wooden bridge which connected the warehouse in which the fire had originated with another warehouse in which a large quantity of jute was stored. The engines were made to play on the bridge while it was cut away, and so the property was entirely saved. The Brigade was aided by a steam-engine from the Calcutta Fire-brigade, but even that failed to make any appreciable impression upon the jute that had taken fire. At the same time the Commissioners are sensible of the timely help afforded by the Calcutta Fire-brigade. To give some idea of the nature of a jute fire, it may be noted that, although the conflagration alluded to occurred on the 21st February last, there is still some jute on fire within the premises. A statement of the particulars of the fires that occurred during the year is given in Appendix II.

10. The Brigade consists of one large and three small manual engines, and these have done good service in arresting small fires, but they are not strong enough to cope with fires in jute warehouses. It is therefore very desirable that a steam-engine should be added to the Brigade, and the Commissioners are now considering how funds can be provided for the purpose

11. The following is an abstract of the expenditure in the Fire-brigade Department during the year.—

	Rs.	A.	P.
1 Superintendent at Rs. 100, and 25	374	15	6
Personal allowance	385	0	0
2 Tindals at Rs. 9	216	0	0
2 Do at Rs. 8	192	0	0
18 Khalasees at Rs. 6	1,313	0	0
2 Syces at Rs. 6	114	0	0
Feed and keep of horses	284	3	3
Rewards, ...	22	12	0
Repairs to engines	689	9	0
Other contingencies	163	14	6
Total ...	3,787	3	0

The mean pressure, temperature &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

t thunder, d drizzling rain, o overcast, g gloomy, p passing temporary showers.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2·50° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The 7th July 1882.—Under the provisions of section 3, Regulation VI of 1819, the Lieutenant-Governor directs that the Mahamooda ferry over the river Chundun in the village of Kumruth, in the Bhagulpore district, on the road from Bhagulpore to Umerpore, be declared a public ferry.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd July 1882.—It is hereby notified for general information that under section 10 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876 (the Bengal Municipal Act), the Lieutenant-Governor declares the following to be the boundaries of the Rampore Beauleah Municipality in the district of Rajshahye, in supersession of those specified in the Government notification of the 3rd April 1875.

On the south, the left bank of the Padma.

On the east, first a line running directly south from the pucca pillar at the end of the Talimari embankment to the river bank, and secondly a line running north-east from the same pillar along the old Surdah road to its bifurcation with the Nattore road; thence a line along the Nattore road up to a banian tree east of the pucca building formerly used as Mr. Gallois' kutcherry in Ramchunderpore; thence a line along a foot-path which strikes off to the north, skirting Lall Behari Baboo's house, and joins the Seroil kutcha road and continues to Seeb Mohul.

On the north from this point the northern boundary follows another foot-path to the Nowhatta road near the Government distillery; thence it follows the Nowhatta road as far as the south-east corner of Golabsha's tank, then passes along the southern border of this tank, and continues along a foot-path which skirts the Kadergunge road immediately south of Dallalsha's tank. It then follows the Hetumkhan and Fakirparah roads to the Lukhipore metalled road. Thence it proceeds in a westerly direction along the Lukhipore metalled road to the Mohesbathun kutcha road, and along the latter road to the Tanore kutcha road, a distance of nearly a mile.

On the west from the junction of the Moheshbathan and Tanore roads, it runs in a southerly direction along the Tanore road till it meets a kutcha road which runs nearly parallel to and at a distance of about 100 yards from the Beauleah Godagaree district road. Then turning west, it proceeds along the latter road for a distance of about 260 yards to a pucca pillar, and then again, turning south, it proceeds to a large pepul tree on the Beauleah Godagaree district road, and thence to a large mangoe tree about 12 chains west of the circuit-house, and thence to the Government embankment south of the cutcherries, &c.; thence along the retired embankment to the place where it joins the Godagaree road near Kodaikatee ferry ghât, and thence to a wooden post fixed about two chains west of the ghât.

NOTIFICATION.

The 8th July 1882.—In the exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 13 Act V (B.C.) of 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor declares that portions of the villages of Gongwarah, Saidnagar, and Garoora, which lie on the outskirts of the eastern boundary of the Durbhunga Municipality, be included within the limits of the said municipality. The boundaries of the municipality, after the inclusion within its limits of the portions of the above villages referred to, will be as follows:—On the north by mohallas Azamnagar, Bishoonpore Taj, Soodhan Basdeopur, Mohesahputtee, and Bela, and by the Pandoul road as far as its junction with the Gongwarah road; on the east by the Gongwarah road and mohallah Luchmisagar; and thence south to Pundasarai by the line of the Tirhoot State Railway; on the west by mohallahs Punda sarai, Laheria sarai, Khoja sarai, Saidnagar, Bulbhudurpore. Backergunge sarai, Suttar Khan, Maharajgunge, Dumduma, and Jamalpura; thence by the right bank of the river Bagmattee to Mahdauli; thence by mohallahs Mahdauli, Bazidpore, Ratnooputti and Subhunkerpore; and thence by the river Bagmattee to mohallah Azamnagar.

The mohallahs mentioned above shall be considered as lying wholly within the municipality.

The notification dated the 27th June 1877, pubished at page 769, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 4th July 1877, is hereby cancelled.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th July 1882.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 7 of the Petroleum Act, 1881, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules to regulate the importation of petroleum —

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) All words and expressions used in these rules and defined in the Act shall in these rules have the meanings respectively assigned to them by the Act.

(2) In these rules—

"Petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum.

Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment, of such description as the Local Government may, from time to time, by written order prescribe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by a certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report signed by the Chemical Examiner to Government, and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

IMPORTATION AT CALCUTTA.

2 The master of every ship bound for Calcuttta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot*—

(a) what quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying;

(b) whether any, and if so what, part of it is dangerous petroleum; and (c) whether any, and if so what part of it is certificated petroleum.

Where the master declares that any petroleum is certificated petroleum, he shall produce to the pilot the certificates covering the same.

3. A ship having on board any petroleum declared dangerous shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge until that petroleum has been discharged.

4 A ship having on board any uncertificated petroleum shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge until that petroleum has been either discharged or reported not dangerous

5. A ship having on board only certificated petroleum or petroleum reported not dangerous, or both, may proceed upwards as far as Mutteea Brooj Ghât, but shall not proceed further until that petroleum has been discharged, unless the quantity of the petroleum does not exceed 500 gallons, in which case she may proceed to any mooring in the port.

6. (1) When a ship is stopped at Budge-Budge under rule 4, or at Mutteea Brooj Ghât under rule 5, the Superintendent of River Police, or one of his assistants, shall as soon as possible go on board and obtain samples—in the former case, of all the uncertificated petroleum, and if there is certificated petroleum on board which, together with the uncertificated petroleum, amounts to more than 500 gallons, of that certificated petroleum; in the latter case, of all the petroleum on board which has not been reported not dangerous.

(2) The master shall give to the Superintendent or his assistant a sample of every variety of petroleum comprised in the petroleum of which samples are to be taken under clause (1), and shall, if the Superintendent or his assistant so require, take those samples from the particular receptacles indicated by him.

(3) The Superintendent or his assistant shall forthwith seal the receptacles containing the samples, and having labelled them with the name of the ship, the name of the consignee, and such other distinguishing marks as may be necessary, shall forward them to the Chemical Examiner for report; and the Chemical Examiner, having tested them, shall sign a report declaring that they are or are not dangerous petroleum (as the case may be), and forward that report to the office of the Port Commissioners, where it shall be deposited.

7 If the petroleum declared or reported dangerous, or both together, on board a ship exceed 40 gallons, no portion of that petroleum shall be landed unless the whole of it is covered by an import license granted under section 4 of the Act

8. If the uncertificated petroleum on board a ship exceeds 40 gallons, no portion of it shall be landed until the Chemical Examiner's report in respect of it has been deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners as hereinbefore provided.

9 If there is on board a ship uncertificated petroleum in respect of which the Chemical Examiner's report has not been deposited as hereinbefore provided, and also petroleum declared or reported dangerous and the aggregate exceeds 40 gallons, no portion thereof shall be landed unless the aggregate is covered by an import license granted under section 4 of the Act.

10. If the certificated petroleum on board a ship exceeds 500 gallons, no portion of that petroleum shall be landed unless it is reported not dangerous.

* The pilot should deliver this declaration to the harbour master or his assistant when the latter comes on board.

11. When petroleum is landed within the port—

(1) it shall be landed only in covered cargo-boats, and after sunrise and before sunset;

(2) if landed on the Calcutta bank of the river, it may be landed at Nemuck Mahal Ghât, or at any ghât or landing stage lower down the river;

(3) if landed on the Howrah bank of the river, it may be landed at the ghât immediately to the east of the Royal Botanical Gardens;

(4) it shall not, without the written permission of the Port Commissioners, be landed at any other ghât than those named above.

(5) No smoking, fire, or light of any description shall be allowed in any cargo-boat during the time that the petroleum is on board the boat.

12. All petroleum landed at the ghat on the Howrah bank of the river, mentioned in Rule 11, shall be carried at once from the boat in which the petroleum has been conveyed to the ghât (without being deposited or stacked on the ground) to the north side of the gate leading into the Royal Botanical Gardens, and shall not be deposited or stacked within 50 yards to the north of a line drawn through the pillars of that gate.

13. When the petroleum declared or reported dangerous, or both, on board a ship amounts to more than 40 gallons, and is not covered by an import license granted under section 4 of the Act, and the master desires to proceed above Budge-Budge, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, grant to any person a license to possess that petroleum at such place for such time and subject to such undertaking by such person for the re-exportation of that petroleum at the expiration of that time as it thinks fit; and may, notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, permit that petroleum to be landed and delivered to that person in such manner and subject to such conditions as it thinks fit.

IMPORTATION AT OTHER PORTS.

14. The master of every ship conveying petroleum shall on entering a port in the Lower Provinces of Bengal other than the port of Calcutta give intimation of the quantity and description of the petroleum to the Magistrate of the district, and shall not allow more than three gallons of dangerous petroleum to be removed from the ship for delivery to any one person, except upon the production by the consignee or his agent of a license under section 4 or section 5 of the Act (as the case may be) to possess the same.

GENERAL.

15. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum comprised in a ship's stores and manifested as such, provided it is not of unreasonably large amount. If any question arises as to whether any petroleum manifested as ship's stores is of an unreasonably large amount, the decision thereon of the Port Commissioners in Calcutta and of the Magistrate of the district elsewhere shall be final.

NOTIFICATION.

Quarantine Rules for the Port of Calcutta.

The 18th July 1882.—In exercise of the power conferred by Act I of 1870, the following rules for quarantine against cholera, have been made by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council. They will, as a temporary measure, take effect from this date in the port of Calcutta :—

I. The commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from the island of Sumatra or from the port of Batavia in the island of Java where cholera prevails, shall, on arrival at the Sandheads, hoist a yellow flag, and indicate by signal the port from which she has come, and shall keep such flag and signal flying until permitted to take it down as hereinafter provided.

II. Such commander shall not, without having first obtained permission as hereinafter provided, allow any communication with the shore or with any other vessel or boat, excepting only with the boat supplying the pilot* from the pilot brig, and in that case communication shall be limited to receiving on board the pilot, his leadsman, servant, and baggage.

* N B.—Pilotage is compulsory for all vessels over 100 tons.

III. The pilot shall not take such vessel higher up the river than Royapore, but shall anchor it there until the Health Officer of the port has visited it and ascertained by enquiry whether any person on board is then suffering, or has during the voyage suffered, from cholera ; and if such officer is satisfied by enquiry that no such case has occurred, he shall, by writing under his hand, to be delivered to the commander, permit such vessel to haul down the yellow flag and proceed upwards to the port, and to hold free communication with the shore and with other vessels and boats in port.

IV. If the Health Officer shall have reason to believe that any such case has occurred, he shall direct the commander to detain the vessel at the quarantine anchorage at Royapore for the space of 15 days from the day of arrival there, or from the date of the occurrence of the latest case of illness, and shall further direct the commander to prohibit, during the said 15 days, all communication, except such as is hereinafter provided for, between such vessel and the shore, or other vessels or boats in the harbour. The Health Officer may further direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from sickness, and whose services may not be required on board the ship, to such particular spots as may from time to time be fixed upon by the local Government as places of quarantine, there to remain for a space of 15 days, or, in the event of the occurrence of a case of sickness, for a space of 15 days from the date of the occurrence of the last case. The Health Officer may permit the pilot, with his leadsman and servants, to leave the vessel at any time after such precautionary disinfection of their persons and baggage as he may think necessary, or may direct that they remain in quarantine along with the passengers and crew.

V. Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as may be deemed necessary by the Health Officer to prevent the spread of the disease.

VI. It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to the vessel in quarantine of all supplies of provisions, stores, and other articles required by those on board. These supplies should be placed on the boats of the vessel, to be subsequently removed by members of her crew.

NOTIFICATION.

The 1st July 1882.—Under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, it is hereby notified that the number of registered candidates for the office of Sub-Deputy Collector still unprovided for considerably exceeds one hundred. It is improbable that new candidates for this department of the public service can expect to obtain appointments within any reasonable time. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks it desirable to give publicity to this fact, as it may save disappointment to many, and may induce some intending candidates to choose for themselves some other career.

Mr. R. L. Heinig, Bengal—from the 15th June 1882.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, are republished for general information :—

No. 22-8.

ORDER—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read the following :—

No. 470, dated 20th April 1882.

RESOLUTION—By the Govt. of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

THE Governor-General in Council has resolved to publish with the annual Finance and Revenue Accounts of the Government of India a statement shewing the receipts and expenditure of all Municipalities, as well as of all Excluded Local Funds which are on the books of the Accountants-General, in order that a complete account of the whole income and expenditure connected with the administration of the country may be readily available from one source.

2. This statment will not form an integral part of the combined accounts of the Empire under the three heads of "Imperial," "Provincial," and "Local" as they have been hitherto prepared, but will only be in the nature of an appendix intended to supplement the information contained in the Accounts; and the responsibility for the correctness of the statement will lie with the local authorities entrusted with the management of the municipal and other funds in question.

3. The accounts of municipalities will be in the form given in the appendix to this Resolution, and there will be no difficulty in preparing them, as, under instructions from Her Majesty's Secretary of State, the municipalities have already to furnish to the local Governments almost the same information for submission to the Government of India in the Home Department. All these accounts are now made up for the official year, except only those for the municipalities of Calcutta and Bombay, and the Corporations of these cities have been requested to conform to the general practice.

4. The Local Governments will consolidate these accounts into one statement for each Province, and transmit it direct to the Comptroller-General, so as to reach him not later than the 30th November of the year succeeding that to which they relate, for inclusion in the Finance and Revenue Accounts of the year.

5. The Comptroller-General will issue further appropriate instructions to the several Accountants-General for the submission of statements of the excluded local funds, which should contain sufficient details of the sources of income of each fund and of the character of the expenditure incured therefrom.

6. The accounts of municipalities and of the excluded local funds will be collected together in one statement, to be called 2(b), which will be inserted in its proper place in the Finance and Revenue Accounts.

7. The Comptroller-General will also prepare a statement, to be called 2(a), shewing in detail for each Province the distribution of the revenue and expenditure at present included in the General Accounts under the three heads "Imperial," "Provincial," and "Local" on the lines of No. III of the statements published with the Financial Statement of the Government of India.

8. The Governor-General in Council desires that Local Governments will take immediate measures for the submission of the statements for the year 1881-82, in order that they may appear in the Finance and Revenue Accounts of that year.

9. The Municipal budget estimates, which are at present submitted to the Government of India in the Department of Finance, will be no longer required.

Ordered that this Resolution be communicated to the Home Department for information, and to the several Local Governments and Administrations, and to the Comptroller-General for information and for the issue of further necessary orders ORDERED that the foregoing be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

Wherever there is a special establishment for a particular purpose only, it should be shewn under the head to which that purpose belongs, and not under the head of General Establishments.

† If the Public Works Establishment be employed partly upon works connected with any of the other heads, the share of the charges debitable to those heads should be shewn under those heads, and not under (E).

No. 2301.—The following Addenda and Corrigenda to the Codes of the Financial Department are published for general information :—

CIVIL PENSION CODE.

Page 3.

Section 7.

Substitute the following for the first sentence of the Section :—

"The Rules in Sections 8 and 9 apply to Officers transferred on or after the 14th October 1871 from qualifying service to Foreign service, and, as regards the rates of contribution, have effect from the 10th June 1882."†

Section 8 (a).

Substitute the following for the Section :—

8. (a) From every Officer transferred in the manner specified in Section 7, who does not wholly resign the service of the British Government, or who is not, for recorded special and public reasons, exempted from the operation of the Rules in this Chapter, a contribution is levied as follows :—

(A) In the case of a Covenanted Civil Servant ;—at the rate of 16⅔ per cent. (one-sixth) on the gross salary which he receives from his Foreign employers ;

(B) In the case of any other Officer ;—at the rate of 14⅓ per cent. (one-seventh) on the gross salary which he receives from his Foreign employers : provided always that the contribution from an Uncovenated Officer shall in no case exceed Rs. 166⅔ a month, that is to say, the Officer receives from his foreign employers salary fixed in accordance with the Rules of the Public Service for the appointment which he holds or in which he officiates, and, retaining five-sixths or six-sevenths accordingly as he is an Officer of Class (A) or (B), pays one-six or one-seventh, as the case may be, to the Government of India.

Page 4.

Section 8(b).

Substitute "five-sixths or six-sevenths, as the case may be," for "four-fifths."

Rule 2.

Substitute "five-sixths or six-sevenths, as the case may be," for "four fifths"

Rule 3.

Substitute the following for the Rule :—

3. A Native of India not being a Convenanted Civil Servant may, by resigning all claims to allowances from the British Government during leave in respect to the period of his employment in Foreign service, contribute for pension only. In such case the contribution shall be one-eleventh of the gross salary which he receives from his Foreign employers, and shall not exceed Rs. 100 a month ; and the pension will be calculated upon the balance of salary which remains to him after the deduction.

Page 6.

Rule 13.

Substitute the following for the Rule and the example under it :—

13. The deduction made under this Section from the salary of a Covenanted Civil Servant includes the deduction made on account of his annuity. His gross salary when transferred to Foreign service should therefore be one-fifth greater than the net salary which it is intended that he should retain for himself after paying the ordinary contribution of 4 per cent. towards the cost of his annuity.

Example.—The salary of A.B., a Covenanted Civil Servant, is Rs. 1,000 ; from this he pays Rs. 40 towards cost of his annuity and retains Rs. 960 for himself If transferred to Foreign service his gross salary will be Rs. 1,152. The contribution payable to the British Government is Rs. 192.

Rule 16.

Substitute the following for the 1st sentence of the Rule :—

"The salary of an officer appointed to act for an officer on Foreign service shall be calculated as if the pay of an officer on such service were the net amount which remains to him after making his contribution ; one-fifth in the case of a Covenanted Civil Servant, one-sixth in the case of any other officer (if he contributes for both leave and pension), or 6⅔ per cent. in the case of an Inferior Servant, being added to the total sum thus calculated."

Substitute the following for the Examples :—

(1) A. B., a Covenanted Civil Servant, receiving a pay of Rs. 500 from the British Government, officiates in an appointment in Foreign service, the gross pay of which is Rs. 1,200. Deducting the sum contributed for leave and pension, the net pay of the appointment is, therefore, Rs. 1,000. A. B.'s salary is—

	Rs.
Pay	500
Acting allowance ⅓ (1,000—500)	333⅓
Salary ...	833⅓
Add ⅕ (to be contributed to the British Government)	166⅔
Gross Salary ...	1,000

(2) A. C, an Uncovenanted Officer, receiving a pay of Rs 350 from the British Government, officiates in an appointment in Foreign service, the gross pay of which is Rs 1,166⅔ Deducting the sum contributed for leave and pension, the net pay of the appointment is, therefore, Rs. 1,000. A C's salary is—

	Rs.
Pay	350
Acting Allowance, ⅓ of 1,000	200
Salary ...	550
Add ⅙ (to be contributed to the British Government)	91⅔
Gross salary ...	641⅔

(3) A D, an inferior Servant, receiving a pay of Rs 6 from the British Government, officiates in an office in Foreign service, the gross pay of which is Rs. 10-10-8. Deducting the sum contributed for pension, the net pay of the appointment is, therefore, Rs. 10. A. D s salary is—

	Rs	A.	P.
Pay ... . — ...	6	0	0
Acting Allowance, ⅓ of Rs. 10	2	0	0
Salary ..	8	0	0
Add 6¼ per cent. (to be contributed to the British Government) . .	0	8	6
Gross Salary ..	8	8	6

(4) A E, an Uncovenanted Officer, receiving a gross pay of Rs. 700 in Foreign service, and contributing for both leave and pension, is appointed to officiate in another office in Foreign service, the gross pay of which is Rs. 1,166⅔. A E's salary is—

	Rs.
Net pay	600
Acting allowance, ⅓ of Rs 1,000	200
Salary ...	800
Add ⅙ (to be contributed to the British Government) . ..	133⅓
Gross Salary	933⅓

Page 10.

Section 10.

Substitute the following for case (g), clause (2) :—

2. When an officer's services are lent for other than Imperial purposes, either in England or in a British Colony, or to a Foreign State, the officer shall, unless he is transferred to the service of the Egyptian Government, make a contribution to the Indian Exchequer in accordance with the rules in this chapter.

No. 81.

SEALED tenders in the form used in the Commissariat Department (blank forms whereof can be had on application at the Commissariat Office, Madras) will be received by the Executive Commissariat Officer at Madras until 1 o'clock P.M. on the 17th August 1882, and opened by him at the same time and place in presence of those interested, for the supply, by contract, of 149,453lb of either Indian or China black tea (the price of each description to be separately stated) to be delivered at the Commissariat Stores at Madras to the Commissariat Storekeeper-General on or before the 30th day of April 1883 free of all charges whatsoever. No payment will be made on account of such supply prior to the 30th April 1883.

2. Each tender must be accompanied by a receipt from the Secretary, Bank of Madras, acknowledging the payment of a deposit of Rs. (4,000) four thousand, or be accompanied by Government Promissory Notes to the same amount duly endorsed over to the Executive Commissariat Officer, Madras, and in default of both of such deposits the tender will be rejected. Tenders to be sealed and superscribed "Tender for Tea."

3. The deposit of the successful competitor will be retained until he lodges with the Executive Commissariat officer at Madras the sum of Rs. (16,000) sixteen thousand, either in cash or in Government Promissory Notes. If the latter, the notes to be endorsed over to the Executive Commissariat Officer, Madras, for the time being as security for the due fulfilment of his contract. The deposit made with his tender will then be returned to him.

4. The deposits of all, with the exception of that of the successful competitor, will be returned on the decision of Government being received.

5. The successful competitor will be required to sign a contract on the basis of his tender containing the usual provisions in the form used in the Commissariat Department (form whereof can be seen on application to the Commissariat Officer at Madras) and to furnish the requisite security within eight days from the date on which the acceptance of his tender is notified to him. Should the successful competitor fail to sign the contract deed or to furnish the security within the time specified, so much of his deposit will be forfeited as will reasonably compensate Government for such breach of contract, and his tender will be considered as having been rejected. It is, however, to be clearly understood that the forfeiture of the total amount (if necessary) of such deposit for such default shall in no way preclude Government from recovering from the defaulting competitor all such damages as Government may sustain by reason of such default, and that the amount of such deposit is not to be taken as the total amount of compensation payable to Government for such default.

6. The chests containing the tea should be of strong material, and the lead lining thereof sound and strong. Each chest must be bound round with iron hooping and packed in good strong gunny. No broken or damaged chests will be received. Each chest should contain 84lb. of China tea, or 80lb of Indian tea, and should be marked 80 or 84lb net, as the case may be. A certain number of the chests will be opened and examined by a committee to ascertain that they contain not less than the weight represented, dependent on which examination they will be taken to contain the net weight marked thereon.

7. The quality of tea to be subjected to the approval of, or rejection by, a committee to be appointed at the request of the Commissary-General by the Officer Commanding the District, and payment will be made for such quantity only as may be approved of by the said committee.

8. Samples of tea can be had on application at the Commissariat Office at Madras.

9. The Government reserve to itself the right of rejecting any tender without assigning any reason for so doing.

10. If the contractor makes default in delivering the whole of the tea on or before the 30th April 1883, so much of the security deposited by him as will reasonably compensate Government for such breach of contract will be liable to become forfeited to Government, but, if such contractor deliver a portion of the tea to be supplied according to his contract and makes default in delivering the remainder thereof, he shall be liable to pay to Government such reasonable compensation as Government may be entitled to for such breach of contract, and any such compensation may, at the option of Government, be deducted either from the moneys payable to such contractor for the tea delivered by him or from the security which may be deposited by him.

11. All further information may be had and the form of tenders and contract deed inspected on application at the Commissariat Office at Madras.

12. Every tender not made in the required form will be rejected.

13. No person making a tender shall be allowed to withdraw his tender for the space of ninety days from the date thereof, and, in the event to his doing so, his deposit shall be forfeited to Government.

(By order of the Commissary-General.)

E. A. BRUCE, Major,
Dy. Assistant Commissary-General.

Executive Commissariat Office, Madras,
18th May 1882.

NOTE.—Tender forms can also be had on application to Calcutta Store and Shipping Executive.

Howrah Municipality.

LOAN OF Rs. 50,000.

THE Commissioners have obtained the sanction of the Government of India under Section 7 of Act XI of 1879, "The Public Works Loan Act," to raise a loan of the above sum in the open market on the security of the rates and taxes levied by them under Act V of 1876 (B C.) in order to enable them to contribute their quota towards the cost of the new bridge over the railway premises.

Tenders are hereby invited, and will be received up to Tuesday, the 25th instant, for the whole or any part of the above named sum.

Debentures (which will not be negotiable) will be issued of Rs 100 each, and the loan will be repayable in 20 years by equal half-yearly instalments. The balance from time to time remaining owing upon each debenture will bear interest at 4½ per cent. per annum payable half-yearly with the instalments of principal.

Parties tendering are required to pay into the Bank of Bengal to the credit of the Commissioners 2 per cent. of the amount tendered by way of security.

Tenders to be made in prescribed form given below at the Commissioners' office, and to be enclosed in sealed covers marked, "Howrah Municipality Overbridge Loan."

The amount of the accepted tender or tenders to be paid in one instalment by the 31st instant.

The time for opening tenders will be duly intimated in writing to the tenderers.

(FORM OF TENDER.)

I ——————————— do hereby tender for Rupees ———————————
of the Loan advertised for in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 12th July 1882, and agree to pay for the same subject to the conditions specified at the rate of Rupees ——————— for every hundred allowed to me.

2. I enclose a deposit receipt of the Bank of Bengal for Rupees ——————— by way of security, and do hereby bind myself, if my tender be accepted, to pay to the credit of the Commissioners at that Bank the whole sum tendered for by me within the 31st July 1882.

By order,

R. A. DONNITHORNE, Secretary.

Dated the 10th July 1882.

(FORM OF DEBENTURE.)

(Not negotiable.)

No. ——— Dated ——————— 1882.

By virtue of the authority given by the Government of India under Section 7 of Act XI of 1879, "The Public Works Loan Act," we, the Commissioners of the Municipality of Howrah, in consideration of the sum of Rs. 100 paid to us by ———————
of ——————— promise to repay to the said ——————— the said sum of Rs. 100 by 40 equal half-yearly instalments together with interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum on the amount from time to time remaining due under this debenture. Such interest and instalments of principal to be payable half-yearly on 1st April and 1st October in every year.

AMALGAMATION OF THE MUNICIPAL AND CANTONMENT POLICE WITH THE REGULAR POLICE.

POLICE.

Calcutta, the 14th July 1882.

RESOLUTION.

IN connection with the scheme for the extension of local self-government, it was decided in the Resolution of this Government in the Financial Department, dated the 20th February 1882, that the whole expense of maintaining the police in all municipalities, unions, and stations in Bengal, with the exception of Calcutta, the Suburbs and Howrah, should be borne by Government, with effect from the 1st April 1882.

2. In accordance with these orders, the Inspector-General of Police has now submitted, with his letters marginally noted, proposals for reorganizing the municipal and cantonment police in each district in Bengal. The Inspector-General's proposals are made on the understanding that the police employed in the municipalities and cantonments will be amalgamated with the Government police on similar rates of pay, and under the same rules regarding leave, clothing, &c., as are generally applicable to the regular police on the establishment. Mr. Monro suggests that there should be no separate enlisting for the regular and the municipal police, but that every man should be considered as having enlisted for the district police, and should be available for employment either in a police-station, in a town, or in the reserve, as the District Superintendent of Police may direct.

Nos. 9554 and 9834, dated respectively the 19th and the 24th June 1882.

3. With a view to effect the complete amalgamation of the municipal and cantonment police with the regular police, Mr. Monro considers that it will be necessary to raise the pay of the former in many cases, and that this will necessitate some reduction in the number of men now employed. No reduction is suggested in the number of inspectors and sub-inspectors, but it is proposed to raise the number of head-constables from 331 to 335, and to reduce the number of constables from 5,272 to 4,908. This reduction of 364 men will be effected by abolishing the existing grades of constables on salaries of Rs. 3, Rs. 3-8, Rs. 4, and Rs. 5, in which there is at present a total strength of 2,202 men, and by increasing the number of constables in the grades of pay running from Rs. 6 to Rs. 9.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor accepts the proposals of the Inspector-General of Police, and sanctions their immediate adoption. Assuming that the reductions to be effected in the aggregate total of the force will not impair the efficiency of the service, the improved position of the men in the constable grade is a necessary and desirable arrangement. His Honor also approves of the substitution of a system of patrol for the present system of beats in towns where the reduction in the police force renders this necessary.

5. The cost of the police at present employed in the municipalities, (excluding Calcutta, the Suburbs, and Howrah,) unions, towns, and cantonments in each district in Bengal, and the cost of the force which the Inspector-General of Police recommends should in future be maintained by Government, are shown in the following statement:—

It will be seen from this statement that the several municipalities, unions, towns, and cantonments concerned will henceforward be relieved of a liability amounting in the aggregate to the large sum of Rs. 4,96,928 per annum.

Order,—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be communicated to the Inspector-General of Police, the Financial, and the Medical and Municipal Departments of this office; the Accountant-General, Bengal; and to all Commissioners of Divisions, for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

will be necessary to raise the pay of the former in many cases, and that this will necessitate some reduction in the number of men now employed. No reduction is suggested in the number of inspectors and sub-inspectors, but it is proposed to raise the number of head-constables from 331 to 335, and to reduce the number of constables from 5,272 to 4,908. CULTIVATION OF JUTE AND OTHER FIBROUS PLANTS IN THE STATE OF LOUISIANA.

MR. DRUMMOND TO SIR E. THORNTON.

Washington, 7th April 1881.

I THINK it right to bring to your notice the great progress that has been made in jute cultivation in the State of Louisiana, as it is possible that, owing to the attention given to this fibre, and a new invention lately patented, the interests of our Dundee manufacturers and Indian cultivators may be curtailed before long.

Since 1873 the Department of Agriculture has taken much interest in the subject of ramie and jute cultivation, the seeds of which were originally introduced by it into the country and extensively distributed in the Southern States.

Experiments were made in those States which proved that the cultivation and preparation of these fibres is practicable and profitable.

Last year 1,500 packages of seed were distributed to the farmers in Louisiana, and reports have come in that the jute plant flourishes in every parish, growing in the alluvial soil to a height of 15 feet, and in the pine flats and on the hills to 10 and 12 feet.

Now this is interesting to us, for all manufacturing countries have been dependent upon India for their supply of jute. To the cotton planters in the Southern States jute cultivation will be of great use in the preservation of the cotton plant from insects. Again, the importance of this cultivation in this country is clear from the amount of sacking used in the grain and cotton trade, and which, I am confidently informed, is in the future going to be used for flour bags in the place of barrels. Millions of bags will therefore be required; for some years we shall probably be enabled to carry on our present trade even if jute is grown and manufactured extensively here, still we must not be too confident, and attention should be given to the new machine, for which a patent has been lately taken out, invented by Messrs. Martin Dennis and Albert Angell, for the preparation of the fibre of jute or ramie.

Mr. Albert Angell's new patented machine for preparing jute and ramie fibre.

This machine is 34 inches wide and 42 inches high, and is very strong and not liable to damage. It can be removed to any point without taking apart, and it is ready for use on the instant, being simply a series of rollers and scrapers and beaters. At the top is a copper with a dozen holes, through which the fibre is fed to the machine. The machine started, a stalk of ramie or other fibre is set by the thick end into the hole; it is grasped between two rollers covered with flexible rubber, and the stalk in passing into the machine immediately encounters a knife, which splits it in two, sending the two halves to opposite sides of the machine. The halves on their journey encounter "beaters," which break off the pith and wood, and, on the other side, encounter "scrapers" which remove the bark, and in an instant the filament comes out in long ribbons of fibre. An unbroken ribbon, exactly the length of the stalk or switch which was fed to the machine, is thus obtained, and the wood and extraneous matter are as clearly taken off as could be desired and without slivers.

It is claimed that the stalks of ramie, mallow, or jute may be run through the machine the moment they are cut, without waste of time by preparatory rotting of wood or outer bark, which injures the fibre. Further, that there is absolutely no preparation at all, and the fibre is unbroken. The scrapings of bark, &c., can be used in paper stock, while the woody matters can be used for fuel for the engine driving the machine. The only remaining process is to boil the gum from the ribbons of fibre, and they are then ready to be tied in hanks for the rope-walk or for the manufacturer. The machine is said to clean or prepare 2,000lbs. of fibre per day, fed by a boy, the stalks being placed upon a platform within easy reach. The boiling is a simple matter, and can be done in the field, or factory, or shed where the machine is running, or the ribbons may be marketed as they come from the machine, the cordage manufacturer boiling out the gum at the same time that it is boiled for bleaching.

In the patent specification it is stated that "this invention consists in the combination of feed-rollers, a splitting-knife, a series of separate channels each adapted to receive and guide the two halves of a stalk of ramie or other fibrous plant, and crushing rollers, which receive the split stalks from the guide-channels for breaking the connection of the fibres with the pith and skin. A beater, which acts on the split stalks as the same pass from the crushing rollers, serves to detach the pith from the fibres, and the skin is finally removed by the action of a grinding surface. On the splitting-knife are secured suitable cams for turning the upper half of the split stalk, so that both halves pass through the crushing rollers with the pith side facing upward."

A machine of this kind has been necessary to give to America any chance of competition with India. To clean and prepare fibre for market by hand is an expensive business, and the American labourer cannot compete in this work with the cheap labour of India.

The bagging industry.

With respect to the bagging industry, the following shows its condition, as far as I am enabled to judge from the last report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for the year 1879, that of 1880 not being yet in print:—

Hemp bagging.

It appears that hemp has almost entirely gone out of use as a bagging material. The price is high; there is little of the product on the market with a demand for it. There will probably, however, be an increasing demand for hemp in the manufacture of twine for grain-binding machines, it being preferable to wire, and at present as cheap. It is claimed, however, that if hemp is sown thick, and cheaply converted into tow, remunerative prices can always be obtained for bagging purposes. The class of hemp-tow referred to, compared with jute butts, would command 2½ to 3 cents per pound.

Jute butts bagging.

Jute butts, imported at a very low rate of duty, have driven bagging flax to the wall. In 1879 it is estimated that there were about 33,000,000 yards of bagging used to cover the cotton crop of that year—28,000,000 yards made of jute butts and rejections, and the remaining 5,000,000 of flax-straw.

Flax bagging.

Flax bagging is not in favour as compared with jute butts bagging, as it is so dirty, it makes a difference in the price of the cotton. The ratio of foreign to native-dressed flax used in the United States is said to be about 7 to 2. It is stated that hundreds of thousands of acres of flax-straw is grown in the United States, but the greater part of it is wasted after the seed is taken off. The reason for this is given by a manufacturer of Indiana State. He says the reason for this is "that it is entirely due to defective and ignorant tariff legislation that, in 1879, there was imported 119,395,200 pounds of jute butts, used exclusively for paper and bagging manufacture, at an average price of 2½ cents per pound, including 6 dollars per ton specific duty. At this low price flax-straw manufacturers are unable to compete with jute butts. In the same year there was imported 1,300,458 bushels of flax seed, averaging 2 dollars 40 cents per bushel. Covering for cotton, allowed at 10 cents per yard, for which it could be furnished, would distribute throughout the Western States about 3,300,000 dollars derived from an article that at present is principally wasted. Besides giving employment to thousands of labourers, it would also give flax culture an impetus that would enable us to supply the demand for seed, instead of our having to grow corn, wheat, and hominy to export and trade for it, paying freight both ways, together with the different margins of speculators."

Protection is his remedy.

Bagging system in general.

With respect to the whole bagging system, the following is interesting:—

"In 1878 the various cotton exchanges of the country took action to discriminate against poor bagging manufactured from unfit material. Green or unrotted flax-straw is held to be objectionable when made into bagging, as cotton baled with such an article is not only injured by the fragments of bark and "shive," but is liable to be stained by it into the bargain. The Board of Trade of St. Louis, in commenting upon the action of the cotton exchanges, says that native flax, if well prepared for use, reaches as high a standard as any other article used for the manufacture of bagging. In the western markets jute has almost a monopoly, some hemp bagging still finding its way to market with occasional lots of bagging from well rotted flax. The prices of bagging in the St. Louis market a year ago—the lowest ever known—ranged as follows: flax, 7 cents to 8 cents per yard; hemp, 9 cents; and jute, 9½ cents to 10 cents.

"The following is received from Austin, Minessota:—

"'Since 1872, when Congress took off the duty on jute, it has been impossible in this State to manufacture bagging for cotton baling. I had just undertaken to manufacture it. Now no use of the vast acreage of flax fibre is made but in one establishment in the State, and that for upholstering purposes. Thousands and thousands of dollars worth of fibre in this State and Wisconsin is rotting upon the fields. Although I am out of the business, I am satisfied that, with proper encouragement, a new source of revenue might be opened to the farming and manufacturing interests of these two States.'

"At the recent Ohio Agricultural Convention, Mr. J. M. Allen, of Columbus, presented quite an array of interesting facts upon this subject. He has kindly sent me a synopsis of his paper, from which the following extract is taken:—

"'In 1869 there were about 90 mills in operation, 14 of them bagging mills, running about 140 looms. Thirty-six of them were in Ohio, distributed through almost as many countries, giving employment to about 4,000 hands who receive some 200,000 dollars per annum in wages. These mills consumed nearly 30,000 tons of raw material, for which the farmers received about 1,500,000 dollars. The operations of 1869 aggregated nearly 2,000,000 dollars, about all of which was direct production. The cotton crop of the country had to be bagged. In 1866 less than three-sixteenths of the cotton crop was covered with flax bagging, but such was the increase of production that in 1869 and 1870 quite three-fourths of it was thus covered, leaving but one-fourth to be covered by the foreign product. The flax crop had increased in the same period from 52,546 acres and 12,000,000 pounds to 90,000 acres and 80,000,000 pounds of fibre, an increase of about 400 per cent. With proper encouragement and protection this increase could have been maintained for years to come. But in 1870 the duty upon gunny-cloth (the foreign product coming in direct competition with flax) was reduced to such an extent as to make the manufacture in this country impossible, and in 1871 every flax mill in the country was closed, and privileges, machinery, and expensive experience went down.'

"The year 1871 in the above should read 1872, as in the year 1871 more flax was used in bagging than all other materials together. The production of St. Louis alone for 1871 is stated in round numbers to have amounted to 3,250,000 yards. In this manufacture the raw material consumed was as follows:—Flax tow, 14,199 bales; jute and jute butts, 8,561 bales; hemp and hemp tow, 4,756 bales. This shows a consumption of western-grown fibre (flax and hemp to the amount of nearly 19,000 bales, 27,500 manufactured, a fraction over 30 per cent. only of imported jute fibre being used. The history of the year previous shows that the supply of the home product was not equal to the demand. The cotton crop of 1870, reaching nearly to 4,500,000 bales, taxed every bagging loom in the country to its utmost capacity; and even with the opening of new factories large orders for bagging went abroad to make good the short supply which seemed inevitable. It is stated that there was constant antagonism during 1871 between holders of raw material manufacturers, and, in order to effect sales, prices were gradually 'forced down.' This may have led to the reduction of the tariff on jute for bagging manufacture.

"To return to the question of protection, even the manufacturers themselves desire a little 'encouragement' in the way of a free introduction of the raw material as well as of machinery. The Superintendent of one of the largest flax mills in Eastern Massachusetts thus writes:—

"'There is every encouragement in the world for investment in flax and hemp spinning. Properly conducted, it is a very remunerative business One thing, our machinery should be introduced customs free, raw material also free. Our native skill, with a little added experience, will be able to keep from our market the millions of Irish, German, and French linens annually imported.'"

Jute.

It is now about ten years since the Department of Agriculture became at all interested in the subject of growing Indian jute upon American soil. Seed was distributed in 1870, and experiments conducted in the Southern States. The result has shown that the plant can be profitably grown "wherever in the Southern States there is a hot, damp climate and a moist soil of sandy clay or alluvial mould." The yield was in some cases at the rate of 3,500 pounds to the acre, some of the stalks reaching to the height of 15 feet. It is stated that jute butts can be produced in the United States at 3 cents per pound, and the fibre for 8 cents. Imported jute costs from (for butts) 3 cents to 5 cents per pound, and the fibre 8 cents to 12½ cents per pound.

Opinion of Mr. Lefranc on the United States' fibre industry.

The exact status of the fibre industry in the United States is given as follows by Mr. Lefranc, whose experience, both in the cultivation of these plants and preparations of their fibres, enables him to give a lucid opinion on the subject:—

"Ramie, as well as abutilon, althea, and other American fibres, could now be turned into commercial products should the supply be made certain. But the spirit of enterprise has not yet taken that direction. Liberal offers to buy the plants have not succeeded in creating the required interest. No farmers have taken the trouble to gather the wild material nor to plant any. It will take time and exertion before a regular production can be established, unless some powerful organization takes the lead in starting cultivation and factories.

"A certain amount of New Jersey and imported ramie is now on the market and offered to manufacturers in proper condition for spinning. It being a new fibre for them, and anticipating some loss of time in studying its manipulation to make yarns, they are generally very reluctant to undertake it, and decline to do it in this busy season.

"The worsted machinery being limited here, and it being the only system suitable for ramie spinning, the obstacle is more serious than it appears at present. The only attempt so far made with the carding system, which is most suitable for the noils, or refuse of the combed long staple, was that of a mixture of short ramie with wool for knitting-yarn. But from this experiment to the point of a regular adoption there is a space to be crossed over, the test of the knitting or weaving and the test of time and wear on the goods.

"Such are the difficulties now hindering the final stage of ramie as a commercial product. As to production of the fibre there is no more difficulty; it can be produced mechanically and chemically in a satisfactory manner. The whole point in question now is that of inducing worsted spinners to undertake the spinning."

Mr. Bishop's opinion on jute cultivation in the United States.

The following opinion, given by Mr. James Bishop, Chief of Bureau of Statistics of New Jersey State, shows that any experienced farmer can achieve good results in growing jute-producing plants, the only question is the obtaining of the fibre from the bark, and the industrial purposes of which it is susceptible. Mr. Lefranc has lately given his attention to the discovery of new methods of treatment of the bark, and he believes that he has discovered a combined chemical and mechanical process, by which the intrinsic and industrial value of jute can be greatly enhanced at comparatively small cost. The specimen of fibre I have annexed proves the excellence of Mr. Angell's new machine, and with the great encouragement given by General Le Duc, Commissioner of Agriculture, in supplying seed, and aiding farmers with information respecting its culture, I feel sure that in two or three years we shall see a great development in the production of jute and flax.

The United States is indebted to General Le Duc for his perseverance in carrying out his ideas in the interest of his country. He has given his practical knowledge as a farmer, and his belief in the capability of his country being enabled to produce all products grown in all countries, and has already assured the future development of tea growing, and a certainty of sugar from Sorghum and Indian-corn, and he will, I have no doubt, assure the successful creation of jute planting to such an extent as may materially weaken our trade; the experiments which will be carried out this year will probably show important results.

Mr Bishop's opinion on the cultivation of Abutilon avicennæ.

Mr. James Bishop's opinion on the cultivation of Abutilon avicennæ :—

"In the general development of the fibrous industry we have made very decided progress this year. There really need be no difficulty in growing jute-producing plants, the material point being to ascertain the best conditions under which to convert hitherto uncultivated plants into those of future industrial significance and profit. Any experienced farmer, from his observation of these self-propagating 'weeds,' can as readily achieve good results in their cultivation as he can in his first attempts at growing for profit peaches, pears, grapes, or any other untried crop. He has a general knowledge of their requirements, and his success at the outset will be in proportion to his professional knowledge and theoretical dexterity. There being no question respecting the cultivation of jute, the remaining problem concerns the obtaining of the fibre from the bark, and the industrial purposes of which it is susceptible. Jute, in its ordinary marketable condition, is chiefly adapted to coarse but useful fabrics and cordage, but through the appliances of skill and science, it has unquestionably a range of uses still to be discovered, and it is our aim to discover these hidden qualities.

"In all our efforts to promote the fibrous industry, we have had the intelligent co-operation of Mr. Lefranc. He has given his whole attention this summer at Camden to the discovery of new methods of treatment of the outward coating of the plant with a view of imparting new value to the fibre derived from it. These efforts are in harmony with the widely extending conviction that the highest industrial progress which this nation is destined to achieve is inseparable from the utmost diversity of industries, and an augmented proportion of skilled and artistic pursuits to the unskilled. In pursuance of this idea, Mr. Lefranc confidently believes he has discovered a combined chemical and mechanical process by which the intrinsic and industrial value of jute can be greatly enhanced at comparatively small cost. . . . . If this newly discovered property in domestic jute (Abutilon avicennæ) is confirmed by subsequent experience, it will impart an unanticipated significance to the fibre industry throughout, since ramie and the whole range of developed and undeveloped long staples can be brought under the same treatment with like results.

"We feel assured that the steeping or rotting process, which, until quite recently, was deemed indispensable, has been overcome, and that in growing these products the labour of the farmer will thereby be greatly diminished, and only equivalent to that incident to the growth of wheat and rye. Sowing, cutting, and carting in the green state, at present, seems to be all the farmer will have to do. If he can be saved the trouble and expense of preparing pools for steeping, as is done in India in respect to jute and ramie, and in Europe and Ireland in respect to flax, and two or three handlings and cartings besides, he will have gained a very material advantage in the cost of those domestic products.

Remarks by Mr. Waterhouse of St. Louis, Mobile.

In respect to bounties, it would appear to be just and proper that they should be so dispensed as to reward both the farmers who grow the plant and the inventor of the best process for disintegrating and preparing the fibre for market. The old system of manual treatment is too slow and costly. Unless the fibre can be quickly and economically prepared, by chemical or mechanical processes, the cultivation of abutilon must prove a failure. At the present moment our great need is a cheap and effective method of separating the fibrous from the ligneous part of the stalk. With the high prices of labour in this country, no manual preparation of the fibre can successfully compete with the cheap handwork of India.

"The cleaned specimens of fibre you sent me are excellent, and indicate a good degree of progress in the treatment of fibrous products. The inventor of a cheap and rapid means of disintegrating the fibre of hemp, jute, ramie, abutilon, and the allied mallows will not only secure a fortune for himself, but will also enjoy the rare distinction of having created a new and valuable industry. Such an inventor would be the Whitney of another development in textile wealth. It is a reproach to American ingenuity that an industry which in India ranks as fourth in productive value should be so insignificant in the United States. It is indeed surprising that the inventive genius of our countrymen, which has achieved such splendid triumphs over greater difficulties, does not address itself to the solution of a problem so rich in possible results.

"Every forward movement in the diversification of our productions is an advance towards an industrial independence of the whole world; a variety of industries is a basis of self-reliance, a source of national wealth, and a safeguard against commercial depression. The agricultural and mechanical arts tend to strengthen each other, and to preserve communities from a general prostration of business interests. One of the prosperous results of a cultivation of abutilon and ramie would probably be a revival in the culture of flax and hemp. Fabrics designed for certain commercial uses are improved by a combination of their fibres with jute, and consequently an extensive employment of the one will imply an increased demand for the other.

"Jute is too bulky for distant transportation. The freight would consume the profits. Factories for the separation of the fibre should be erected in the neighbourhood of production, where the abutilon, rose mallow, and other similar plants, which can be so easily raised, would apparently, even at present market rates, yield the farmer a profitable return for his labour."

"I Caroliniana" weed. Has a useful fibre.

With reference to this subject, I beg to mention that it is probable that the pest of the alluvial lands in the south, called "I Caroliniana," may shortly be turned into use for the manufacture of bagging, sacking, and matting, and it may make good rope. It appears to have a fibrous bark, which is easily reduced, and is considered to be as strong as jute, though not so fine. This weed is well known to all the planters of the Southern States, it springs up simultaneously in the fields after the corn is "laid by" and attains its growth and goes to seed before frost. The cost of its production, therefore, amounts to nothing. The plant is rich in nitrogen and potash, and the only consideration is the expense of harvesting and preparation of the fibre for market.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) VICTOR DRUMMOND.

P.S.—Messrs. Dennis and Angell have promised me all information after their machine has been tried this summer on a large scale.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE HOOGHLY BRIDGE FOR THE YEAR 1881-82.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.
PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT—COMMUNICATIONS.
No. 2221C, dated Calcutta, the 17th July 1882.
RESOLUTION.

READ—

Report of the administration of the Hooghly Bridge Trust for the year ending 31st March 1882.

Read again—

Public Works Proceedings (A), Communications for June 1881, Nos. 1 and 2, being the report of the administration of the Hooghly bridge for the year 1880-81, together with the resolution passed thereon.

RESOLUTION.—The total receipts and expenditure on the Hooghly bridge for the year 1881-82, including adjustments, &c., amounted to—

	Rs.
Receipts	6,59,455
Expenditure	7,12,529

The actual receipts and expenditure, excluding book adjustments, as compared with the estimated amounts, were as follow :—

	Estimated.	Actual.	More.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Receipts	3,89,290	4,56,529	67,239
Expenditure	4,10,071	5,11,342	1,01,271

2. The aggregate of contributions, since 1874-75, towards the repayment of the loan amounted, at the close of the year, to Rs. 5,55,133, leaving a balance of Rs. 16,86,667 still to be paid up. The reserve fund invested in Government paper amounted to Rs. 5,37,176.

3. The receipts from railway traffic were in excess of the estimated and actual receipts of the previous year. There was no increase in the schedule of rates, and the difference was entirely due to an increase in the quantity of goods carried. The receipts from local traffic were also above the amount realised from that source during the previous year, but that was owing to the enhanced rate at which the tolls were let from the 1st March 1881.

The railway and local traffic receipts were as follow :—

	1880-81.	1881-82.
	Actual.	Estimated.	Actual.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Railway traffic	2,56,250	2,45,136	3,09,038
Local do.	99,997	1,10,959	1,10,959

4. The lease of the bridge tolls to Baboo Jamuna Narain Tewary expired on the 28th February 1882, and has been renewed for another year on the same terms.

5. The steamers Buckland and Hetty were both well employed throughout the year. The employment of the former in crossing the goods traffic of the East Indian Railway Company was discontinued at the beginning of the current year, owing to the despatchers and consignees of goods using the bridge in preference to the steamer.

6. No accidents occurred in passing sea-going vessels through the opening of the bridge, but there were 140 collisions of other vessels with the bridge, some of which, notably that which caused the loss of the steamer Ghattal, were attended with very serious results.

7. The bridge was maintained in an efficient manner throughout the year.

ORDERS.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded for the information of the Bridge Commissioners.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published, for general information, in the Supplement of the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

S. T. TREVOR, Colonel, R.E.,

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

REMARKS.

Coal, up ... ... Mds. 1,48,010 Rs. 2,600
The weight carried has been increased by the quantities of rubble coal despatched from Giridih to Bark Ghât for ballast-burning on the Tirhoot State Railway extension.

Coal, downwards ... ... Mds. 1,57,410 Rs. 20,780
The stations despatching the greater proportion of the downwards coal are Seetarampore and Barakar.

Ghee and oil ... ... Mds. 11,150 Rs 9,950
This is chiefly due to better demands for ghee.
Kerosine oil has also been favourably affected.

Government Ordnance stores ... Mds. 5,460 Rs. 10,570
This is caused by the movement of military stores from depôts to the various arsenals and regimental centres.

Wheat ... ... Mds. 2,13,890 Rs. 1,60,110
It will be seen that the heaviest receipts were from Oudh vid Benares and vid Cawnpore, also from Cawnpore.

Gunny ... ... Mds. 14,130 Rs. 12,590
An increase in this material generally results from an expansion of the exports of wheat and seeds.

Jaggree ... ... Mds. 11,540 Rs. 11,410

Consignments to the Central Provinces and Rajpootana from Arrah and stations immediately above make up this increase.

Salt ... ... Mds. 36,730 Rs. 8,990

The improvement noticed in my last report has continued.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 2,67,550 Rs. 1,64,990

Exports of linseed and rape or mustard seed, especially the latter, have been very free during the month to Great Britain and Continental Europe.

DECREASES.

Rice ... ... Mds. 30,970 Rs. 13,090

No great demand has arisen during the month.

Other grain ... ... Mds. 1,27,070 Rs. 43,960

Pulses ... ... Mds. 35,320 Rs. 25,430

The remarks under "Rice" also apply to these grains.

Iron ... ... Mds. 33,460 Rs. 44,130

This is doubtless caused by the unusually large consignments worked up-country from Howrah last year

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 37,030 Rs. 66,470

The import trade in piece-goods continued dull during May, and the market reports hold out no hope of improvement.

Railway materials, foreign ... ... Mds. 11,150 Rs. 11,420

Very limited despatches were made during the month.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 48,080 Rs. 33,710

Turmeric ... ... Mds. 10,210 Rs. 11,420

This falling off is chiefly at Patna, Barh and Barh Ghat, and is set down to less demand this year.

The train mileage for the period has been, excluding maintenance and locomotive coal train-mileage—

Increase.

Mds.

Building materials 7,891
This increase is due to the materials carried for Sonarpur-Mugra Extension and construction of sheds at Canning Rice-mills.

Railway materials 3,395
This increase is due to railway materials required for Sonarpur-Mugra Extension.

Firewood 11,342
This increase is due to wood wagons employed for carrying firewood only, and greater demand at selling stations.

Hay 340
This increase is due to favourable markets.

Straw 1,620
This increase is due to favourable market.

Woolloo 780
This increase is due to favourable market.

Sundries 3,047
This increase is due to Sonarpur-Mugra Extension.

Decrease.

Coal 2,077
This decrease is due to coal not being required for brick-burning for the Sonarpur-Mugra Extension and working of the Rice-mills at Canning.

Rice 15,053
This decrease is due to the mills being at Canning not working fully, closed earlier than the year previous.

Paddy 1,887
This decrease is due to no paddy going to the mills.

Increase.

Mds.

Sugar and Jaggree 1,183
This increase is due to greater import to replenish stock exhausted.

Seeds of all sorts 1,909
There was high rate for mustard seed, consequently larger quantity imported.

Coal 1,367
This increase is due to larger demand at silk factories.

Salt 2,023
For want of sufficient water in the river Bhagiruthee this year salt brought in by railway.

No. 2469, Simla, the 17th July 1882.

READ—

Resolution in this Department, No. 1438, dated 8th March 1882.

RESOLUTION.—A considerable supply of Stock Notes having now been received from England at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and the necessary printing into them of the names of the several circles as well as of the year-figures being considerably advanced, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council considers that the sale should commence in all Provinces (except British Burma and Berar) with as little further delay as possible.

2. In the Punjab two syndicates have been formed—one for Lahore and the other for the rest of the Province—and a sufficient supply of notes has partly been already delivered to the Accountant-General, and will be completed in the course of a few days. The transfer to the syndicates of such quantities as they require may therefore commence at once.

3. In the North-Western Provinces syndicates have been constituted for the Benares and Allahabad Divisions on the one hand, and the Agra and Meerut Divisions on the other, and supplies of the notes are nearly complete, so that sales will commence in a few days, as in the Punjab. With the view to one or more syndicates for the rest of the province, certain parties have placed themselves in communication with the Accountant-General, who should report the final result to this Department as soon as possible. But he should at once proceed, irrespective of any such negotiations, to complete his supplies from the Comptroller-General, and to issue to the several treasuries and sub-treasuries in the remaining portion of the province, with a view to the early commencement of sales by Government officers as contemplated in clause (8) of paragraph 4 of the Resolution quoted above.

4. The Comptroller General should similarly supply, in communication with the Accountant-General and Comptroller, respectively, all treasuries and sub-treasuries in Bengal and Assam, and the Accountant-Generals at Bombay and Madras and the Comptroller at Nagpore, those within their respective limits, the last-named officer indenting on Bombay for whatever notes he may require.

5. It is considered indispensable that sales should commence on the same date at all the treasuries and sub-treasuries in the same Province, in order to prevent inconvenience to the public and derangement of the supply of the several localities according to their probable normal demand. The several officers who have in the preceding paragraphs been directed to supply their treasuries and sub-treasuries should therefore comence their issues with the most distant localities, estimate as nearly as possible the date by which all will have been supplied, and then publish as widely as possible, with the aid of the local executive authorities, a notice in the vernacular in the following terms:—

"Notice is hereby given that the sale of Stock Notes to the public will commence on the instant at the Government treasuries and sub-treasuries specified below. The Notes are issued under the conditions specified in the Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 1438 of 8th March 1882. Interest will be payable annually, on production of the Note with coupons attached, at any of the said treasuries or sub-treasuries, and Notes of lower will be exchanged for Notes of higher denomination, or new Notes will be issued, under due precautions, in the place of Notes lost or destroyed, on application at the same."

[Here should follow the list of treasuries and sub-treasuries.]

6. By the preceding paragraph the officers concerned have been severally authorised, in supersession of all previous instructions, to fix and notify, without further reference to this Department, the date of simultaneous commencement of sales within their respective limits; but His Excellency the Governor-General in Council relies on them for making every effort to ensure that date being the earliest possible. The date so fixed should be telegraphed to this Department for information.

ORDERED that this Resolution be communicated to the Comptroller-General and the several Accountants-General for information and guidance, and to the Local Governments and Administrations and the Press Commissioner for information; and also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

D. BARBOUR,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

NOTIFICATION.

The 20th July 1882.—In modification of the notification dated the 31st May 1881, published at page 576 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 8th June 1881, and in exercise of the powers conferred upon him by clauses (g) to (j), section 7 of Act XII of 1875, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to approve the following additional port rule fixing the scale of charge for moorings, &c., in the port of Chittagong.

It shall be compulsory on all vessels visiting the port of Chittagong, drawing 19 feet and upwards of water, to occupy moorings, and to make use of the heave-up boat and other plant belonging to the port, for which the following rates shall be charged:—

NOTIFICATION.

Quarantine Rules for the Port of Calcutta.

The 18th July 1882.—In exercise of the power conferred by Act I of 1870, the following rules for quarantine against cholera, have been made by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council. They will, as a temporary measure, take effect from this date in the port of Calcutta:—

I. The commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from the island of Sumatra or from the port of Batavia in the island of Java where cholera prevails, shall, on arrival at the Sandheads, hoist a yellow flag, and indicate by signal the port from which she has come, and shall keep such flag and signal flying until permitted to take it down as hereinafter provided.

II. Such commander shall not, without having first obtained permission as hereinafter provided, allow any communication with the shore or with any other vessel or boat, excepting only with the boat supplying the pilot* from the pilot brig, and in that case communication shall be limited to receiving on board the pilot, his leadsman, servant, and baggage.

* N B.—Pilotage is compulsory for all vessels over 100 tons

III. The pilot shall not take such vessel higher up the river than Royapore, but shall anchor it there until the Health Officer of the port has visited it and ascertained by enquiry whether any person on board is then suffering, or has during the voyage suffered, from cholera; and if such officer is satisfied by enquiry that no such case has occurred, he shall, by writing under his hand, to be delivered to the commander, permit such vessel to haul down the yellow flag and proceed upwards to the port, and to hold free communication with the shore and with other vessels and boats in port.

IV. If the Health Officer shall have reason to believe that any such case has occurred, he shall direct the commander to detain the vessel at the quarantine anchorage at Royapore for the space of 15 days from the day of arrival there, or from the date of the occurrence of the latest case of illness, and shall further direct the commander to prohibit, during the said 15 days, all communication, except such as is hereinafter provided for, between such vessel and the shore, or other vessels or boats in the harbour. The Health Officer may further direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from sickness, and whose services may not be required on board the ship, to such particular spots as may from time to time be fixed upon by the local Government as places of quarantine, there to remain for a space of 15 days, or, in the event of the occurrence of a case of sickness, for a space of 15 days from the date of the occurrence of the last case. The Health Officer may permit the pilot, with his leadsman and servants, to leave the vessel at any time after such precautionary disinfection of their persons and baggage as he may think necessary, or may direct that they remain in quarantine along with the passengers and crew.

V. Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as may be deemed necessary by the Health Officer to prevent the spread of the disease.

VI. It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to the vessel in quarantine of all supplies of provisions, stores, and other articles required by those on board. These supplies should be placed on the boats of the vessel, to be subsequently removed by members of her crew.

A. P. MACDONNELL,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DECLARATION.

The 17th July 1882.—Whereas it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that land is required to be taken up by Government at the expense of the Serajgunge Municipality for a public purpose, viz. for the deposit of night-soil in the village of Dhanbandi, in pergunnah Barabajoo zillah Pubna, within the municipality of Serajgunge, it is hereby declared that for the above purpose a piece of land measuring more or less 6 beeghas 6 cottahs 2 chittacks of standard measurement, bounded on the north by the land of the Serajgunge dispensary; east by the lands belonging to Srimonto Ray, Kali Krishna Ray, and others; south by the village of Malsapara; west by the land belonging to Jodu Nath Saha Choudhury, is required within the aforesaid village of Dhanbandi.

This declaration is made, under the provisions of section 6, Act X (B.C.) of 1870, to all whom it may concern.

RESOLUTION.

1. The proposal to grant passports to pilgrims from India to the Hedjaz, which had previously occupied the serious attention of the Government of India in connection with the question of alleviating the hardships attending the journey, was revived by an enquiry from Her Majesty's Government in July 1875, whether the Government of India could suggest any means of mitigating the sufferings of the poorer class of Muhammadans who undertook the pilgrimage. Her Majesty's Consul at Jeddah was at that time in favour of introducing a system similar to that pursued by other Governments—of granting, upon certain conditions, a passport to every pilgrim.

2. The Government of India took the subject into careful consideration, and after consulting the Local Governments decided that, with the strongest desire to relieve the discomforts and sufferings to which at present pilgrims to Mecca are subjected, it was unadvisable to impose upon their movements any restrictions which might be liable to misconstruction. A reply was accordingly sent to the Secretary of State on the 2nd July 1877, to the effect that, in concurrence with the views of the local authorities, the Governor-General in Council was opposed to any direct interference on the part of Government with what is considered to be a religious obligation by a large section of the Muhammadan community in India, and accordingly deprecated the introduction of a system of passports or licenses, or any other similarly restrictive arrangements.

3. In consequence of this determination, no further action was then taken in the matter, and the question remained in abeyance until July 1880, when the Government of India received an intimation from the Secretary of State that the Turkish Government had issued orders requiring passports in future for all passengers and pilgrims arriving in Jeddah, whether Turkish or foreign subjects, and announcing that those who came unprovided with such documents would be liable to be repelled from the ports of the Hedjaz

4. It therefore became necessary, in order to prevent Indian pilgrims from encountering the risk of being turned back on their arrival in Turkish ports, that the Government of India should take measures to provide their Muhammadan subjects with passports, and it only remained to consider how best to give effect to the requirements of the Turkish Government without interfering more than was absolutely necessary with the freedom of movement and action previously enjoyed by Indian pilgrims. With this object a circular was sent to Local Governments and Administrations explaining the Regulation published by the Porte, and asking for opinion upon the following points:—

(i) the question of charging a small fee on passports in order to raise a fund to be devoted to giving assistance to needy and impoverished pilgrims;

(ii) the plan of issuing passports, not only at the ports of embarkation, but also in every district in British India, and in the Native States;

(iii) the necessity of appointing pilgrim agents at Indian seaports to facilitate the embarkation of pilgrims, and to afford them all possible information and aid.

5. The reports received in reply made it clear that, although a small minority, including some Muhammadan gentlemen of position and experience, were in favour of levying a fee upon each passport issued, the weight of opinion was opposed to such a measure, not only as being liable to misinterpretation, and calculated to give rise to erroneous impressions, but also on the ground that it would still further increase the already heavy expenditure which the pilgrimage entails. In deference to these views it has been decided that passports shall be distributed, in the form annexed to this Resolution, free of any charge: and also, for similar reasons, that no deposit or other guarantee of the ability of the grantee to discharge the cost of his journey in Arabia or of his return journey shall be exacted by this Government.

6. Further, with a view to making the new Turkish regulations as little irksome as possible to natives of India proceeding to the Hedjaz on pilgrimage, it has been resolved that passports shall be unconditionally given to every intending pilgrim not only at the ports of embarkation, but also at the central stations of every district in British India, and at the head-quarters of all Political Agencies in Native States. Thus it will be left to the option of the pilgrim to take his passport either in his own district or at the port from which he starts, as he may find most convenient.

7. With regard to the proposal to appoint pilgrim agents at the several ports of embarkation, it has been represented to the Government of India that, as a general rule, the local authorities empowered to carry out the provisions of the Native Passenger Ships Act (No. VIII of 1876), can satisfactorily discharge the duties that would devolve upon these officers. With this opinion the Governor-General in Council concurs. But in consideration of the very large numbers of pilgrims who annually embark at, and return to, Bombay, and the necessity of making some special arrangements to meet their requirements, it is proposed to appoint a Protector of Pilgrims at that port. He will be a Muhammadan, and will work in subordination to the Commissioner of Police. His duties will be to issue passports to all applicants; to aid them in procuring the necessary equipment for the voyage; to bring to notice the existence of any epidemic disease among them; and generally to give them all the information and assistance within his power in respect of every matter connected with their pilgrimage. The Bombay Government will be requested to make proposals for the pay and establishment of this officer whose employment on this special work will only be necessary for a portion—about six months—of the year.

8. The last point which has engaged the attention of the Government of India in connection with this subject is the question of providing passports and making arrangements for the subjects of other Governments, e. g., natives of Kashgar, Russian Turkistan, Afghanistan, &c., who embark for Mecca from Indian ports, similar to those introduced for the benefit of British Indian subjects. The numbers of this class of pilgrims are not large, and it has been ascertained that in their passage through British territory they have uniformly comported themselves in quiet and orderly fashion. At the same time they have no right to represent themselves as British subjects, or to receive passports as such. Nevertheless, in accordance with the rules and principles which always guide the action of the Government in such matters, it has been determined to facilitate the embarkation of such foreigners at Indian ports, and possibly their debarkation at those in the Red Sea, by granting them informal passes in the form appended to this Resolution as form B. These passes will not be compulsory, and their issue will be subject to the payment of a small fee of Rs. 2. They will be granted on application at Bombay by the Protector of Pilgrims; at other ports by the Commissioner of Police. It should be clearly explained at the time of issue that they impose no responsibility upon the Government of India in regard to the holder, nor can that Government in any way guarantee their recognition by the officials of the Turkish or any other Foreign Government.

9. The forms of passport to be granted to Indian subjects, and of the informal pass for aliens, are marked respectively A and B, and are appended to this Resolution. The latter, which is translated into both Urdu and Arabic, needs no remarks. On the reverse of the former explanatory instructions are printed in the same languages for the guidance of the pilgrims and the information of all concerned. These instructions are simple and self-explanatory. In the column for "General Remarks" attention may be drawn to the social position of persons of rank receiving passports. This may prove useful to them in the Hedjaz.

10. In order to secure as far as possible that Indian pilgrims to the Hedjaz are properly treated after landing, and to assist them in making arrangements for their return passage, the Governor-General in Council has, with the approval of the Secretary of State, decided to appoint a Muhammadan gentleman to act as Vice-Consul at Jeddah. It is anticipated that this officer will take up his duties before the commencement of the next pilgrim season.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments, Administrations, and to the several Departments of the Government of India for information and guidance. Also that it be published in the Gazette of India and in all local Gazettes for general information. Local Governments are requested to arrange for its early translation and publication in all vernacular Gazettes.

2. Local Governments are also requested to apply without delay for as many copies of the passports and passes as they may require to the Officiating Secretary to the Government of India in charge of the Home Department at Calcutta.

NOTICE TO PILGRIMS.

1. The British Government having been informed by the Turkish Government that the authorities in the Hedjaz will not allow pilgrims from British India to land without a Passport, this Passport is issued to enable pilgrims to comply with the orders of the Turkish Government.

2. This Passport is supplied on request made by or on behalf of the intending pilgrim, but no fee is charged for issuing the same.

3. The British Government does not undertake to bring back pauper pilgrims from the Hedjaz.

4. The British Government has no desire to interfere with the liberty of the pilgrims, but warns its subjects that they should not undertake the pilgrimage if they have not sufficient pecuniary means for the expenses of the journey to the Hedjaz and back to India.

5. On arrival at Jeddah the holder of this Passport should present it to the British Consul for registration.

6. This Passport having been granted solely for the convenience of the pilgrim, the holder thereof is entitled to apply to the British Consul at Jeddah for assistance in case of difficulty.

7. For the convenience of pilgrims not knowing English, this Passport is accompanied with a full translation of this notice in Urdu and Arabic.

No 81

SEALED tenders in the form used in the Commissariat Department (blank forms whereof can be had on application at the Commissariat Office, Madras) will be received by the Executive Commissariat Officer at Madras until 1 o'clock P M on the 17th August 1882, and opened by him at the same time and place in presence of those interested, for the supply, by contract, of 149,453lb of either Indian or China black tea (the price of each description to be separately stated) to be delivered at the Commissariat Stores at Madras to the Commissariat Storekeeper-General on or before the 30th day of April 1883 free of all charges whatsoever. No payment will be made on account of such supply prior to the 30th April 1883

2 Each tender must be accompanied by a receipt from the Secretary, Bank of Madras, acknowledging the payment of a deposit of Rs (4,000) four thousand, or be accompanied by Government Promissory Notes to the same amount duly endorsed over to the Executive Commissariat Officer, Madras, and in default of both of such deposits the tender will be rejected Tenders to be sealed and superscribed "Tender for Tea"

3. The deposit of the successful competitor will be retained until he lodges with the Executive Commissariat officer at Madras the sum of Rs (16,000) sixteen thousand, either in cash or in Government Promissory Notes If the latter, the notes to be endorsed over to the Executive Commissariat Officer, Madras, for the time being as security for the due fulfilment of his contract The deposit made with his tender will then be returned to him.

4. The deposits of all, with the exception of that of the successful competitor, will be returned on the decision of Government being received

5 The successful competitor will be required to sign a contract on the basis of his tender containing the usual provisions in the form used in the Commissariat Department (form whereof can be seen on application to the Commissariat Officer at Madras) and to furnish the requisite security within eight days from the date on which the acceptance of his tender is notified to him. Should the successful competitor fail to sign the contract deed or to furnish the security within the time specified, so much of his deposit will be forfeited as will reasonably compensate Government for such breach of contract, and his tender will be considered as having been rejected. It is, however to be clearly understood that the forfeiture of the total amount (if necessary) of such deposit for such default shall in no way preclude Government from recovering from the defaulting competitor all such damages as Government may sustain by reason of such default, and that the amount of such deposit is not to be taken as the total amount of compensation payable to Government for such default.

6. The chests containing the tea should be of strong material, and the lead lining thereof sound and strong Each chest must be bound round with iron hooping and packed in good strong gunny No broken or damaged chests will be received Each chest should contain 84lb of China tea, or 80lb of Indian tea, and should be marked 80 or 84lb net, as the case may be. A certain number of the chests will be opened and examined by a committee to ascertain that they contain not less than the weight represented, dependent on which examination they will be taken to contain the net weight marked thereon.

7 The quality of tea to be subjected to the approval of, or rejection by, a committee to be appointed at the request of the Commissary-General by the Officer Commanding the District, and payment will be made for such quantity only as may be approved of by the said committee

9 The Government reserve to itself the right of rejecting any tender without assigning any reason for so doing.

10 If the contractor makes default in delivering the whole of the tea on or before the 30th April 1883, so much of the security deposited by him as will reasonably compensate Government for such breach of contract will be liable to become forfeited to Government, but, if such contractor deliver a portion of the tea to be supplied according to his contract and makes default in delivering the remainder thereof, he shall be liable to pay to Government such reasonable compensation as Government may be entitled to for such breach of contract, and any such compensation may, at the option of Government, be deducted either from the moneys payable to such contractor for the tea delivered by him or from the security which may be deposited by him

11 All further information may be had and the form of tenders and contract deed inspected on application at the Commissariat Office at Madras.

12 Every tender not made in the required form will be rejected.

13 No person making a tender shall be allowed to withdraw his tender for the space of ninety days from the date thereof, and, in the event to his doing so, his deposit shall be forfeited to Government.

(By order of the Commissary-General)

E. A. BRUCE, Major,
Dy. Assistant Commissary-General

Executive Commissariat Office, Madras,
18th May 1882

NOTE.—Tender forms can also be had on application to Calcutta Store and Shipping Executive.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ALIPORE REFORMATORY SCHOOL FOR 1881.

JAILS.

Calcutta, the 21st July 1882.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 4726, dated the 3rd June 1882, from the Inspector-General of Jails, forwarding with his remarks the reports from the President of the Board of Management of the Reformatory School at Alipore, and from the Superintendent of that institution, for the year 1881.

Read also—

The report for the preceding year and the orders of Government thereon.

There was a slight increase in the number of boys in the school at the close of the year. At its commencement the number of the inmates was 103, and during the year 26 were admitted—15 from the Police Courts of Calcutta and Alipore, and the others from different districts. Out of the total of 129, 17 were released on the expiration of their sentence, 2 were released on appeal by the High Court, 3 died, and 1 effected his escape. The number of boys remaining in the school on the 31st December 1881 was 106, of whom 55 were Hindus, 50 Mahomedans, and 1 a Jew.

2. The general behaviour of the boys is reported to have been satisfactory. The President remarks that since Mr. Kirschner took over charge of the school, there have been great improvements in the management of it, and that discipline is now enforced without recourse to severe or frequent punishment. The better conduct of the boys has naturally affected the amount earned by them under the mark system, the result being that the total amount of pecuniary rewards obtained by the boys has increased from Rs. 63-11 in 1880 to Rs. 89-8 during the past year.

3. The year is reported to have been a healthy one, though the average number of sick in hospital rose from 1·5 in 1880 to 2·44 in 1881: the increase is said to be due to the repeated admissions of a few delicate boys. The physical condition of the boys is good, and in the remarks of the official visitors their appearance is described as healthy and cheerful. Of the three deaths, one was caused by cholera, one was that of a boy who was ill when admitted, and who only lived for two weeks: in the third case the boy had been in the school for more than seven months, but had been suffering from enlarged spleen and from frequent attacks of fever.

4. The total cost of the maintenance of the school during the year was Rs. 12,452-5-9 as compared with Rs. 13,100-7-6 in 1880; the total decrease, which was distributed over all the heads, amounted to Rs. 648-1-9. The average cost per head was Rs 122-1-1 as against Rs. 132-15-7 in the preceding year. The decrease of Rs. 163-13-7 in the amount expended on diet is due to the fact that prices were lower in 1881 than in 1880.

5. Attention has been paid to the regular employment of the boys, and the amounts realised from the manufactures on which they were engaged have increased. Including the value of manufactured articles in hand at the end of the year, the total value of the articles manufactured was Rs. 8,517; the net profit, deducting the cost of the additional establishment employed in consequence of the strength being brought up to the new scale, was Rs. 4,993-10-4 as compared with Rs. 2,538 in 1880 and Rs. 1,589 in 1879. The value of the boys' labour in connection with some public works carried out in the school amounted to Rs. 90. From the garden large quantities of vegetables were supplied for the use of the boys. The quantity produced much exceeded, however, the requirements of the school, and the surplus was sold. The receipts under this head yielded a net profit of Rs. 421-3-11 as compared with Rs. 305-12-2 in the previous year.

6. The trades taught to the boys were the same as those in which instruction was given in the preceding year; they were those of a book-binder, tinsmith, blacksmith, carpenter, and cane-worker. The progress made by the boys in these various trades was, it is reported, very satisfactory.

7. In the Resolution on the report for 1880, it was remarked that the Board of Management had submitted a set of draft rules in substitution for the rules already in existence regarding the ages at which, and the periods for which, juvenile offenders should be admitted into the reformatory. The general object of the change was so to modify the existing rules as to ensure the exclusion of incorrigible offenders, and also to ensure boys being sent to the school for a sufficient time to admit of their receiving some permanent benefit from the training received in that institution. After fully considering the proposed rules, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided that it is not necessary to alter those which have already been passed, as, if carefully attended to by judicial officers, they are sufficient to secure the desired ends. Separate orders will issue on this subject.

8. It has now been finally decided to open a Reformatory school at Hazaribagh for youthful offenders from the districts in Behar. All boys of this class now in the Alipore school will be transferred to the new school, arrangements for opening which have been completed. The increased accommodation made available at Alipore is much required.

9. The report for the past year is, the Lieutenant-Governor considers, very satisfactory, and much credit is due to Mr. Kirschner for the way in which he has managed the institution. The effect of the training on boys who have been released is stated to have been very beneficial, the half-yearly reports received from District Magistrates showing that the 16 boys reported on are doing well, and bear a good character amongst their neighbours.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the President of the Board of Management for information, and for communication to the members of the Board, and that a copy of the report, with a copy of the Resolution, be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Jails.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON CHARITABLE DISPENSARIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1881.

MEDICAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 17th July 1882.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Charitable Dispensaries under the Government of Bengal for 1881.

The policy of Government in relation to the administration of medical charity in Bengal was fully explained in the Resolution on the last report. The work of reorganization, which was begun in 1878 and continued in 1879 and 1880, has been vigorously pushed forward in 1881; and it is satisfactory to find from the present report that material progress has now been made. Searching enquiries have been instituted into the financial condition and public usefulness of every medical institution in the mofussil, with the result of establishing that, while many were perfectly able to stand alone without Government aid, on the other hand many were useless as public charities, regarded with indifference by the people, and existing solely by means of grants from the State. It is manifest that neither of these classes could have any valid claim upon the public purse, and the enforcement of this principle has carried with it its own demonstration. Where a dispensary had firmly taken root, and had become widely used and appreciated by the public, the subscribers readily came forward on the withdrawal of Government aid, and undertook the management and maintenance of the institution; but where, as was too often the case, the results of the investigation indicated that, while the cost to Government was heavy, the benefit to the public was inconsiderable, and the chief gainers were the medical officer in charge and a few well-to-do supporters, the stoppage of the Government grant was generally followed by the withdrawal of private subscriptions and the collapse and closure of the dispensary. During the year under review, Government aid was withdrawn from 64 mofussil dispensaries, with the result that in 48 cases the subscribers undertook to make good the deficiency themselves; while in 16 cases the dispensary was closed.

2. During 1881 an important step was taken in the right direction by the abrogation of the old Dispensary Rules, and the substitution for them of a Code conceived more in the spirit of the principles laid down by the Government of India in 1849. In place of the former complicated classification, the new rules prescribe a simple and clearly-defined system, by which all dispensaries are divided into three classes—viz. the first, or unaided class; the second, or aided class; and the third class, which consists of institutions supported entirely by Government. The rules liberate Government from the obligation of establishing or continuing to support any dispensary which cannot be shown to be necessary or useful as a medical charity, and Government is no longer bound as before to supply medical officers and European drugs and instruments in every case in which a moderate local subscription may be raised.

3. Great attention has been paid during the last few years to the training of the students in the Campbell Medical School, and the reports of the examiners during the past year show that this institution has now begun to turn out a valuable and well-trained class of men, "who are really able to do with their own hands all that is expected or desired from them." Dr Raye, Examiner in Anatomy, writes: "I was satisfied with the general result of the practical examination of the students at Sealdah in anatomy. . . . . The students showed a very fair practical knowledge of the subject." Dr. Mcleod, Examiner in Surgery, writes: "I was very much pleased with the result of my examination of the Sealdah students in surgery. I put them to a very searching test, examined them orally, practically as to the use of instruments and appliances, made each dissect a surgical region and examined him on the dissection, made each perform an operation in my presence, and took them to the College Hospital and examined them in cases they could not possibly have seen before. I found them well grounded in theoretical surgery, good bandagers, and well acquainted with the purposes and modes of using the commoner instruments, neat dissectors, familiar with surgical anatomy, and fairly good in minor operations. Their weak point was diagnosis. They seemed to want tact and insight in rapidly identifying diseases." Similar testimony is borne by Dr. Coates, Examiner in Medicine. Dr. Payne indicates the important bearing this change may be expected to have on the future of dispensaries. During 1881 further efforts were made to ensure that the knowledge once acquired should be maintained and added to. Periodical examinations have been prescribed, which must be passed before a hospital assistant can qualify for promotion to a higher grade; and the value of the English qualification has been increased, while the rules relating to it have been made more stringent.

4. The Surgeon-General considers it difficult to say whether the sick-poor of the province did or did not derive greater benefit from the dispensaries in 1881 than in former years, and he thinks that no satisfactory inference is to be deduced from the recorded figures. The year was an unhealthy one. Epidemic fever spread over several districts, and cholera was more prevalent than usual, yet the apparent attendance at dispensaries has shown no increase. "The special sanitary officer of Nuddea reported his surprise at the small dispensary figures in the midst of devastating fever, and the district returns tell the same tale." The sameness of the record under widely differing circumstances is indeed one of the most unsatisfactory features of the system; and though considerable improvement in this respect has been effected by the efforts of the local officers in late years, yet it would be quite unsafe to place any reliance upon the figures. Gross instances of falsification have been exposed in the past year. The Civil-Surgeon, 24-Pergunnahs, inspecting the Taki dispensary, writes: "The registers exhibit a uniform daily attendance of over 30 persons. Yesterday's entries are eight only, and though only eight attended, figures up to 15 have been written, and the spaces in the column opposite the seven extra numbers left blank. In explanation of this, I am first told that only eight attended. Later, in explanation of the reason for writing 15 numbers, I am told that more than eight attended, but a pain in the stomach prevented the hospital assistant from entering more. On my asking again did eight attend or did more attend, the hospital assistant is silent." Dr. Jackson adds: "I cannot help fearing that, but for my visit, the daily number would have been made up to 30 as usual." There is too much reason for suspecting that this was by no means an isolated case, and it will be long before the recorded figures for outlying dispensaries can be accepted as a basis for comparison of real work.

The following table shows the number of dispensaries open in Bengal in the year under review:—

Open on 31st December 1880		247
Established during 1881		1
Total ...		248
Abolished or closed during 1881		17
Remaining on 31st December 1881		231

The 17 dispensaries that were closed during the year are described as "institutions which had never shown any public usefulness, and represented only misuse of public money." Of the 231 dispensaries now open, there is reason to suspect that many are now in receipt of Government aid, to which they are not legitimately entitled. Many of these, however, will be made over to local management under the scheme of local self-government, and it is hoped that a more direct interest in efficiency and more complete financial responsibility on the part of the managers will lead to the weeding out of those institutions which are not really required for the purposes of medical charity. In view of this impending change, closure has been less widely resorted to during the past year than would otherwise have been the case. It will be for the Local Boards to decide whether the assistance now given from public funds will be continued or not. At the commencement of the year the 247 dispensaries in Bengal were classified thus—

Class I		33
Class II		209
Class III		5
Total ...		247

During the year 48 dispensaries in Class II were brought into Class I, and made independent of Government aid, 17 were closed, and 1 new one was established. The numbers in each class at the end of the year therefore were—

Class I	...	81
Class II	...	145
Class III	...	5
Total	...	231

The second class now comprises nearly all the dispensaries which made up the inferior classes in the statements of previous years.

5. The following table compares the recorded work done by dispensaries in 1880 and 1881 :—

The number of in-patients has always been small, and was still further reduced by the orders passed in 1881 in some remote dispensaries to restrict the practice in future to out-patients. In some places a large proportion of the house-patients consisted of persons sent in by the police; and in other places the wards of dispensaries are mere refuges for lepers and other disabled paupers or outcastes.

6. There were 60 Assistant Surgeons in charge of dispensaries during the year against 65 in the year before. The Surgeon-General does not consider this a mark of retrogression, but rather as a sign that juster proportions now prevail between work and pay.

7. The work of inspecting dispensaries away from head-quarters was, on the whole, better performed by Civil Surgeons in 1881 than in the previous year. Thirteen dispensaries only received no visit of inspection during the year, and these are said to be situated in remote outlying localities.

8. The total number of persons treated during the year was—in-patients 23,444, out-patients 947,534—total 970,978. In 1880 the corresponding numbers were 23,567 and 888,095—total 911,662. Among in-patients the mortality was 15·8 per cent. against 15·17 in the previous year. Dr. Payne writes: "There can be no doubt that if the figures were true throughout, and the work were genuine, the excess of 1881 would be larger than it has been made to appear. In some places a clear relation to the public health is established, but this is not common in remote dispensaries, although medical subordinates habitually adapt the public health to their figures where they think the latter will be considered unfavourable to themselves. It must not be forgotten, however, that in 1881 the number of dispensaries was gradually reduced, and this, taken with the more careful scrutiny of records and the widespread sickness, may sanction a hopeful inference from the larger numbers of sick returned." The divisional percentages of patients treated on total population were—

Burdwan	...	2·21
Presidency	...	2·1
Rajshahye	...	1·98
Orissa	...	1·33
Dacca	...	1·18
Chittagong	...	·5
Patna	...	1·94
Bhagulpore	...	·9
Chota Nagpore	...	·48

The total number of patients treated throughout the province amounted to 1·78 per cent. of the entire population, the proportions varying from 5·95 in Darjeeling and 3·54 in Moorshedabad to ·3 in Tipperah and ·25 in Lohardugga. The Surgeon-General rightly considers this a "miserably small fraction" of the population, proving beyond a doubt that, as a rule, the people are not moved to value the dispensaries even by stress of heavy public sickness.

9. The death-rates among in-patients in the different dispensaries exhibit the widest variations, ranging from 100 per cent. in Magoora and 66·6 in Sherepore to 2·7 in Bagirhat and Ungool and 2·98 in Madaripore. The divisional percentage depends largely on the manner in which the wards of outlying dispensaries are filled, and has no bearing on management, healthiness, or any other point which death-rates are supposed to illustrate.

10. The consumption of cinchona febrifuge made a considerable advance in 1881, the quantity sold being 323lb, representing a value of Rs. 5,349, against 163lb only, with a value of Rs. 2,885 in the previous year. The increase is partly attributable to the excessive prevalence of fever in Nuddea and Midnapore. These two districts alone consumed 145lb of the febrifuge.

11. The financial results of the year's working are briefly exhibited in table XII attached to the report. The opening cash balance of the year was Rs. 67,723. This differs from the closing balance shown in the report for 1880 by Rs. 3,749. The difference is explained as being due to the non-receipt by the 31st December 1880 of the returns for 11 dispensaries which were closed during that year, and also to several incorrect balances previously recorded having been rectified during 1881. The opening balance of invested capital was Rs. 8,36,776, while the closing balance of 1880 was shown as Rs. 8,83,272. The difference is due to the omission of a sum of Rs. 50,000 belonging to the Mozufferpore dispensary which has now been included in the accounts of the local municipality. Certain adjustments have also been made in the invested capital of the dispensaries at Jamui and Midnapore. The total receipts during the year were—

	Rs.	A.	P.
From Government	1,06,384	6	0
From Local funds	45,695	3	6
From Municipal funds	50,684	1	6
Interest on investments	33,430	15	1
Sale of securities and withdrawal of deposits ...	17,948	7	0
Subscriptions from Europeans...	20,022	0	3
Ditto from Natives	1,27,786	14	6
Total ...	4,01,945	15	10

The total expenditure was—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Establishment	2,40,543	14	2
Bazar medicines	9,956	13	7
Europe ditto	36,114	15	2
Diet	29,104	10	2
Miscellaneous	27,742	1	6
Buildings and repairs	30,821	3	1
Total ...	3,74,283	9	8

The closing cash balance of the year was Rs. 67,907-10-10. In addition to the above, a sum of Rs. 27,478-4-10 was invested during the year in purchasing securities of the par value of Rs. 29,477-2-10. On the other hand securities of the nominal value of Rs. 2,000 were sold, and deposits were withdrawn to the extent of Rs. 15,833-10-4, and the amount of invested balance on 31st December 1881 was Rs. 8,48,420-7-8. The Government grant of Rs. 1,06,384-6 was made up thus—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Salaries	87,477	0	4
Registers and forms	2,400	12	11
European medicines	272	14	5
Diet of police cases	1,163	11	6
Sale of medicines	31	0	0
Special allowances	15,038	14	10
Total ...	1,06,384	6	0

In 1880 the charge to Government on account of salaries amounted to Rs. 1,02,363. The large reduction is due to the great number of dispensaries which were brought into Class I during the year. For European medicines the charge in 1881 was only Rs. 272, against Rs. 9,534 in 1880 and Rs. 50,136 in 1879. This reduction, however, does not represent simple saving. Money grants in many places were substituted for the privilege of free indent on the Government stores. The total income from local sources amounted to Rs. 2,77,619, against Rs. 2,95,976 in 1880. The decrease of Rs. 18,357 is said to be rather apparent than real, and to be due to the transfer of receipts erroneously recorded under this head to "Subscriptions." The latter, however, also show a falling off which is attributed partly to the closure of 17 dispensaries during the year. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 3,74,283, which falls short of that for 1880 by Rs. 28,498. This is said to be mainly due to the discharge of superfluous servants, and the re-adjustment of the salaries of medical officers.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor recognizes the zeal and ability with which Dr. Payne has carried out the reforms of past year; and he has noted the names of the officers who are mentioned in the interesting compilation at the end of the report as having afforded valuable assistance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION PRESCRIBING A REVISED CODE OF RULES FOR THE SUPERINTENDENCE AND MANAGEMENT OF THE JAILS IN BENGAL.

JAILS.

Calcutta, the 20th July 1882.

READ—

The Resolution of this Government, dated the 20th June 1876, prescribing revised rules under Act II (B.C.) of 1864 for the superintendence and management of the jails in Bengal.

Read also—

The letter from the Inspector-General of Jails, No. 5372, dated the 26th June 1882, forwarding a revised code of rules.

A code of rules for the superintendence and management of the jails in Bengal was passed in 1864 under the provisions of Act II (B.C.) of 1864. Subsequent changes in the law and a wider experience of jail management led to various alterations in, and additions to, the rules, and rendered a revision necessary. The code at present in use was accordingly issued in June 1876.

2. The many changes in the system of jail administration that have since taken place have necessitated the compilation of a new set of rules, which was undertaken by Dr. Lethbridge, the Inspector-General of Jails. All Magistrates and Superintendents of Jails were consulted by him, and every suggestion of practical value made by them has been adopted. The existing arrangement of the code has been recast, and the code itself has been considerably enlarged. The duties of every official of the Jail Department have for the first time been clearly laid down, the arrangements for guarding jails have been completely reorganized and fully explained, and the daily routine of jail management has been given in detail. When the existing code was passed, the rules for the mark system, the classification of prisoners, guarding, &c., had not been in operation at all, or only for a short time. Some knowledge of the way in which they would work was necessary in order to ascertain if they were suitable in every particular, and they have since been considerably amended. The working of most of the rules in the new Jail Code has, however, been tested by experience, and they embody a procedure which has been actually in force for about the last four years.

3. The draft code was considered by a committee, of which Mr. H. A. Cockerell, Dr. Lethbridge, and Mr. Blyth were members; and after undergoing some alterations, it was passed by the committee in the form in which it is now submitted for the approval of Government.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the new code submitted by the Inspector-General of Jails, and, under the authority vested in him by Act II (B.C.) of 1864, and Act V (B.C.) of 1865, he directs that the new rules as now finally sanctioned shall be adopted for the superintendence and management of all jails in Bengal.

5. The rules relating to subsidiary jails have been omitted from the new code. The Inspector-General of Jails proposes to undertake immediately the preparation of a small manual with a few simple rules for the guidance of officials attached to subsidiary jails. These officials are at present deterred from acquiring an accurate knowledge of the rules for the management of subsidiary jails by the size and arrangement of the existing Jail Code in which they are incorporated. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the Inspector-General's proposal. The new rules for the management of the subsidiary jails will, when ready, be translated into Bengali and Hindi, so that all officials connected with the Department may have an opportunity of making themselves thoroughly acquainted with them.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor recognises the care and accuracy with which this large compilation has been brought to a satisfactory completion. His thanks are due to the members of the Committee for their services, and to Mr. Leonard, Superintendent of the Bhagulpore Central Jail, who, while on leave, bestowed much time and labour in assisting Dr. Lethbridge in the preparation of the first drafts of the new work.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of this Resolution, together with copies of the new Jail Code, be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Jails for information and for distribution among jail officers, and that copies of the Resolution be also forwarded to Mr. H. A. Cockerell and Mr. Leonard for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution and a copy of the new Jail Code be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REGISTRATION OF MAHOMEDAN MARRIAGES AND DIVORCES.

JUDICIAL.

Dated Calcutta, the 25th July 1882.

READ the following papers :—

The Resolution recorded by Government on the Report on the working of the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act I (B.C.) of 1876, during the year 1879-80.

The Report of the Committee appointed to consider and report upon the subject of the registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces in Bengal.

Letter No. 2117J, dated the 16th May 1881, to the Magistrates of the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, Hooghly, Dacca, Backergunge, Furreedpore, Rungpore, Patna, and Chittagong, and the replies thereto.

Letters Nos. 2343J and 2344J, dated the 2nd June 1881, to the Secretaries to the Mahomedan Literary Society and the National Mahomedan Association respectively, and the replies thereto.

A Memorandum dated the 8th May 1880, by Nawab Abdool Luteef, and several letters which have been received by Government from certain Mahomedan gentlemen.

IN the Resolution reviewing the report on the working of the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act I (B.C.) of 1876 for the year 1879-80, the late Lieutenant-Governor expressed his opinion that the Act had not proved a success. Looking at the results of the three years during which it had been in force, Sir Ashley Eden, whilst expressing his conviction that it would be both inexpedient and wrong to excite the widespread opposition that would result if registration were made compulsory on parties contracting and severing marriages, was decidedly of opinion that unless some changes were made in the existing rules and procedure, it would never be of any practical benefit to any large part of the Mahomedan community, or in any considerable tract of country. From time to time several defects in the existing rules, which tended to make the working of the law unpopular, had been pointed out to Government; and Sir Ashley Eden came to the conclusion that the only way by which the people could be gradually brought to avail themselves of the provisions of the Act, was by making the procedure less cumbersome and more in accordance with their habits, and by the adoption of more care in the selection of qualified persons for appointment as Mahomedan Marriage Registrars. It was admitted on all hands that it would be a great advantage, both to the Mahomedan community and to the general public, if all or even a large proportion of Mahomedan marriages and divorces were registered. The question, which was one of very great importance to the Mahomedans in these provinces, might, Sir Ashley Eden was of opinion, be with advantage enquired into by a small Committee who should go thoroughly into the subject, and submit their proposals to Government. A Committee consisting of the gentlemen named in the margin was accordingly formed to consider and report upon the whole subject of the registration of Mahomedan ceremonies, the rules and procedure under the present Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act, and the proposal to extend the Kazis' Act XII of 1880 to the Lower Provinces.

Mr. H. J. S. Cotton, President.
Nawab Syud Ashgur Ali Bahadoor, C.S.I.
Nawab Abdool Luteef.
Mr. J. A. Bourdillon.

Mr. F. F. Handley.

2. The Committee's report, which was submitted on the 1st March 1881, was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 18th May 1881. Copies of it were also circulated among the Magistrates of the districts named in the margin, and they were requested, after consulting some of the leading Mahomedan gentlemen in their districts, to favour Government with an expression of their opinions upon the proposals it contained. The opinions of the Mahomedan Literary Society and of the National Mahomedan Association were also asked.

24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, Hooghly, Dacca, Backergunge, Furreedpore, Rungpore, Patna, and Chittagong.

3. Replies have been received from the two Societies and from all the officers addressed. They have been carefully read by the Lieutenant-Governor, and Mr. Rivers Thompson now desires to record the following remarks and orders on the subject.

4. The Committee were not unanimous in the recommendations submitted to Government, but the proposals adopted by the majority of the Committee were—

(a) that registration should, as at present, be voluntary;
(b) that a Kazi-ul-Kazaat, or head Kazi, for the province, should be appointed in Calcutta;
(c) that Kazis should be appointed throughout Bengal to perform the functions of Registrars of Mahomedan marriages;
(d) that Naib Kazis should be appointed by the Kazis, the appointments being subject to the approval of the District Registrar and the sanction of the Kazi-ul-Kazaat; and (e) that the responsibility for registration of marriages should not, as at present, rest on the contracting parties, but that the official in whose presence the marriage is celebrated should be looked to directly for the necessary registration.

As the adoption of these suggestions involved the necessity of fresh legislation, the Committee submitted with their report a Draft Bill, embodying their proposals, for the approval of Government.

5. One of the first and most important questions to be decided in connection with the registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces is, whether registration shall be voluntary or compulsory; if compulsory, to what extent registration shall be insisted on. The conclusion at which the Committee arrived, after a very careful consideration of this portion of the subject, was that the registration of Mahomedan marriages, &c., should continue, as at present, to be voluntary. This was the opinion expressed by the late Lieutenant-Governor, and the Commitee in their report state that they are constrained to admit that the preponderance of Mahomedan opinion appears to be against any system of compulsory registration. This view is, however, not unanimously accepted by the members of the Committee; and the several reports received by Government on the subject from different parts of the province show that the question is one on which educated Mahomedans, as well as Mahomedans of the old school, do not agree. The two Mahomedan Associations of Calcutta also take opposite views on the subject.

6. After a perusal of the papers, the Lieutenant-Governor is willing to accept the opinion that, so far as the lower orders of Mahomedans are concerned, very little improvement can be expected in the registration of their marriages until it is rendered compulsory. It may also be admitted that until this is done no multiplication of Mollahs or Kazis will ever induce the mass of the people to voluntarily register their marriages and divorces. With the higher and more respectable classes there may not be the same necessity for compulsion in this matter. The Kabeennamah, or Deed-of-Dower, which is drawn up in all marriages amongst well-to-do people, answers the purpose of registration. Social ties, self-respect, and the altogether higher standard of morality prevailing amongst the Mahomedan gentry throughout the country, prevent the evils which are now said to be so rife amongst the lower classes, among whom the absence of any proof of the factum of the marriage is stated, and, it is believed, with perfect truth, to have led to much demoralization. But giving every weight to such representations, it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor very certain that the enactment of a law making registration compulsory to the extent proposed by those who advocate such a course, would be felt by many as a direct interference on the part of the Government with the religion of its Mahomedan subjects; and Mr. Rivers Thompson does not consider that he would be justified in proposing such a law until there was a much stronger agreement on the part of Mahomedans in favour of such legislation, and until it had been proved that the principle of voluntary registration had been fully and fairly tried, and that it had completely failed. Whatever may be the defects of the present permissive system, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that the time has not yet come for any obligatory measures in the direction indicated. There are, as the correspondence now before Government shows, admitted difficulties in the way of enforcing any system of penalties for failure to register; and as long as a large and influential section of the Mahomedan community resist compulsory registration on religious grounds, it would, in the Lieutenant-Governor's judgment, be wrong and impolitic to attempt to enforce it.

7. Accepting, then, the conclusion of the Committee on this point, it remains for Government to consider the other proposals of the Committee, with a view of devising the best possible scheme of registration upon a voluntary basis—a scheme which would at least be free from those defects in the present system to which the failure of the operations under Act I (B.C.) of 1876 is attributed.

8. The proposal which has commended itself to the majority of the Committee is the appointment of a Kazi-ul-Kazaat, or Head Kazi, for the province. This is the leading feature of their proposals, and involves, as they point out, a revival of the old procedure of Regulation XXXIX of 1793, passed by Lord Cornwallis. Under the Committee's proposals, the Kazi-ul-Kazaat would exercise direct supervision and control over the operations of the Act in the Town of Calcutta, and a general superintendence of its working in all parts of Bengal. Subject to rules passed by the Lieutenant-Governor, the nomination of Kazis throughout the province would rest with the Head Kazi, and he would, in this respect, take the position now occupied by the Inspector-General of Registration. The Lieutenant-Governor, after a careful consideration of the grounds on which the Committee base their proposal, and of the opinions of the gentlemen to whom the report was circulated, has come to the decision that it is not desirable to appoint such an officer. It is open to doubt whether the procedure of the earliest days of British rule in India could with advantage be now revived; but, apart from other considerations, His Honor is of opinion that it would scarcely be possible, at the present time, to find any Mahomedan gentlemen possessing the requisite qualifications to fill such an office, who would satisfy the views and secure the respect and co-operation of the dissentient sections of the Mahomedan community. Mr. Rivers Thompson believes that a more impartial and efficient arrangement for the appointment of Kazis, and for the supervision of their work, may be secured, without having recourse to fresh legislation, by retaining the supervision of the Kazis or Marriage Registrars under the office of the Inspector-General of Registration, with whom should be associated two or three of the leading Mahomedan gentlemen. It will be more convenient, however, to consider this point in connection with the proposal to appoint Kazis throughout Bengal to perform the functions of Registrars of Mahomedan marriages, &c.

9. In paragraph 31 of their report, the Committee state that, the inherent defects of an optional system of registration being granted, the undoubted failure of the operations under the present system is, in their opinion, primarily due to the provisions of the law which impose upon the contracting parties the responsibility of reporting the marriage at the office of the Marriage Registrar. They propose to remedy this defect by declaring that it shall not be necessary for the parties to a marriage to apply for registration, but that this duty should devolve on the Kazi presiding at the marriage, who should himself proceed, of his own accord, to effect the registration. By this proposal they would remove the responsibility of registration from the contracting parties to the official in whose presence the marriage is celebrated. The procedure under the present Act is undoubtedly cumbersome, and some alteration is necessary; but this can be effected by altering the procedure laid down in the rules. As regards divorces and other minor matters, the Committee do not consider that any fresh legislation is necessary. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the evils complained of can be removed, without resorting to fresh legislation, by a mere alteration of the rules framed by Government under Act I (B.C.) of 1876, and by introducing, with the experience gained during the five years the Act has been in force, a procedure less complicated and more in accordance with the habits of the people.

10. The objection entertained by the Lieutenant-Governor to the Committee's proposal for the appointment of a Head Kazi does not extend to their suggestion for the extension of Act XII of 1880 to these provinces, and to the general appointment of Kazis to take the place of the existing Mahomedan Registrars under Act I (B.C.) of 1876. The reports submitted to Government show a very general agreement of opinion in favour of this proposal, and there seems little doubt that its adoption will be beneficial and popular. The Lieutenant-Governor fully recognizes the necessity of exercising care in the selection of fit and proper persons to fill the posts of Kazis. A good deal of the want of success of the present Act is stated to be due to the inefficiency and ignorance of the Mahomedan Marriage Registrars. If Act XII of 1880 be gradually introduced, and the appointment of Kazis be made under proper supervision and checks, there should be no difficulty in finding suitable nominees to fill the posts in districts in which a large proportion of the population is Mahomedan. Steps may at once be taken to extend the Kazis Act XII of 1880 to the districts named in the margin, in which Act I (B.C.) of 1876 is in force, and to select competent persons to act as Kazis. Every Kazi will also be appointed ex-officio Marriage Registrar under Act I (B.C.) of 1876.

Nuddea.	Furreedpore.
Rajshahye.	Backergunge.
Dinagepore.	Mymensing.

11. It is desirable that the selection of fit persons to fill the office of Kazis in every district should rest primarily with the Magistrate of the district, who is also District Registrar. The qualications to be required for each candidate, and the extent of the jurisdiction within which each officer should exercise his functions, are questions requiring the close consideration of the local authorities. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that, as suggested by several of those consulted, the supervision of the Kazis and of the general working of the Act, may with advantage be vested in a mixed Committee sitting at Calcutta, of which the Inspector-General of Registration should be President, and of which the majority should be composed of Mahomedan gentlemen of education and position. Orders for the appointment of the Committee and the rules for their guidance will be issued hereafter.

12. Any measures for the improvement of the existing procedure would be incomplete and inadequate unless they provided for a thorough revision of the existing rules, which, as already stated, are unsuited to the circumstances of the people. This work can, the Lieutenant-Governor considers, be best undertaken by a small Committee sitting in Calcutta, under the presidency of the Inspector-General of Registration. The suggestion made by Nawab Abdool Luteef in his memorandum of the 8th May 1880, which is referred to in the preamble to this Resolution, should be carefully considered. The objection which appears to exist to the present form of register and to the language in which it should be kept, should also receive attention.

13. There are many difficulties in the way of Government in dealing with social questions which affect the habits, customs, and religious observances of a large section of the native community in this province. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the endeavour which is now to be made of rendering registration of these ceremonies more easy by the appointment of Kazis, and the simplification of the procedure attending registration, may result in securing a permanent formal record of Mahomedan marriages, and thereby a removal of those evils which now tend to great immorality and much domestic misery among the lower classes of the Mahomedan population.

14. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the President and Members of the Committee for the time and attention devoted by them to the consideration of this important question, and for their interesting report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REORGANIZATION OF THE SUBORDINATE EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The question regarding the reorganization of the Subordinate Executive Service has for some time formed the subject of a correspondence between the Local and the Supreme Governments. The details of the scheme having now been finally settled, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that the reorganization of the Deputy Collector and the Sub-Deputy Collector classes of the uncovenanted service should be carried out with effect from the 1st August next.

3. No alteration has been made in the numerical strength of the service, but the five Officiating Deputy Collectors have been added permanently to the ordinary staff, and the gradation has been so arranged as to improve materially the prospects of the service.

4. Two appointments have been added to the 1st grade, a corresponding reduction being made in the strength of the 2nd grade. The number of appointments in the 3rd grade has been reduced by one, while to the 4th grade five additional Deputy Collectorships have been added. The appointments in the 5th grade have been increased by twelve, and those in the 6th grade by two, while the number in the 7th grade has been reduced by thirteen.

5. One of the two additional appointments sanctioned in the 1st grade has already been filled up, one other officer will receive promotion from the 2nd grade. There are at present 20 Deputy Collectors in the 3rd grade, but as under the new scheme the strength of that grade has been fixed at nineteen, one officer will remain in the 3rd grade in excess of the sanctioned number, and until, in the ordinary course of promotion, the Government is able to promote an officer to the 2nd grade, the 4th grade, to which an addition of five appointments has been sanctioned, will be kept one below its sanctioned strength. From the 5th grade, therefore, four instead of five officers will receive promotion at present. Sixteen officers will be promoted from the 6th to the 5th grade, and eighteen officers from the present 7th to the 6th grade. Thirty-two officers will receive promotion from the grade on Rs. 200 to the new grade on Rs. 250, and the five Officiating Deputy Collectorships will also be placed in that grade.

6. At present an officer is considered as on probation until he has passed fully by both the prescribed departmental examinations. On passing these examinations he becomes eligible for confirmation in the Subordinate Executive Service, but until confirmed he cannot draw a higher salary than Rs. 150 a month. Under the new scheme a Probationary or Officiating Deputy Collector will draw a salary of Rs. 200 per mensem, and on passing the departmental examination by the lower standard he will be confirmed in the lowest grade on Rs 250 as it comes to his turn.

7. The proposals of this Government for improving the position of Sub-Deputy Collectors and Tehsildars, and for grading them together, as far as possible, in one list, have been accepted by the Government of India.

The following statement shows the existing establishment and the establishment now sanctioned, but does not include the three tehsildars in Chittagong, the tehsildar of Angul and the tehsildar of the Khondmal, all of whom hold special appointments:—

8. Under the new scheme fifteen officers will receive promotion to the new 1st grade on Rs. 200, the sixteenth appointment being filled by the Tehsildar of Banki; twenty-three officers will be promoted to the new 2nd grade on Rs. 175; and twenty-six officers to the new 3rd grade on Rs. 150.

9. The Commissioners of Divisions who have not yet submitted their reports on the qualifications of Sub-Deputy Collectors employed in their divisions for the year 1881-82, will be requested to submit them as soon as possible, in order that the most deserving officers may be selected for promotion.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Accountant-General and to the Financial Department of this Government for information.

Ordered further that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof. papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 1 0.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o overcast, g gloomy, d drizzling rain, p passing temporary showers, t thunder.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of June 1882.

GENERAL REMARKS.

DURING the month under review 61,828 maunds more merchandise have passed over the line than during the same month last year, which represents a net increase of 22·49 per cent. The increase is general under all heads of traffic except ale and piece-goods. There is also a decrease in the weight of railway material; but this is abnormal traffic; and cannot be looked upon as one of the staples of the line.

For some time past the flow of the rice traffic (shown under the head of food-grain) has been steadily changing. Instead of the proportion being about 5,000 maunds up to 1,50,000 maunds down, the weight carried has become almost equal. During this month the figures stand 46,186 up to 51,278 down. Enquiries into the cause for this go to show that the rice of this district is gradually displacing the Purneah rice, which used to find its way to the Darjeeling district viâ the Purneah road.

INCREASES.

Food-grain ... ... Mds. 4,055

On reference to the statement below, it will be seen that although there is an increase under this head, the downwards traffic has been considerably less than during June last year; 83,740 maunds having passed down during June 1881, against 51,278 during the present month.

The spurt in the upwards traffic which accounts for the increase shown was probably due to the fact that all the principal rice despatching stations were informed on the 2nd of the month (at the request of the Darjeeling Himalyan Railway) that it was a favourable time to work up stocks, as the tramway had spare rolling stock available.

Ginger ... ... Mds. 3,069

The demand for this commodity for shipment still continues, and as very large stocks are held in this district there is no difficulty in getting holders to send the stuff forward.

Gunny-bags ... ... Mds. 3,324

A brisk demand is still kept up at the port for the hand-made bags of this district for shipment; and as the rate obtained for bags gives a wider margin of profit than sending forward the raw material, more attention is being given to the manufacture of gunnies than would otherwise be the case.

Jute ... ... Mds. 17,538

The stocks of old jute in the district are being firmly held, and the market is being barely fed. Even the increased prices offered (about2 annas a maund) have failed to draw any large despatches; but to this slight advance in rates the increase noted is no doubt due.

Salt ... ... Mds. 12,275

As anticipated in last month's report, the falling off recorded for that period was only temporary. The total weight carried during the month stands at 36,320, against 24,045 during June 1881.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 452

This increase appears to be the result of the short despatches last month.

Tea ... ... Mds. 3,953

Assuming that the manufacture of the season's tea commenced in March, a much larger quantity has been sent forward up to date than was despatched during the same period last year, as the following figures will show:—

	1881.	1882.
March	209	5
April	1,039	3,024
May	7,021	12,494
June	11,088	15,041
Total ...	19,357	30,564

The incentive to hurry down the tea in order to take advantage of a favourable market is not the cause of the very large increase in the weight carried up to date, as the prices ruling are below those of last year. It is therefore evident that a much larger quantity is being made this year.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 13,487

There has been a brisk demand for this article in the Calcutta market during the month, and prices have been slightly in favour of sellers, who have in consequence been sending forward large consignments.

All other goods ... ... Mds. 19,208

The miscellaneous traffic carried under this head continues to develop in about the same ratio as that of the staples which come under special headings.

DECREASES.

Ale ... ... Mds 396

The falling off in this traffic just now will probably be met by a corresponding increase later on in the season. The total weight carried from 1st January to date is 7,175 maunds, against 8,498 maunds for the same period last year, leaving a balance against this year's traffic of 1,323 maunds.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 3,213

The setting in of the rains always has an adverse effect on the piece-goods traffic. The monsoon broke unusually early this year (end of May), and the tracks (very few are worthy the name of roads) to our stations are already next to impassable.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 11,924

The reason for this falling off under this head is explained in last month's report.

TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Saidpur, the 8th July 1882.

G. M. DEUHY, Traffic Superintendent.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of June 1882.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of June 1882 aggregated maunds 3,66,889, as compared with maund 3,09,381 carried during the corresponding period of 1881, and maunds 3,36,372 carried during the previous month, showing an increase of maunds 57,508 in the one case, and maunds 30,517 in the other.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the most prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations :—

INCREASES.

Ghee ... ... Mds. 1,691

The satisfactory improvement in this item of traffic is due to exportation in larger quantities owing to rise in the price of this article in the Calcutta market.

Lime and kunkur ... ... Mds 60,105

This is due to the construction of civil buildings at Durbhunga, and to heavy requirements by the Road Cess Department.

Salt ... ... Mds. 15,835

This is a satisfactory improvement as compared with the transactions of past months, and is due partly to the river Gunduck having ecome unnavigable, and partly to the reduction of the salt duty imposed on this commodity.

Saltpetre ... ... Mds. 12,195

The traffic in this commodity has more than doubled itself. This appears to be due to the withdrawal of restrictions by the Customs Department.

Seeds, oil ... ... Mds. 24,496

Due to large demand in the Calcutta market for shipment to different places in the Continent.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 10,681

Owing to the stoppage of carriage of coal, &c., for the extensions on account of the shifting of the ghâts, three trains of trucks were set free to carry this staple, which up to the present has suffered from the want of rolling-stock.

DECREASES.

Coal ... ... Mds. 16,576

Owing to the shifting of the ghât, it was not possible to cross the same quantity of coal last month as before, and this has caused a decrease in the weight.

Food-grains ... ... Mds. 27,634

This is due to a smaller demand elsewhere, it is chiefly exported from Durbhunga to Howrah.

Iron ... ... Mds. 5,813

This is due to the temporary stoppage of through booking.

Piece-goods, English ... ... Mds. 4,313

Due to there being very little demand, the marriage season having passed.

Sundries ... ... Mds. 2,295

The decrease in this item seems hardly to call for any explanations, as it consists of miscellaneous articles

It is worth mentioning that, although the shifting of the ghât suspended the carriage of our traffic for more than a week, and although there was not sufficient carrying capacity to clear the block of traffic which accumulated when the work was resumed at the new ghât, yet the weight of goods carried shows a net increase of maunds 57,508.

—MOOKERJEE, for Traffic Superintendent.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Patna-Gya State Railway for the month of June 1882.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of June 1882 aggregated maunds 1,40,069 as compared with maunds 1,19,516 carried during the corresponding period of 1881, and maunds 1,31,321 carried during the previous month, showing an increase of maunds 20,553 in the one case, and maunds 8,748 in the other.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the most prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations :—

INCREASES.

	Mds.
Food-grains	11,998
This increase is due to the careful attention the interests of the merchants receive at Gya, and to the erection of the outward goods shed.
Jaggree	2,035
This has been repeatedly explained in previous reports.
Salt	4,486
This is due to the decrease in the salt duty.
Seeds, oil	5,495
Due to there being great demand in Calcutta market, and also to the erection of the outward goods shed and careful attention to quick and safe despatch.
Sundries	3,498
This cannot be well explained, as it is composed of miscellaneous articles.
Tobacco	5,760

DECREASES.

Coal	5,262
Owing to the rainy season having set in, brick-burning has been stopped.
Stones, stone ballast, and wares	5,262
This will increase now. Messrs Jadu Roy & Co. have contracted to supply this stone ballast in large quantities to the Patna Municipality, all of which are to be carried by the railway from Gya and Bilee.
